

Well Listed ✓

The Well Listed Kit

AI prompts, templates and checklists for UK sellers on eBay, Vinted, Depop, Etsy, Amazon and TikTok Shop

88 tested prompts · Version 1.0 · September 2026

Works with the free versions of ChatGPT, Claude, Gemini and Microsoft Copilot. Not affiliated with or endorsed by eBay, Vinted, Depop, Etsy, Amazon or TikTok. Platform rules change: always check the platform's own help pages. Nothing in this kit is legal, tax or financial advice. For your own use; please do not resell or share the files.

Contents

1. Start here
2. Module 01: The Listing Brief
3. Module 02: Titles
4. Module 03: Descriptions and condition
5. Module 04: Keywords, tags and item specifics
6. 05 Photos
7. 06 Pricing
8. 07 Buyer messages
9. 08 Video and TikTok Shop
10. 09 Rule checker
11. 10 Batch workflow
12. 11 Worked examples
13. 12 Platform cheatsheet

Prefer copying prompts on your phone? Open prompt-library.html from your download: every prompt has a copy button and a search box.

Start here

Welcome to The Well Listed Kit.

This kit helps UK sellers write clear, accurate listings, price items from real sold listings, and reply to buyers politely, using the free AI chat tools you probably already have on your phone.

It is not software and there is nothing to install. It is a set of tested prompts (instructions you copy and paste into an AI tool), fill-in templates and checklists. You bring the item and the facts. The prompts make the AI do the tidy, time-consuming writing, in UK English, without inventing anything.

We cannot promise you more sales, and nobody honestly can. What the kit does is help you write listings faster that are clear, complete and honest, which is exactly what buyers look for.

What is inside

The guide (modules 00 to 12)

Module	What it covers	Prompt IDs
00 Start here	This page: how the kit works, a first listing in 5 minutes, choosing an AI tool, privacy, golden rules
01 Listing Brief	The master brief and category versions (clothing, electronics, books and media, homeware, toys and collectables, handmade). Turning messy notes, voice notes or photo descriptions into a brief	B
02 Titles	Titles for eBay UK, Vinted, Depop, Etsy, Amazon UK and TikTok Shop UK. Title formulas by category. How to test and fix titles	T
03 Descriptions and condition	Descriptions per platform, an honest condition grading scale, flaw wording that protects you, measurements, bundles	D
04 Keywords, tags and specifics	eBay item specifics, Etsy's 13 tags, Depop hashtags, Vinted fields, Amazon backend search terms, avoiding keyword stuffing	K

Module	What it covers	Prompt IDs
05 Photos	Shot lists by category, flaw photos, backgrounds, captions and alt text, and why not to use misleading AI-edited photos	P
06 Pricing	Pricing from sold listings you look up yourself, bundle pricing, offers, price drops, fee and postage maths	R
07 Buyer messages	Replies for "is this still available?", lowball offers, bundles, postage, delays, returns, "not as described", damage in the post, feedback and difficult buyers	M
08 Video and TikTok Shop	Faceless product video scripts, TikTok Shop titles and descriptions, a live selling run-sheet	V
09 Rule checker	A pre-post check for accuracy and platform rules, banned claims, trademark and counterfeit wording, UK consumer law basics	C
10 Batch workflow	Listing 10 items in one session, spreadsheet output for bulk tools, a weekly routine, reusing one listing across platforms	W
11 Worked examples	Six full before and after examples, from brief to buyer reply
12 Platform cheatsheet	One page per platform with limits and rules, sources and a "last checked" date

The templates

File	What it is for listing-brief-template.txt	The Listing Brief to copy into your notes app
listing-brief-template.csv	The same brief as a spreadsheet, one row per item, for batch listing
stock-and-pricing-tracker.csv	Track what you have, where it is listed, asking price, lowest price and sold price message-snippets.txt	Short, polite buyer replies ready to adapt
photo-shot-lists.md	Photo checklists by category

The formats

- The PDF guide: the full kit to read and keep.

- The prompt library (HTML): every prompt, searchable, with a copy button. Works offline once downloaded. Best on your phone.
 - All prompts (text file): every prompt in one plain file, for your notes app.
-

Your first listing in 5 minutes

Pick one item you want to sell today. Something simple, like a jumper or a book.

Minute 1: fill in a brief. Open Module 01, copy the brief for your category and fill in what you know. Measure it if it is clothing. Write flaws plainly: where, what, how big. Leave blanks if you do not know.

Minute 2: open your AI tool. Start a new chat in ChatGPT, Claude, Gemini or Copilot (free versions are fine).

Minute 3: paste the starter prompt below with your brief.

Minute 4: fix the [CHECK] notes. The AI will mark anything missing with [CHECK: ...]. Find the fact (look at the label, measure, test it) or delete the line.

Minute 5: read it next to the item and post. Does every word match the item and the photos? If yes, copy it into the listing form.

The 5-minute starter prompt

You are helping a UK seller write one listing for [PLATFORM]. Using ONLY the facts in my Listing Brief below, write:

1. A title that fits [PLATFORM]'s current title limit (eBay UK: 80 characters; if unsure, keep it under 60) with the character count.
2. A short description: what it is, measurements or dimensions, condition with every flaw (where, what, how big), what is included, postage.
3. The values for the main fields the platform asks for (brand, size, colour, condition, material).

Rules:

- UK English (colour, jumper, trousers, postage, trainers).
- Use only facts in my brief. If something important is missing, write [CHECK: what is missing]. Never invent measurements, materials, dates or test results.
- Keep every flaw. Do not soften any.
- No hype words (stunning, amazing, must have), no exclamation marks, no emoji.
- No misleading claims: do not say rare, vintage, genuine, new or fully working unless my brief says so.
- No other brand names.
- Do not reveal my lowest price.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

When you have done one, move on to the platform-specific prompts in Modules 02 to 04. They go further than the starter prompt.

Choosing a free AI tool

Every prompt in this kit works in the free versions of the main AI chat tools. No plugins, no paid features, no internet browsing needed.

Tool	Where to get it	Good to know
ChatGPT	App or website	Widely used. Free version has usage limits

Tool	Where to get it	Good to know
Claude	App or website	Good at following detailed rules. Free version has usage limits
Gemini	App or website, and built into many Android phones	Handy if you already use Google apps
Copilot	App or website, and built into Windows and Edge	Handy if you use a Windows laptop

Free versions and their limits change often, so do not worry too much about which one. Pick the one you already have, or try two and keep the one whose writing you prefer.

Tips that apply to all of them:

- One chat per item, or per batch. Starting a new chat stops details from one item leaking into another.
- Paste the whole prompt. The rules at the bottom are what keep the AI honest and in UK English.
- If the answer is wrong, say so. "The size is 14, not 12. Rewrite using only the brief." works well.
- AI tools miscount characters. Always check the title length in the listing form itself.
- You are the editor. The AI drafts. You check every fact before you post.

What about the AI tools built into the platforms? Some marketplaces now have their own AI listing helpers (eBay's app can draft a listing from a photo, Depop can generate a description from a photo, and Amazon offers generative listing tools to UK sellers). They can be useful. The same rule applies: check every word against the item. You can also paste their draft into our prompts (for example D10 in Module 03) to tidy it into UK English and remove anything unsupported.

Privacy: what never goes into an AI tool

AI chat tools are not the place for other people's personal data. Treat them like a public notice board.

Never paste:

- Buyers' names, addresses, phone numbers or email addresses

- Order numbers, tracking numbers linked to a person, or screenshots of order pages
- A buyer's messages with their username showing (replace it with [BUYER])
- Your own bank details, passwords, account login codes or home address

Safe to paste:

- Facts about the item (your Listing Brief)
- Sold listing titles and prices you have looked up and copied by hand
- The text of a buyer's question, with their name and details removed

Also worth doing: check your AI tool's privacy or data settings. Many let you choose whether your chats are used to improve their models. Settings change, so look in the app's settings menu.

The Listing Brief method

Generic AI output goes wrong for one reason: it is given too little to work with, so it fills the gaps with guesses. That is where invented materials, wrong sizes, American spellings and "stunning vintage piece" come from.

The Listing Brief fixes that. It is a short fill-in block of facts about one item: what it is, brand, size, measurements, colour, material, condition and flaws, what is included, platform, postage and your price.

Every prompt in this kit:

1. Starts from your brief. You fill it in once and reuse it for every platform and every prompt.
2. Uses only facts from the brief. The AI is told not to add, assume or improve anything.
3. Marks gaps with [CHECK: ...]. Instead of guessing, the AI tells you exactly what to find out.
4. Writes in UK English, with UK sizes and UK words.
5. Stays within the platform's limits, and reminds you to check the current rules.
6. Avoids hype and misleading claims.

The brief takes about two minutes. It saves more than that on every listing, and it is also what protects you if a buyer ever says the item was not as described: your listing says exactly what it was.

How to read a prompt in this kit

Every prompt has the same parts:

- ID and name: for example T1 eBay UK title. The letter tells you the module (B brief, T titles, D descriptions and condition, K keywords, P photos, R pricing, M messages, V video, C rule checker, W workflow).
 - Use it when: one line on when it helps.
 - Paste this: the prompt. Copy all of it. Replace anything in [SQUARE BRACKETS AND CAPITALS] with your details.
 - What good output looks like: an example for an invented item, so you know what to expect.
 - Check before you post: the last few things to check yourself.
-

The golden rules

1. Brief first. No brief, no listing. Two minutes of facts saves twenty minutes of fixing.
 2. Only true words. If you cannot back it up, it does not go in. That includes "rare", "vintage", "genuine", "new" and "fully working".
 3. Every flaw, with a size and a photo. Where, what, how big, which photo. If you are between two condition grades, pick the lower one.
 4. Measurements over sizes for clothing, especially vintage and pre-loved.
 5. UK English, UK sizes, UK words. Jumper, trousers, trainers, handbag, postage.
 6. No hype. No "stunning", no "must have", no capitals and exclamation marks.
 7. Only the item's own brand. No "Zara style", no "not Nike", no tagging brands it is not.
 8. Respect the limits, and check them. Platform rules change. Check the current rule in the platform's help pages, and see Module 12.
 9. Keep it on the platform. No off-platform payments, no contact details in listings or messages.
 10. Respect buyers' rights. Never write anything that tries to take away a buyer's legal rights or the platform's buyer protection.
 11. No personal data in AI tools. Items, yes. People, no.
 12. You are the editor. The AI drafts. You check every word against the item before you post.
-

If something goes wrong

Problem	Fix
The AI invented a detail	Reply: "Remove anything not in my brief. Use [CHECK: ...] for gaps."
American spellings crept in	Reply: "Rewrite in UK English." Or use D10 in Module 03
Title is too long	Use T8 in Module 02. Then check the count in the listing form
The tone is too gushing	Reply: "Plain, factual, no hype words, no exclamation marks."
The AI forgot the rules halfway through a long chat	Start a new chat and paste the full prompt again
The free version has hit its limit	Try again later, or switch to another free tool. The prompts work in all of them

Ready? Open Module 01 and fill in your first brief.

The Well Listed Kit is an independent guide for UK sellers. We are not affiliated with or endorsed by eBay, Vinted, Amazon, Etsy, Depop, TikTok or any AI tool provider. Platform rules and limits change: check the current rule in each platform's help pages.

Module 01: The Listing Brief

Every good listing starts here. The Listing Brief is a short block of facts about one item. You fill it in once, paste it into your AI tool, and every other prompt in this kit works from it.

Why it matters: an AI tool can only be as accurate as what you give it. Give it "blue jumper, good condition" and it will fill the gaps with guesses. Give it a proper brief and it has nothing to guess.

The one habit that makes this work: every prompt tells the AI to use only the facts in your brief, and to write [CHECK: ...] wherever something is missing. You then fill in the checks yourself. No invented details, no surprises for the buyer.

How to fill in a brief (in about 2 minutes)

1. Have the item in front of you, plus a tape measure.
2. Copy the brief that matches your item (general, or one of the category versions below).
3. Fill in what you know. Leave a line blank if you do not know it. Do not guess.
4. Write flaws in plain words: where, what, how big. "Small pale mark on left cuff, about 5mm" is perfect.
5. Save it in your notes app. You can reuse the same brief for every platform.

Tip: blank is better than wrong. A blank line becomes a [CHECK: ...] you can fix. A wrong line becomes a "not as described" return.

Privacy tip: a brief is about the item, never about people. Do not paste buyers' names, addresses, phone numbers, emails, order numbers or messages into an AI tool. If you need help with a buyer message, replace their details with [BUYER] first.

The master Listing Brief (general)

Copy this block into your notes app and keep it as your template.

LISTING BRIEF

Platform(s): [EBAY UK / VINTED / DEPOP / ETSY / AMAZON UK / TIKTOK SHOP]

What it is (plain words):

Brand / maker:

Model, style name or product number:

Category:

Size (as on the label):

Measurements (cm):

Colour (as you would describe it):

Material / composition (from the label):

Condition (one word): New with tags / New without tags / Excellent / Very good / Good / Fair

Flaws (where, what, how big):

What is included (box, cables, manual, dust bag, spare buttons):

What is NOT included:

Age or era (only if known):

Where it came from (only if relevant and true, e.g. "bought new from the brand in 2023"):

Smoke-free / pet-free home (only if true):

Postage (service and who pays):

Price I want:

Lowest I will accept (private, never shared):

Anything else a buyer would ask:

The "lowest I will accept" line is for the pricing and offer prompts later in the kit. Every prompt that writes buyer-facing copy is told never to reveal it.

Category brief variants

Use the general brief for anything. Use a category version when you want the AI to ask the right questions for that type of item. Each variant adds the facts buyers in that category care about most.

Clothing, shoes and accessories

For clothes, measurements beat sizes. Size 12 from a high street shop in 2024 is not the same as a size 12 from 1985, and vintage sizing runs small. Measure flat, in centimetres, and say how you measured.

CLOTHING BRIEF

Platform(s):

Item type (e.g. jumper, midi dress, straight-leg jeans):

Brand:

Size on label (UK / EU / US as printed):

Fits like (only if you have tried it or compared it):

Measurements, laid flat (cm):

Pit to pit (armpit to armpit, across the front):

Length (top of shoulder by the collar to hem):

Sleeve (shoulder seam to cuff):

Waist (straight across, doubled if you want full waist):

Inside leg (crotch seam to hem):

Rise (crotch seam to top of waistband):

Hips / hem width:

Colour:

Fabric (copy the care label, e.g. 80% wool, 20% polyamide):

Fit / cut (e.g. oversized, slim, cropped, high waisted):

Pattern / details (buttons, pockets, lining, zip type):

Condition:

Flaws (bobbling, marks, pulls, fading, stretched cuffs, missing buttons, odour):

Tags attached? (yes / no / cut label):

Era (only if known, e.g. "tag style suggests 1990s" is fine, a guessed year is not):

Smoke-free / pet-free home (only if true):

Postage:

Price:

Lowest I will accept (private):

How to measure pit to pit: lay the item flat, buttoned or zipped, smooth it without stretching, and measure straight across from one armpit seam to the other. Double it for an approximate chest circumference, and say you have doubled it.

Electronics

Buyers want to know it works, what it comes with, and whether anything is locked or missing.

ELECTRONICS BRIEF

Platform(s):

Item type:

Brand:

Exact model name and model number (from the label or settings screen):

Storage / capacity / specification (only from the label, box or settings):

Colour:

Tested? How? (e.g. "powered on, connected to Wi-Fi, played a video for 10 minutes"):

Anything not tested (e.g. "Bluetooth not tested"):

Faults or quirks:

Battery (health figure if shown, or "not checked"):

Cosmetic condition (scratches, dents, screen marks, where and how big):

Reset to factory settings? (yes / no):

Accounts removed? (e.g. signed out of the account linked to the device, activation lock off):

Network lock (phones only: unlocked / locked to [NETWORK] / not checked):

Included (charger, cable, box, remote, manual):

Not included:

Plug type (UK 3-pin / other):

Postage:

Price:

Lowest I will accept (private):

Tip: never describe electronics as "fully working" unless you have tested every function. "Tested and working: power, screen, Wi-Fi, speakers. Not tested: Bluetooth" is honest and protects you.

Books, music and media

BOOKS AND MEDIA BRIEF

Platform(s):

Format (hardback, paperback, vinyl LP, 7-inch single, CD, DVD, Blu-ray, video game):

Title:

Author / artist / publisher / label:

Edition and printing (copy from the copyright page or label, e.g. "first edition, fourth impression"):

Year of this copy (from the copyright page, not the first publication date unless it is the first printing):

ISBN / catalogue number / barcode:

Region (DVD, Blu-ray, games, if shown):

Signed or inscribed? (only if true, say which and where):

Condition of item (pages, spine, disc, vinyl surface):

Condition of cover / sleeve / case:

Flaws (foxing, inscriptions, price stickers, creases, scratches, ring wear):

Tested? (e.g. "disc plays without skipping", "record played through side A only"):

Included (inserts, dust jacket, poster, manual, codes, only if checked):

Postage (large letter / small parcel, and whether packed in a board-backed envelope or box):

Price:

Lowest I will accept (private):

Tip: "first edition" is one of the most misused phrases in book listings. Only use it if the copyright page supports it, and copy the exact wording.

Homeware

HOMEWARE BRIEF

Platform(s):

Item type (e.g. table lamp, casserole dish, cushion cover, vase):

Brand / maker / backstamp (copy any marks on the base):

Pattern or range name (only if marked or confirmed):

Material:

Colour:

Dimensions (cm: height, width, depth, diameter, capacity in litres if relevant):

Weight (if heavy, affects postage):

Condition:

Flaws (chips, crazing, hairline cracks, scratches, stains, wobble):

Safe for oven / dishwasher / microwave? (only if the base or box says so):

Electrical? (UK plug, tested, how):

Set or single? (how many pieces, all matching?):

Smoke-free / pet-free home (only if true):

Postage (fragile: how you will pack it):

Price:

Lowest I will accept (private):

Tip: run a fingertip round the rim of any glass or china and hold it up to the light.

Hairline cracks and tiny chips are the most common cause of "not as described" claims in homeware.

Toys, games and collectables

TOYS AND COLLECTABLES BRIEF

Platform(s):

Item type:

Brand / manufacturer:

Name, set number or series (from the box or item):

Year (only if printed on the item or box):

Complete? (list what is present, and what is missing):

Pieces counted? (yes, and how many / no):

Box (present, condition, sealed or opened):

Instructions / leaflets (present / not present):

Condition:

Flaws (paint wear, sun fading, broken parts, sticker wear, battery corrosion):

Batteries (included / not included / compartment clean?):

Tested? (lights, sounds, motors):

Age guidance on box (copy it exactly, e.g. "not suitable for children under 36 months"):

Smoke-free / pet-free home (only if true):

Postage:

Price:

Lowest I will accept (private):

Tip: never call something "rare" or "limited edition" unless the item or box says so. Collectors check, and it is a misleading claim if it is not true.

Handmade (Etsy and small makers)

HANDMADE BRIEF

Platform(s):

What it is:

Who makes it (your shop, "made by us"):

Materials (every material, including findings, thread, finish, glaze):

Size and dimensions (cm or mm):

Weight:

Colours available:

Personalisation options (what can change, character limits, font choices):

Made to order or ready to post?:

Time to make (days):

Care instructions:

Allergy information (e.g. "nickel-free" only if your supplier confirms it):

Packaging (gift wrap, plastic-free, only if true):

Each piece varies? (e.g. hand-dyed so colour varies slightly):

Safety notes (e.g. "not a toy", "candle: never leave burning unattended"):

Postage (service, dispatch time):

Price:

Tip: for handmade items, be careful with safety and health wording. "Soothing" candles and "healing" crystals are health claims. Describe what the item is and what it is made from, not what it does to the body.

The B prompts

These prompts help you build a brief from whatever you have: scribbled notes, a voice note, a photo description, or a product label. The AI's only job here is to organise facts and flag gaps. It does not write the listing yet.

B1 Messy notes to Listing Brief

Use it when: you have jotted down a few scrappy notes about an item and want them turned into a tidy brief. Paste this:

You are helping a UK second-hand seller organise facts about one item. Turn my notes below into a Listing Brief using exactly these headings:

Platform(s), What it is, Brand / maker, Model or style, Category, Size (as on label), Measurements (cm), Colour, Material, Condition, Flaws, What is included, What is not included, Age or era, Postage, Price, Anything else.

Rules:

1. Use UK English spelling and vocabulary (colour, jumper, trousers, postage).
2. Use ONLY facts that are in my notes. Do not add, assume or improve anything.
3. If a heading has no information, write [CHECK: what I need to find out]. Be specific, e.g. [CHECK: measure pit to pit in cm].
4. Keep my flaw descriptions exactly as serious as I wrote them. Do not soften or remove any flaw.
5. Convert inches to cm only if I gave inches, and show both (e.g. 21 in / 53 cm).
6. No sales language. This is a fact sheet, not an advert.
7. At the end, list the 3 most important [CHECK] items a buyer in this category would ask about.

My notes:

[PASTE YOUR NOTES HERE]

What good output looks like:

For the notes "grey next jumper sz12 wool mix, bit bobbly under arms, vinted, want 12 quid":

Platform(s): Vinted What it is: Jumper Brand / maker: Next Model or style: [CHECK: style, e.g. crew neck, V-neck, roll neck] Size (as on label): 12
Measurements (cm): [CHECK: measure pit to pit, length and sleeve, laid flat]
Colour: Grey Material: Wool blend [CHECK: exact composition from the care label]
Condition: [CHECK: choose one word, e.g. Good] Flaws: Some bobbling under the arms Price: £12 ... Top 3 checks: exact fabric composition, measurements, whether there are any marks or holes besides the bobbling.

Check before you post:

- Fill in every [CHECK] with a real fact, or delete the line if it does not apply.

- Make sure the AI has not quietly upgraded your wording (for example "wool mix" becoming "merino").
- Keep your lowest price out of anything a buyer will see.

B2 Voice note transcript to Listing Brief

Use it when: you talked about the item into your phone's voice recorder (quicker than typing) and have the transcript. Paste this:

Below is a transcript of me talking about an item I am selling in the UK. It will be rambling, with "um", repeats and corrections. Turn it into a Listing Brief.

Headings: Platform(s), What it is, Brand / maker, Model or style, Size, Measurements (cm), Colour, Material, Condition, Flaws, What is included, What is not included, Tested (how), Postage, Price, Anything else.

Rules:

1. UK English.
2. Where I corrected myself ("no wait, it's a 14"), use the correction only.
3. Use ONLY facts I actually said. Do not fill gaps with typical details for this type of item.
4. If something is missing or unclear, write [CHECK: ...] and say what was unclear.
5. Voice transcription often mishears brand names and numbers. If a brand, model number or measurement looks odd, keep it but add [CHECK: transcript said "X", confirm spelling].
6. Keep every flaw I mentioned, at the same level of seriousness.
7. No sales language.

Transcript:

[PASTE TRANSCRIPT HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a transcript that includes "it's a Dualit toaster, um, four slice, cream, works fine, I did two rounds of toast, there's a little dent on the back, no, the side, left side, and the crumb tray's a bit stained":

What it is: Four-slice toaster Brand / maker: Dualit [CHECK: model name or number from the base label] Colour: Cream Tested (how): Toasted two rounds of bread Flaws: Small dent on the left side [CHECK: size in mm or cm]. Crumb tray has some staining. What is included: [CHECK: is the crumb tray the only removable part? Any manual or box?] Anything else: [CHECK: plug type, assume nothing]

Check before you post:

- Brand names and model numbers are the words transcription gets wrong most often. Check them against the label.
- Confirm the corrected details (left side, not back) are the ones that made it in.
- Photograph any flaw the brief mentions.

B3 Photo description to Listing Brief

Use it when: you want to describe what you can see in your photos (or on the item) and turn it into a brief. This prompt does not need the AI to see images, so it works in any free tool. Paste this:

I am going to describe my item photo by photo, as if I am showing it to you. Build a UK Listing Brief from my descriptions only.

Headings: What it is, Brand / maker, Model or style, Size, Measurements (cm), Colour, Material, Condition, Flaws (with location), Labels and markings (copy exact wording), What is included, Postage, Price.

Rules:

1. UK English.
2. Use only what I describe. Do not guess brand, age, material or value from the type of item.
3. For each flaw, record where it is and how big, if I said so. If I did not give a size, add [CHECK: size of flaw].
4. After the brief, give me a list of any extra photos a buyer would expect to see that I have not described (for example care label, base stamp, flaw close-up).
5. No sales language.

My photo descriptions:

Photo 1: [DESCRIBE]

Photo 2: [DESCRIBE]

Photo 3: [DESCRIBE]

Price: [PRICE]

Postage: [POSTAGE]

What good output looks like:

For a ceramic jug described across three photos:

What it is: Ceramic milk jug Brand / maker: Base stamp reads "Denby, Made in England" (copied as described) Colour: Blue glaze outside, cream inside
Measurements (cm): 12 cm tall [CHECK: width including handle] Flaws: Tiny glaze chip on the rim, next to the spout [CHECK: size in mm] Labels and markings: "Denby, Made in England" Extra photos to take: close-up of the rim chip with a coin or ruler for scale, inside of the jug, base stamp in focus.

Check before you post:

- If you are unsure a stamp is genuine, describe what it says rather than stating who made it.
- Take the extra flaw photos the AI lists. A flaw shown in a photo is much harder to dispute.
- Confirm measurements with a tape, not by eye.

B4 Gap finder: what a buyer will ask

Use it when: you have a brief and want to catch the questions buyers will message you about, before they ask. Paste this:

Here is a Listing Brief for an item I am selling on [PLATFORM] in the UK. Act as a careful, fussy buyer in this category.

1. List up to 8 questions a serious buyer would ask before buying, most important first.
2. For each, say whether my brief already answers it (Yes / No / Partly).
3. For every No or Partly, tell me exactly what to check or measure, in plain words, and how to do it quickly.
4. Do not write the listing. Do not invent answers.
5. UK English, short lines, suitable for reading on a phone.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a pair of Levi's 501 jeans on eBay UK:

Question	Answered?	What to do
What are the real waist and inside leg?	Partly	Lay flat, measure straight across the top of the waistband and double it. Measure inside leg from crotch seam to hem.
Button fly or zip?	No	Check and add.
Any wear at the crotch or hems?	No	Look closely at the inner thighs and back hems. Photograph any thinning.
Is it the original hem or taken up?	No	Look for a factory chain-stitch hem versus a home-sewn one. If unsure, say "unsure".

Check before you post:

- Add the answers to your brief, not just to the listing, so every platform version gets them.
- "Unsure" is a valid honest answer. Guessing is not.
- If the same question keeps coming up for a category, add it to your brief template.

B5 Build my own category brief

Use it when: you sell a lot of one thing (bikes, prams, golf clubs, perfume, board games) and want a brief template tailored to it. Paste this:

I sell second-hand [CATEGORY] in the UK on [PLATFORM(S)]. Create a reusable Listing Brief template for this category.

Include:

1. The general fields: platform, what it is, brand, model, size or dimensions, colour, material, condition, flaws, what is included, postage, price, lowest I will accept (private).
2. Up to 10 extra fields that buyers of this category specifically care about, with a short hint in brackets on how to find each fact (e.g. "frame size (printed on the seat tube)").
3. A short "safety and legal" note listing anything I should check before selling this category in the UK, phrased as questions for me to check with the platform's help pages. Do not state rules as fact.

Rules: UK English, plain words, no sales language, formatted as a plain text block I can copy into my notes app.

What good output looks like:

For children's car seats:

CAR SEAT BRIEF ... Safety standard label (copy the exact wording from the orange or white label on the seat): Group / size range on the label (e.g. height range in cm): Date of manufacture (usually moulded into the plastic shell): Ever been in a vehicle collision? (yes / no / unknown): Isofix or belt fitted: Covers washed? (yes / no): ... Safety and legal questions to check: Does the platform allow second-hand car seats in this category? Are there any rules on seats with no known history?

Check before you post:

- Some categories are restricted or banned on some platforms. Check the platform's prohibited and restricted items page before listing.
- Save the template and use it for every item in that category.
- If a field does not apply to one item, delete it rather than leave it blank in the listing.

B6 Label or box text to Listing Brief

Use it when: you have a new or boxed item (or a clear product label) and want to pull the facts off it accurately. Paste this:

Below is text I have copied from the box, label or manual of an item I am selling in the UK. Extract a Listing Brief from it.

Headings: What it is, Brand, Model / product number, Specification (list), Colour, Material, Dimensions, What is in the box, Safety or age warnings (copied exactly), Condition, Flaws, Postage, Price.

Rules:

1. UK English.
2. Copy technical specifications exactly as written. Do not round, convert or "tidy" numbers.
3. Do not include marketing claims from the box (e.g. "best ever", "clinically proven") as facts. Leave them out and list them separately under "Box claims I have not included" so I can decide.
4. Condition, flaws, postage and price are not on the box: write [CHECK: ...] for them unless I add them below.
5. Copy any safety warnings or age guidance word for word.

Box or label text:

[PASTE TEXT]

My extra details (condition, flaws, whether opened, postage, price):

[ADD DETAILS]

What good output looks like:

For a boxed electric toothbrush:

What it is: Electric toothbrush Brand: [as printed] Model / product number: [as printed] What is in the box: 1 handle, 1 brush head, 1 charging base Condition: New, box opened to check contents, brush head still sealed Box claims I have not included: "removes up to 100% more plaque". This is a manufacturer claim. Leave it out of your listing unless you are the brand and can support it.

Check before you post:

- Leave out health, performance and "clinically proven" style claims unless you are the brand and can back them up.
- Check whether the item's category has hygiene rules on the platform (opened personal care items often do).
- Photograph the box and label so buyers can read the model number.

B7 Brief tidy-up and consistency check

Use it when: your brief is filled in and you want a final sanity check before you run the title and description prompts. Paste this:

Check my Listing Brief for a UK [PLATFORM] listing. Do not rewrite it into a listing.

Report back, in this order:

1. Contradictions (e.g. condition "Excellent" but flaws listed that sound like "Good").
2. Vague wording a buyer could dispute (e.g. "small mark" with no location or size). Suggest a clearer version using only my facts.
3. Missing facts buyers in this category expect, as [CHECK: ...] lines.
4. Anything that could be a misleading or risky claim (e.g. "rare", "genuine", "fully working", "vintage" without an era, health claims). Explain why in one line each.
5. US spellings or sizes to change to UK ones.

UK English. Short bullet points. Do not invent facts to fix problems. Ask me instead.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a brief for a Radley handbag:

Contradictions: Condition says "Excellent" but flaws mention "corners rubbed through to the lining". That is closer to Good or Fair. Consider changing the condition. Vague wording: "small mark inside" could become "small blue pen mark on the inside lining, about 1 cm, near the zip pocket" [CHECK: confirm colour and size]. Missing facts: [CHECK: dimensions in cm], [CHECK: strap drop in cm], [CHECK: dust bag included?] Risky claims: "100% genuine": only say this if you can back it up (receipt, bought from the brand). Otherwise just state the brand and show the labels. US to UK: "purse" to "handbag" or "bag".

Check before you post:

- Fix contradictions in the brief itself so every platform version inherits the fix.
- If the AI flags "genuine" or "authentic", keep the photos of labels, codes and receipts ready.
- Run this check on your first few briefs until the habit sticks.

Quick reference: what makes a strong brief

Weak	Strong
Size M	Size M on label. Pit to pit 54 cm, length 68 cm, laid flat
Good condition	Good. Light bobbling under both arms. No holes or marks
Small mark	Pale mark on front, left of the buttons, about 5 mm
Works	Tested: powers on, connects to Wi-Fi, all buttons respond. Bluetooth not tested
Vintage	Care label and tag style suggest 1990s (not confirmed)
Genuine	Brand labels shown in photos. Receipt available [only if true]
Comes with stuff	Included: charger, original box. Not included: manual

Next step: take your finished brief to Module 02 for titles, Module 03 for descriptions and condition, and Module 04 for keywords, tags and item specifics.

Module 02: Titles

The title is the part of your listing that does the most work. It is what search matches, and on a phone it is often the only text a buyer reads before tapping (or scrolling past).

A good title is not clever. It is the words a buyer would type, in the order they would type them, with nothing untrue and nothing wasted.

Every prompt in this module starts from your Listing Brief (Module 01). If you have not made one yet, do that first. It takes two minutes and it is the difference between a title with facts and a title with guesses.

Title lengths and rules at a glance

Limits change. We checked these in September 2026, but always check the current rule in the platform's help pages before relying on it. Module 12 has the full cheatsheet with sources and dates.

Platform	Title length (at the time of writing)	Other title rules	Notes
eBay UK	80 characters	Use the space for relevant keywords such as brand, model and variant. No unrelated brand names	Front-load brand and item type
Vinted	No confirmed limit. Check the listing form	Vinted relies on its own fields (brand, size, colour, condition, material) for filters	Short, clear titles read best in the app
Depop	One combined description field (commonly quoted as 1,000 characters)	The opening words act like a title in search and in the feed	Treat your first line as the title
Etsy	140 characters	Readable phrase first, not a list of keywords	Keep it short enough to read at a glance

Platform	Title length (at the time of writing)	Other title rules	Notes
Amazon UK	75 characters for all categories except media, from 27 July 2026	No ! $? _ { } ^ ~ unless part of the brand name. No word more than twice (small words like "and" excepted). New 125-character "Item Highlights" field	Amazon may rewrite titles that break the rules
TikTok Shop UK	Minimum 15 characters. Maximum commonly quoted as 255 characters	No promotions ("20% off"), no seller name or web address, no mention of TikTok or other platforms, no symbols or special characters	Accurate and concise: product type, material, key features, quantity, size

Spaces and punctuation count as characters on every platform. A title that is one character over will be rejected or cut off.

Title formulas by category

Use these as a starting order. Swap the order if buyers in your niche search differently (for example, collectors often search set number first).

eBay UK (80 characters)

Category	Formula
Clothing	Brand + Gender + Item type + Key style + Colour + Material + Size + (Fit or detail)
Shoes	Brand + Model + Gender + Shoe type + Colour + UK size + (Material)
Electronics	Brand + Model name + Model number + Capacity or spec + Colour + (Unlocked / Boxed)
Books	Title + Author + Format + (Edition, only if confirmed) + Year of this copy
Vinyl and CDs	Artist + Title + Format + (Label, catalogue number) + (Pressing, only if confirmed)
Homeware	Brand or maker + Range or pattern + Item type + Colour + Size or capacity

Category	Formula
Toys and collectables	Brand + Name or set number + Series + (Complete / Boxed) + Year if printed

Vinted and Depop (short, style-led)

Category	Formula
Clothing	Brand + Item type + Colour + Size + (One style word buyers use, e.g. "oversized")
Shoes	Brand + Model + Colour + UK size
Accessories	Brand + Item type + Colour + (Material)
Homeware and books (Vinted)	Brand or title + Item type + Key detail

Etsy (140 characters, readable first)

Type	Formula
Handmade	What it is in plain words + Main material + Key feature + (Personalisation) + (Who or what it is for)
Vintage	Era (only if you can support it) + Brand or maker + Item type + Material + Colour
Craft supplies	Material + Item type + Size or quantity + Colour

Amazon UK (75 characters, all categories except media)

Type	Formula
Most products	Brand + Product type + Key feature + Size or quantity + Colour
Media (books, music, video)	Follow the category style guide. Media is excluded from the 75-character change

Type	Formula
Most products	Brand + Product type + Material + Key feature + Size, colour or quantity. Plain words, no symbols, no promotions, no platform names

Title mistakes that cost you

- Hype words: "Stunning", "Amazing", "Must have", "L@@K". They take up space and buyers do not search for them.
- Unsupported claims: "Rare", "Vintage", "Genuine", "Limited edition", "Brand new" when it is not.
- Other brands as keywords: "Not Zara" or "Zara style" is keyword spam and can break platform rules. List only the actual brand.
- US words: "pants" (UK buyers search "trousers"), "sweater" (UK: "jumper"), "purse" (UK: "handbag"), "sneakers" (UK: "trainers").
- Size confusion: say "UK 8" for shoes, not just "8". For clothes, say what is on the label.
- Repeating words: "Dress Midi Dress Summer Dress" does not help and on Amazon it breaks the rules.

The T prompts

Each prompt ends with the same short safety block so you can see exactly what the AI has been told.

T1 eBay UK title (80 characters)

Use it when: you are listing on eBay UK and want a title that uses the space well without padding. Paste this:

Write 3 eBay UK listing titles for the item in my Listing Brief below.

How to build them:

- Put the words a UK buyer would search first: brand, then item type, then the most important details (model, size, colour, material).
- Use this order unless the brief suggests a better one for this category:
[FORMULA, OR WRITE "YOUR CHOICE"]
- Aim for 70 to 80 characters. Never go over 80 characters including spaces.
- After each title, show the exact character count.

Rules:

1. UK English and UK sizes (e.g. "UK 8" for shoes, "trousers" not "pants").
2. Use ONLY facts in my Listing Brief. If a key search word is missing (e.g. model number), write [CHECK: model number] in the title and tell me.
3. No hype words (stunning, amazing, must have, wow, L@@K), no exclamation marks, no emoji, no capital letters for whole words.
4. No misleading claims: do not use rare, vintage, genuine, new, limited edition, or a date unless the brief supports it.
5. Do not mention any brand other than the item's actual brand.
6. Do not repeat words.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a grey Next wool-blend jumper, size 12, light bobbling under the arms:

1. Next Womens Grey Wool Blend Crew Neck Jumper Size 12 Long Sleeve Knit Pullover (78)
2. Next Grey Wool Blend Jumper Womens UK 12 Crew Neck Knitted Pullover Long Sleeve (79)
3. Next Womens Wool Blend Jumper Grey Size 12 Crew Neck Soft Knit Casual Pullover (78)

Notice: no "bobbling" in the title (flaws belong in the description and condition), no "vintage", no "stunning".

Check before you post:

- Count the characters yourself or paste the title into the eBay form. AI tools often miscount.
- Every word must be true. "Crew neck" only if it is a crew neck.
- Pick the version that starts with what your buyers type first. For fashion that is usually brand.
- Do not add "free postage" to the title if eBay already shows it. It wastes space.

T2 Vinted title

Use it when: you are listing clothes, shoes, accessories or homeware on Vinted. Paste this:

Write 3 Vinted titles for the item in my Listing Brief below.

How to build them:

- Short and clear: brand, item type, colour, size, plus one style word buyers use if it is true (e.g. oversized, cropped, high waisted, wide leg).
- Aim for about 40 to 60 characters so it is readable in the app. Keep under the limit shown on the Vinted listing form (check it when you list).
- Show the character count after each.

Rules:

1. UK English and UK sizes.
2. Use ONLY facts in my Listing Brief. Write [CHECK: ...] if something important is missing.
3. No hype words, no emoji, no exclamation marks, no "bundle deal" or pricing words in the title.
4. No misleading claims (rare, vintage, genuine, new) unless the brief supports them.
5. No other brand names (no "Zara style", "not Nike").

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a pair of black Levi's 501 jeans, W30 L32, faded at the knees:

1. Levi's 501 Black Straight Leg Jeans W30 L32 (43)
2. Levi's 501 Jeans Black W30 L32 Button Fly (41)

3. Black Levi's 501 Straight Jeans W30 L32 (39)

Check before you post:

- Brand, size and colour also go in Vinted's own fields. Fill those in too: they power the filters buyers use.
- Only say "button fly" if you have checked.
- Keep the fading in the description and condition, not the title.

T3 Depop opening line (acts as the title)

Use it when: you are listing on Depop, where the first words of the description do the job of a title. Paste this:

Write 3 options for the opening line of a Depop listing for the item in my Listing Brief below. This line works as the title, so it must say what the item is straight away.

How to build it:

- Start with brand and item type, then colour, size and one or two style words buyers really search for (e.g. y2k, 90s, cottagecore, grunge) ONLY if they honestly fit the item and my brief.
- Keep each option to one short line, under about 60 characters.
- Plain text, no hashtags in this line (hashtags go at the end of the description, see Module 04).

Rules:

1. UK English and UK sizes.
2. Use ONLY facts from my brief. Write [CHECK: ...] for missing key facts.
3. An era word (90s, y2k, 70s) must be backed up by the brief. If the brief does not support it, do not use it and tell me.
4. No hype words, no emoji spam, no exclamation marks.
5. No other brand names.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a brown suede Topshop jacket, size 10, tag style suggests late 1990s (not confirmed):

1. Topshop brown suede jacket, size 10, 90s style (46)
2. Brown suede Topshop jacket UK 10, button front (46)
3. Topshop suede jacket in brown, size 10, boxy fit (48)

Note: "90s style" is used rather than "90s", because the era is not confirmed. If you can confirm it, change it.

Check before you post:

- "Style" words (y2k, 90s) should describe the look honestly. Do not claim a date you cannot support.
- Make sure the opening line matches what is in the photos.
- Depop's own advice is short, clear descriptions with measurements and signs of wear. Your opening line should set that up.

T4 Etsy title (140 characters)

Use it when: you are listing a handmade, vintage or craft supply item on Etsy. Paste this:

Write 3 Etsy titles for the item in my Listing Brief below.

How to build them:

- Start with a clear, readable phrase that says exactly what the item is, as a person would say it. Then add the most important details: main material, key feature, size, colour, and personalisation if offered.
- Keep under 140 characters including spaces, and ideally under 15 words.
- Do not stuff: each phrase should add a new detail, not repeat the same idea in different words.
- Show the character count and word count after each.

Rules:

1. UK English (personalised, colour, jewellery).
2. Use ONLY facts in my Listing Brief. Write [CHECK: ...] for anything missing.
3. No hype words, no "best", no "perfect gift" unless the brief states who it is designed for.
4. "Vintage" only if the brief says the item is at least 20 years old and I can support that. Check Etsy's current vintage rules.
5. No health or wellbeing claims (e.g. calming, healing, anxiety relief).
6. No other brand names or trademarked characters.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a handmade sterling silver stacking ring, hammered finish, sizes J to Q:

1. Hammered Sterling Silver Stacking Ring, Handmade Thin Band, UK Sizes J to Q (75 characters, 13 words)
2. Sterling Silver Stacking Ring with Hammered Finish, Handmade Thin Band (70 characters, 10 words)
3. Handmade Hammered Silver Ring, Thin Sterling Stacking Band, Minimalist (70 characters, 9 words)

Check before you post:

- "Sterling silver" is a legal description. Only use it if it is 925 silver, and check whether your item needs hallmarking in the UK.

- Etsy titles do not need to use all 140 characters. Clear beats long.
- Put your extra keywords in the 13 tags (Module 04), not the title.

T5 Amazon UK title and Item Highlights

Use it when: you are a brand or seller creating an Amazon UK product listing. Paste this:

Write an Amazon UK product title and an Item Highlights line for the product in my Listing Brief below.

Title:

- Order: Brand, product type, key feature, size or quantity, colour (unless my category style guide says otherwise).
- 75 characters or fewer including spaces (the limit for all categories except media from 27 July 2026; I will check the current rule and my category style guide).
- Capitalise the first letter of each word except short words (and, or, for, the, with, in, of).
- Numbers as digits (2, not two). Units spelled clearly (cm, ml, kg).
- Show the character count.

Item Highlights (if my category has this field):

- Up to 125 characters. Extra useful details (material, use, size range) that did not fit in the title. No repetition of the title.
- Show the character count.

Rules:

1. UK English.
2. Use ONLY facts in my brief. Write [CHECK: ...] for anything missing.
3. No special characters ! $? _ { } ^ ~ | (unless part of the brand name) and no emoji.
4. Do not use the same word more than twice (short words like "and", "with", "for" excepted).
5. No promotional or subjective words (best, top quality, hot item, free delivery, sale, 100% guaranteed).
6. No health, medical or environmental claims unless my brief gives the evidence and I confirm it is allowed.
7. No other brands.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a set of 4 invented "Hartwell Home" linen napkins, 45 cm square, sage green:

Title: Hartwell Home Linen Napkins Set of 4, 45 x 45 cm, Sage Green (60) Item Highlights: 100% linen, machine washable at 40 degrees, hemmed edges, for everyday dining or occasions (90)

Check before you post:

- Check the style guide for your exact category in Seller Central. Title rules differ between categories.
- "100% linen" and washing temperature must come from your product spec, not the AI.
- Amazon may rewrite titles that do not meet its rules. Reading your title back as a buyer on a phone is the best test.

T6 TikTok Shop UK product title

Use it when: you are listing a product in TikTok Shop UK. Paste this:

Write 3 TikTok Shop UK product titles for the product in my Listing Brief below.

How to build them:

- Brand, product type, material, the one or two features that matter most, then size, colour or quantity.
- Clear enough to understand at a glance on a phone. At least 15 characters. Aim for 60 to 100 characters, and stay within the current TikTok Shop limit (I will check it in Seller Center).
- Show the character count.

Rules:

1. UK English.
2. Use ONLY facts in my brief. Write [CHECK: ...] for anything missing.
3. No hype or trend words (viral, best seller, must have), no emoji, no symbols or special characters, no exclamation marks, no capital letters for whole words.
4. Do not mention TikTok or any other platform, my shop name or any web address.
5. No claims that the product cures, treats, prevents or relieves anything, and no weight loss claims.
6. No price, discount or urgency words (sale, 20% off, only 2 left, today only).
7. No other brands or trademarked names.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For an invented "Brookfield" stainless steel insulated water bottle, 750 ml, matte black:

1. Brookfield Stainless Steel Insulated Water Bottle 750ml, Leakproof Lid, Matte Black (83)
2. Brookfield 750ml Insulated Water Bottle, Double Wall Stainless Steel, Black (75)
3. Brookfield Water Bottle 750ml, Stainless Steel, Insulated, Matte Black Finish (77)

Check before you post:

- "Leakproof" and "keeps drinks cold for 24 hours" style claims must be in your product spec and tested. Leave them out if not.
- Check the category rules in Seller Center: some products need extra approval.

- Keep the title consistent with your video and product photos.

T7 Title tester: which version is clearest?

Use it when: you have 2 to 5 title ideas and want an honest, buyer's-eye comparison.

Paste this:

I am choosing a title for a [PLATFORM] UK listing. Here are my options and my Listing Brief.

For each title:

1. Count the characters including spaces. Say if it is over [LIMIT] characters.
2. Say what a UK buyer would most likely type to find this item (give 3 short example searches). Tick which searches each title matches.
3. Flag anything not supported by the brief, any hype, any repeated words, any US spellings or sizes.
4. Say what a buyer sees in the first 40 characters (roughly what shows on a phone before it cuts off). Is it clear what the item is?

Then recommend one and explain why in two lines. Do not invent new facts. If you suggest an improved version, use only facts from the brief.

UK English.

Titles:

[PASTE TITLE 1]

[PASTE TITLE 2]

[PASTE TITLE 3]

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For three eBay titles for a Nintendo Switch Lite:

Title	Characters	Matches "switch lite grey"	Matches "nintendo switch lite console"	First 40 characters clear?	Issues
1	78	Yes	Yes	Yes	None
2	84	Yes	No	Yes	Over 80 characters
3	61	Yes	Yes	No, starts with "Amazing condition"	Hype word, wasted space

Recommendation: Title 1. It leads with brand and model, fits the limit and matches all three example searches.

How to test for real: after you post, search the platform the way a buyer would (use the app, not your seller view) and see if your listing appears for the obvious searches. If it does not, compare your title with sold listings for similar items and look at which words they share. Change one thing at a time so you know what made the difference.

Check before you post:

- The AI's guess at buyer searches is a starting point. The platform's own search suggestions (start typing in the search bar) are a better guide.
- A recommendation is only useful if the winning title is 100% accurate.
- Character counts from AI tools can be off by a few. Check in the listing form.

T8 Title fixer: too long, too vague or too spammy

Use it when: you already have a title (maybe from an old listing or a generic AI tool) and it needs fixing. Paste this:

Fix this [PLATFORM] UK listing title. The limit is [LIMIT] characters (I will double-check the current limit in the platform's help pages).

My current title:

[PASTE TITLE]

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Do this:

1. List what is wrong with it: over the limit, hype words, repeated words, US spellings or sizes, unsupported claims, other brand names, wasted words.
2. Write 2 fixed versions, each within the limit, with character counts.
3. Only use facts from the brief. If the old title claims something the brief does not support, remove it and tell me what you removed and why.

UK English. No hype, no emoji, no exclamation marks.

What good output looks like:

For the old eBay title "STUNNING!!! Vintage RARE Mulberry Style Leather Purse Bag Bag Brown L@@K" on a brown leather handbag with no brand label:

What is wrong: Capitals and exclamation marks. "Stunning" and "L@@K" are hype. "Vintage" and "rare" are not supported by the brief. "Mulberry Style" names another brand, which is not allowed. "Bag" is repeated. "Purse" is a US word for a handbag.

Fixed:

1. Womens Brown Leather Handbag, Shoulder Strap, Top Zip, Two Handles, Medium (74)
2. Womens Brown Leather Shoulder Handbag with Top Zip, Twin Handles, Medium (72)

Removed: "Mulberry Style" (another brand's name, a keyword and trademark risk), "Vintage" and "Rare" (not in the brief).

Check before you post:

- If the item has no brand label, do not guess one. "Unbranded" is fine and honest.
- Update the description to match the new title so they tell the same story.

- If the old title was on a live listing, check whether editing it affects any watchers or offers on that platform.

Title checklist (use for every listing)

- ☐ Starts with what a buyer would type first (usually brand, then item type)
- ☐ Within the platform's current limit, counted in the listing form
- ☐ Every word is true and supported by the brief
- ☐ UK spelling and UK sizes
- ☐ No hype words, no emoji, no capitals for whole words
- ☐ No other brands, no "style of" or "not X"
- ☐ No flaws in the title (they go in the description and condition fields)
- ☐ Matches the photos

Next: Module 03 for descriptions and condition, and Module 04 for the keywords, tags and item specifics that do the rest of the search work.

Module 03: Descriptions and condition

The title gets the tap. The description closes the gap between "that looks nice" and "I know exactly what I am getting". It is also your best protection against returns and "not as described" claims.

A good second-hand description is not long. It is complete. It answers the questions a buyer would ask, in the order they would ask them, and it tells the truth about flaws in plain words.

Every prompt here uses your Listing Brief from Module 01.

The shape of a good description

For most items, this order works on every platform:

1. What it is. One line: brand, item, key detail.
2. Size and measurements. For clothes, measurements in cm. For everything else, dimensions.
3. Condition, with flaws. The grade, then each flaw: where, what, how big, which photo.
4. Details. Material, features, what is included, what is not.
5. Postage. How it will be sent, if the platform does not already show it.

Short paragraphs or short lines. Most of your buyers are reading on a phone.

The honest condition grading scale

Use this scale in your brief, then match it to the nearest option in the platform's own condition dropdown. Platforms use different names, and they change them, so always read the platform's own definitions when you pick and check the current options in its help pages.

Our grade	What it means	Typical flaws allowed	eBay UK (pre-owned clothing options, from February 2025)	Vinted options
New with tags	Unworn, unused, original tags attached	None	New with tags	New with tags
New without tags	Unworn, unused, tags removed or no tags	None, apart from possible shop marks	New without tags	New without tags
Excellent	Used, but hard to tell	Very faint signs of use, described	Pre-owned: Excellent	Very good
Very good	Light, normal signs of use	Light bobbling, faint fading, tiny marks, all described	Pre-owned: Excellent or Pre-owned: Good (read the definitions)	Very good
Good	Clearly used, fully usable	Visible bobbling, small marks, light wear at cuffs or corners, all described and photographed	Pre-owned: Good	Good
Fair	Well used, flaws are obvious	Stains, holes, heavy wear, faults, all described and photographed	Pre-owned: Fair	Satisfactory

Other eBay categories (electronics, books, homeware) have their own condition lists. eBay publishes an "item conditions by category" help page. Check it for your category.

Two rules for grading:

- If you are between two grades, pick the lower one. A buyer who gets better than expected is happy. A buyer who gets worse opens a case.
- The grade never replaces the flaw list. "Good" is an opinion. "Two small pulls on the back, about 3 mm each, see photo 6" is a fact.

Flaw disclosure wording that protects you

Most "not as described" disputes come from flaws the buyer did not expect. The fix is boring and effective: describe every flaw with location, type, size and photo.

Weak (invites disputes)	Strong (hard to dispute)
Minor wear	Light rubbing on both heels, about 1 cm, see photo 5
Small mark	Pale grey mark on the front, below the left pocket, about 5 mm. May wash out, not tested
Some bobbling	Light bobbling under both arms and along the side seams. None on the front
A few scratches	Three fine scratches on the back casing, only visible at an angle. Screen has no scratches
Used condition	Pages lightly yellowed. Previous owner's name in pen on the first page. Spine uncreased
Tiny chip	Chip on the rim next to the handle, about 2 mm, cannot be felt when drinking. See photo 4

Wording habits that help:

- Say what you checked: "No holes or stains that we can see" is honest. "Perfect" is a promise.
- Say what you did not check: "Not tested with a charger" or "Not checked for odour".
- Point to photos: "See photo 5" helps buyers find the flaw and shows you disclosed it.
- Do not soften: "barely noticeable" is your opinion. Give the size and let the buyer decide.

A note on "sold as seen": it does not cover a description that is wrong. Even private sellers must describe items accurately, and if you sell as a business, buyers keep their legal rights under UK consumer law whatever your listing says. Platforms also run their own buyer protection schemes. An accurate description is the protection, not a disclaimer.

Measurements over sizes

For clothing, especially vintage and pre-loved, measurements are more useful than the size label. Sizes vary by brand, by decade and after washing.

Item	Measurements buyers want
Tops, jumpers, shirts, jackets	Pit to pit, length (shoulder by collar to hem), sleeve (shoulder seam to cuff), shoulder width
Dresses	Pit to pit, waist, length, and hips for fitted styles
Trousers, jeans, shorts	Waist (flat, and doubled), inside leg, rise, leg opening, hips
Skirts	Waist, hips, length
Shoes	UK size as labelled, insole length in cm if you can measure it
Bags	Height, width, depth, strap drop (top of strap to top of bag)

How to measure: lay it flat on a table, do up buttons and zips, smooth it without stretching, and measure in cm. Say "measured flat" in the listing, and say if a figure has been doubled.

The D prompts

D1 eBay UK description

Use it when: you have a title and want a clear, complete eBay UK description. Paste this:

Write an eBay UK item description for the item in my Listing Brief below.

Structure:

1. One opening line: what it is (brand, item, key detail).
2. Size and measurements (in cm, say "measured flat" for clothing).
3. Condition: the grade, then every flaw as a separate line with location, size and the photo number if I gave one.
4. Details: material, features, what is included, what is not included.
5. Postage: only what is in my brief.

Rules:

1. UK English (colour, jumper, trousers, postage, parcel).
2. Use ONLY facts from my Listing Brief. For anything important that is missing, write [CHECK: ...]. Never invent measurements, materials, dates or test results.
3. Include every flaw from the brief. Do not soften, shorten or leave any out.
4. No hype words (stunning, amazing, gorgeous, perfect, must have), no exclamation marks, no emoji.
5. No misleading claims: do not say rare, vintage, genuine, fully working, new, or smoke-free unless the brief says so.
6. Do not reveal my lowest acceptable price.
7. Do not write anything about returns, refunds or buyers' rights. I will set those in eBay's own settings.
8. Short lines, easy to read on a phone. Under 200 words.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a grey Next wool-blend jumper, size 12:

Next women's grey wool-blend crew neck jumper, size 12.

Measurements (laid flat): Pit to pit: 51 cm Length: 63 cm Sleeve: 58 cm

Condition: Good, pre-owned. Light bobbling under both arms and along the side seams (photo 5). No holes, stains or pulls that we can see.

Details: 60% polyester, 30% acrylic, 10% wool (from the care label). Ribbed cuffs and hem. Long sleeves.

Postage: Folded and sent in a postal bag.

Check before you post:

- Read it next to your photos. Every flaw in the text should be visible in a photo, and every flaw in a photo should be in the text.
- Make sure the eBay condition dropdown matches the grade in the description.
- Replace any [CHECK] before you post. eBay buyers notice gaps.

D2 Vinted description

Use it when: you are listing on Vinted and want a short, friendly, accurate description.

Paste this:

Write a Vinted description for the item in my Listing Brief below.

Style: short, friendly and plain, like a considerate person selling from their own wardrobe. First person plural is fine ("we") or neutral wording. 50 to 120 words.

Include, in this order:

1. What it is in one line.
2. Size on the label and measurements in cm (measured flat).
3. Condition, then every flaw with location and size.
4. Material and any useful details (fit, pockets, lining).
5. One line inviting questions, e.g. "Happy to answer questions or send more photos."

Rules:

1. UK English.
2. Use ONLY facts from my Listing Brief. Write [CHECK: ...] for anything missing.
3. Every flaw from the brief must be included, at the same level of seriousness.
4. No hype words, no exclamation marks, no emoji strings.
5. Do not mention payment, postage outside Vinted, or contact details. Everything stays in the app.
6. No "no returns" or "no refunds" lines.
7. No other brand names (no "Zara style", "similar to").
8. Do not reveal my lowest price.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For black Levi's 501 jeans, W30 L32, faded at the knees:

Black Levi's 501 straight leg jeans. Label size W30 L32.

Measured flat: waist 39 cm (78 cm doubled), inside leg 81 cm, rise 28 cm, leg opening 20 cm.

Good condition. Colour has faded to a washed charcoal on both knees and along the thighs (photo 4). Belt loop at the back is slightly frayed. No rips or holes.

100% cotton, button fly.

Happy to answer questions or send more photos.

Check before you post:

- Fill in Vinted's brand, size, colour, condition and material fields too. They matter as much as the text.
- Match your Vinted condition choice to the description (see the grading table above).
- Never move a sale or payment off the app, whatever a buyer suggests.

D3 Depop description

Use it when: you are listing on Depop and want a description that works as both title and details. Paste this:

Write a Depop description for the item in my Listing Brief below.

Structure:

1. First line: brand, item type, colour, size and one honest style word. This line acts as the title.
2. Two or three short lines on fit and style, only from my brief.
3. Measurements in cm (measured flat).
4. Condition with every flaw, location and size.
5. A final line with up to 5 hashtags (Depop's current limit, which I will check in the app), using only relevant words that honestly describe the item.

Keep it within the Depop description limit (commonly quoted as 1,000 characters; I will check the current limit in the app). Aim for under 800 characters and show the character count.

Rules:

1. UK English.
2. Use ONLY facts from my Listing Brief. Write [CHECK: ...] for anything missing.
3. Era words (y2k, 90s, vintage) only if the brief supports them. Otherwise use "style" (e.g. "90s style") or leave them out.
4. No hype, no emoji spam, no exclamation marks.
5. No other brand names in the text or hashtags.
6. No off-app payment or contact details.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a brown suede Topshop jacket, size 10:

Topshop brown suede jacket, size 10, 90s style

Boxy, slightly cropped fit with a four-button front and two flap pockets. Fully lined.

Measured flat: pit to pit 52 cm, length 58 cm, sleeve 60 cm.

Good condition. Light darkening on both cuffs from wear. Small scuff on the back hem, about 1 cm (photo 6). Lining intact.

#suedejacket #brownsuede #topshop #90sstyle #croppedjacket

(380 characters)

Check before you post:

- Hashtags must describe the item. Tagging a brand the item is not is keyword spam.
- Check the current hashtag and description limits in the Depop app.
- Fill in Depop's category, size, brand and condition fields as well.

D4 Etsy description (handmade or vintage)

Use it when: you sell handmade or vintage items on Etsy and need a description that is warm but factual. Paste this:

Write an Etsy listing description for the item in my Listing Brief below.

Structure:

1. Opening two lines: what it is and what makes it distinctive, from facts in the brief only. These lines show first, so make them clear.
2. Details: materials (all of them), size and dimensions, colours, weight if relevant.
3. Personalisation: what can be personalised, how to request it, any character limits. (Skip if not offered.)
4. Making and dispatch: made to order or ready to post, and making time, from my brief only.
5. Care instructions.
6. Safety notes from my brief (e.g. "not a toy", candle safety).
7. For vintage items: era (only as supported by the brief) and full condition with every flaw.

Rules:

1. UK English (personalised, colour, jewellery, organise).
2. Use ONLY facts in my brief. Write [CHECK: ...] for missing facts.
3. Warm, plain tone. No hype words, no "perfect gift for everyone", no exclamation marks.
4. No health, wellbeing or medical claims (e.g. calming, healing, detox, relieves anxiety, hypoallergenic) unless the brief includes supplier evidence and I confirm it.
5. Materials must be exactly as the brief says. Do not upgrade "silver-plated" to "silver" or "cotton blend" to "cotton".
6. Short paragraphs, readable on a phone.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a handmade soy wax candle in a 200 ml amber glass jar, fig scent:

A hand-poured soy wax candle in an amber glass jar, scented with fig. Made in small batches in our workshop.

Details Jar: amber glass, 200 ml, 8 cm tall Wax: soy wax blend [CHECK: exact wax type from supplier] Wick: cotton Burn time: [CHECK: your tested burn time, or leave out]

Made to order. Dispatched within 3 working days.

Care: trim the wick to 5 mm before each burn. Burn for no more than 4 hours at a time.

Safety: never leave a burning candle unattended. Keep away from children, pets and anything flammable. [CHECK: include the safety and allergen information your fragrance supplier provides for scented candles]

Check before you post:

- Scented products sold in the UK may need specific safety and allergen labelling. Check the current requirements with your supplier and official guidance.
- Leave out burn times and scent strength claims you have not tested.
- Make sure dispatch times match your Etsy shipping settings.

D5 Amazon UK bullet points and description

Use it when: you are a brand or seller writing Amazon UK product bullets ("About this item") and the product description. Paste this:

Write Amazon UK bullet points and a product description for the product in my Listing Brief below.

Bullet points:

- Each bullet starts with a short capitalised label followed by a colon (e.g. "MATERIAL:"), then one or two plain sentences.
- Cover, in order of what buyers need: what it is and size, material, key feature, how to use or care for it, what is included.
- Up to 5 bullets. Keep each under about 250 characters (guidance is roughly 10 to 255), and I will check my category style guide in Seller Central for the current rule.

Product description:

- 100 to 200 words, plain paragraphs, no HTML.

Rules:

1. UK English.
2. Use ONLY facts from my brief. Write [CHECK: ...] for missing facts.
3. No promotional or subjective claims (best, number one, top rated, highest quality), no prices, no delivery or offer information, no references to reviews, and no refund or guarantee phrases (money back, 100% guaranteed).
4. No health, medical, environmental or "eco" claims unless my brief includes the evidence and I confirm it is allowed in my category.
5. No special characters or emoji. No other brands.
6. Do not repeat the title word for word.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For 4 "Hartwell Home" linen napkins, 45 x 45 cm, sage green:

- SIZE AND SET: Four napkins, each 45 x 45 cm, in a sage green colour.
- MATERIAL: 100% linen with a soft, lightly textured feel.
- FINISH: Double-folded hems on all four edges.
- CARE: Machine washable at 40 degrees. Tumble dry low or line dry. Iron while damp for a crisp finish.

- IN THE BOX: 4 napkins, folded and tied with a paper band.

Check before you post:

- Every fact must match your product specification and packaging exactly.
- "Machine washable" and similar care claims should come from your testing or supplier data.
- Check the current Amazon UK style guide for your category. Bullet rules and limits differ.

D6 Condition grader

Use it when: you are not sure which condition grade to choose, or which platform option matches. Paste this:

Help me choose an honest condition grade for an item I am selling on [PLATFORM] in the UK.

Use this scale: New with tags, New without tags, Excellent, Very good, Good, Fair.
Rules for grading:

- If the item sits between two grades, choose the lower one.
- Base the grade only on the flaws and details I list. Do not assume flaws I have not mentioned, and do not ignore any I have.

Then:

1. Give the grade and a one-line reason.
2. Tell me which option in [PLATFORM]'s condition list is the closest match, but remind me to read that platform's own definition before choosing, as the options change.
3. Write a one or two line condition summary for the description, listing each flaw with location and size.
4. List anything I should check or photograph to be sure of the grade.

UK English. No softening words (barely, hardly, tiny) unless I used them, and never without a size.

Item: [WHAT IT IS]

Flaws and wear: [LIST EVERY FLAW]

Tags attached? [YES / NO]

Used or worn? [HOW OFTEN, IF KNOWN]

What good output looks like:

For a Nike hoodie with light pilling on the cuffs, a faded logo print, and one small bleach spot on the back:

Grade: Good. The bleach spot is a visible permanent mark, so this cannot be Very good. Closest Vinted option: Good (read Vinted's description of each option before choosing). Condition summary: Good pre-owned condition. Light pilling on both cuffs. Logo print on the chest has faded and has fine cracks. One small bleach spot on the upper back, about 4 mm, see photo 6. Check or photograph: the bleach spot next to a coin for scale; the logo print close up; inside the hood for marks.

Check before you post:

- The grade and the description must agree. A mismatch is a common cause of disputes.
- Photograph every flaw mentioned in the summary.
- If in doubt, go one grade lower.

D7 Flaw disclosure rewriter

Use it when: you have written your flaws in a hurry and want them clear, specific and protective. Paste this:

Rewrite the flaws below so they are clear and specific for a UK [PLATFORM] listing. The goal is that a buyer knows exactly what to expect and there are no surprises.

For each flaw, write one line with:

- What it is (mark, pull, chip, scratch, fading, stain, fault)
- Where it is (use left and right as the wearer or user sees it, and say so)
- How big (in mm or cm)
- How visible (e.g. "visible from arm's length", "only visible close up", only if I said so)
- Which photo shows it, if I gave photo numbers

Rules:

1. UK English.
2. Do not make any flaw sound smaller or less serious than I described it. Do not remove any flaw.
3. If size, location or visibility is missing, write [CHECK: ...].
4. Add one honest line of what I checked and found no problems with, only if I list it below.
5. No hype or reassurance words (perfect otherwise, amazing condition apart from). Just facts.

My flaws, as I wrote them:

[PASTE FLAWS]

Things I checked and found fine:

[E.G. NO HOLES, ZIP WORKS, NO ODOUR]

What good output looks like:

For the notes "mark on the front, bit of fraying at the hem, zip a bit stiff":

- Pale mark on the front, [CHECK: which side, and size in mm]
- Light fraying along the bottom hem at the back, [CHECK: length in cm]
- Zip works but is stiff to pull, especially at the top
- Checked: no holes, all buttons present, no odour noticed

Check before you post:

- Fill every [CHECK] with a real measurement.
- "Left" and "right" cause confusion. Say "as worn" and point to the photo.
- Keep the same flaw list across every platform you list on.

D8 Measurements block

Use it when: you want a neat, consistent measurements section for clothing, bags or shoes, plus a reminder of what to measure. Paste this:

I am listing [ITEM TYPE] on [PLATFORM] in the UK.

Step 1: Tell me which measurements buyers most want for this type of item, and in one short line each, how to measure them flat with a tape measure. Keep it to the essentials (4 to 6 measurements).

Step 2: When I reply with my numbers, format them as a neat measurements block:

- Heading: "Measurements (laid flat, in cm)"
- One measurement per line
- If I give inches, convert to cm and round to the nearest 0.5 cm, showing inches in brackets
- If I give a doubled figure, say "doubled"
- Add the label size at the top

Rules: UK English. Never estimate or invent a measurement. If one is missing, write [CHECK: measure X]. Do not add fit advice unless I give it (e.g. "fits like a UK 10 on me").

What good output looks like:

For a wool coat, after the seller replies with numbers:

Label size: UK 14 Measurements (laid flat, in cm) Pit to pit: 58 cm Shoulder to shoulder: 44 cm Length (shoulder by collar to hem): 96 cm Sleeve (shoulder seam to cuff): 61 cm Waist (flat, buttoned): 55 cm (110 cm doubled)

Check before you post:

- Measure with the item buttoned and smoothed, not stretched.
- Use the same method every time so repeat buyers can compare.
- If the item has stretch, say so. It affects fit more than the numbers do.

D9 Bundle and job lot description

Use it when: you are selling several items together (a bundle of kids' clothes, a box of books, a job lot of mugs). Paste this:

Write a [PLATFORM] UK listing description for a bundle or job lot. Use my list below.

Structure:

1. Opening line: what the bundle is, how many items, and the key shared details (e.g. "Bundle of 8 girls' tops, age 7 to 8 years").
2. A numbered list: one line per item with brand, item, size and condition, plus any flaw with location and size.
3. A line saying what the bundle does NOT include (only if I mention it).
4. Total weight or parcel size if I give it.

Rules:

1. UK English.
2. Use ONLY facts in my list. If a line is missing brand, size or condition, write [CHECK: ...] on that line.
3. Flaws must be listed against the right item. Do not merge them into one vague line like "some wear".
4. Do not describe the bundle as better than its worst item. If items vary, say so: "Condition varies from Very good to Fair, see each item".
5. No hype, no exclamation marks, no "bargain" or price talk.
6. Do not reveal my lowest price.

My list:

[ITEM 1: BRAND, ITEM, SIZE, CONDITION, FLAWS]

[ITEM 2: ...]

[ITEM 3: ...]

Parcel weight or size: [IF KNOWN]

What good output looks like:

For a bundle of 5 paperback novels:

Bundle of 5 paperback crime novels. Condition varies from Very good to Good, see each book.

1. [Title], [Author], paperback, 2019 printing. Very good. Spine uncreased.
2. [Title], [Author], paperback, 2017 printing. Good. Light reading creases on spine.

3. [Title], [Author], paperback. Good. Previous owner's name on first page.
[CHECK: printing year]
4. [Title], [Author], paperback, 2020 printing. Very good.
5. [Title], [Author], paperback, 2015 printing. Good. Corner of the cover slightly bent.

Parcel: about 1.4 kg, sent as a small parcel.

Check before you post:

- Photograph the whole bundle together, plus close-ups of any flaws.
- Weigh the full bundle packed, not just the items, before choosing a postage option.
- Count the items again before you post. A missing item in a bundle is a common dispute.

D10 De-hype and UK-ify an AI description

Use it when: you have a description from a generic AI tool or an old listing that sounds American, gushing or over-promising. Paste this:

Rewrite this listing description for a UK [PLATFORM] buyer.

Fix:

1. US spelling and vocabulary to UK (color to colour, pants to trousers, sweater to jumper, sneakers to trainers, purse to handbag, zipper to zip, closet to wardrobe).
2. US sizes to UK where the brief gives the UK size. If only a US size is given, keep it and label it "US size".
3. Remove hype and filler (stunning, gorgeous, must have, elevate your wardrobe, timeless piece, you will love it, exclamation marks, emoji).
4. Remove or flag any claim not supported by my Listing Brief (write [CHECK: ...] after it, or remove it and tell me).
5. Keep every flaw, with location and size.
6. Keep it short and readable on a phone.

After the rewrite, list what you removed or flagged and why, in short bullet points.

Old description:

[PASTE OLD DESCRIPTION]

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

Old: "OMG this gorgeous vintage sweater is a MUST HAVE!! Timeless piece in amazing condition, perfect color for fall. Fits true to size!"

Rewrite: Cream cable knit jumper, size M on label. Measured flat: pit to pit 55 cm, length 66 cm. Very good condition, light bobbling under the arms. [CHECK: fabric composition from the care label]

Removed or flagged:

- "Vintage": not supported by the brief (no era given).
- "Amazing condition": replaced with the grade and the actual flaw.
- "Fits true to size": not in the brief. Measurements given instead.
- "Fall": US word, and seasonal wording was not needed.
- Hype words and exclamation marks removed.

Check before you post:

- Read the rewrite against the item one last time.
 - If the AI removed a claim you know is true, add it back with the evidence (e.g. "receipt available").
 - Run Module 09's rule checker if the item is in a category with extra rules.
-

Description checklist

- ☐ Opens with what it is
- ☐ Measurements in cm, or dimensions
- ☐ Grade matches the platform's condition field
- ☐ Every flaw: where, what, how big, which photo
- ☐ What is included, and what is not
- ☐ No hype, no unsupported claims, no other brands
- ☐ No "no returns" wording that contradicts buyers' rights or platform rules
- ☐ No contact details or off-platform payment
- ☐ UK English

Module 04: Keywords, tags and item specifics

Buyers do not only type into a search bar. They tap filters: size, brand, colour, condition. If your listing's fields are empty, you are missing from those filtered results however good your title is.

This module covers the "behind the scenes" parts of a listing:

- eBay item specifics: the structured fields (brand, size, colour, style, and so on).
- Etsy tags: 13 short phrases that help your listing match searches.
- Depop hashtags: up to 5 relevant words at the end of your description.
- Vinted fields and search words: Vinted relies on its own fields rather than free tags.
- Amazon UK backend search terms: hidden keywords that buyers never see.

Every prompt uses your Listing Brief from Module 01, and every prompt tells the AI to stay honest: no brand names that are not the item's, no keyword stuffing, no invented details.

Fields and limits at a glance

These are the facts at the time of writing (September 2026). Platforms change them, so check the current rule in the platform's help pages. Module 12 has the sources.

Platform	Where keywords live	Limit or rule
eBay UK	Title, item specifics, category	Fill in every item specific that applies. Values are commonly quoted as limited to 65 characters each (check the form)
Etsy	Title, 13 tags, attributes, category	13 tags, up to 20 characters each (spaces count)
Depop	Description, hashtags, category and attribute fields	Up to 5 hashtags. Depop says to use only relevant words, brands and tags
Vinted	Title, description, and the structured fields: category, brand, size, condition, colour, material	No free tag field. Fill in every field that applies

Platform	Where keywords live	Limit or rule
Amazon UK	Title, Item Highlights, bullets, backend search terms	Backend search terms commonly quoted as 250 bytes (bytes, not characters). If over, the whole field may be ignored. Do not repeat title words or use other brands

What counts as keyword stuffing

Keyword stuffing is packing a listing with search words that do not honestly describe the item, or repeating words to game search. It can breach platform rules (eBay, for example, has a search and browse manipulation policy) and it makes listings look spammy to real buyers.

Stuffing (avoid)	Honest (fine)
"Not Zara, similar to Mango, like H&M"	The item's own brand only
"Dress dress midi dress summer dress"	"Midi dress" once, with other real details
Tagging "Nike" on unbranded trainers	"White trainers", "lace up trainers"
"Y2K 90s 80s vintage retro" on a 2022 top	"Y2K style" only if it honestly has that look
Hashtags for trends that do not fit (#cottagecore on a hoodie)	Hashtags that describe the item
Hidden lists of unrelated words at the end of a description	A short, useful description

Simple test: if a buyer searched that word, found your item and was annoyed, it should not be there.

UK search words: say it the way UK buyers type it

Generic AI tools often default to American words. UK buyers mostly search in UK English. Where a word is used in both countries, it can be worth including both in tags or specifics (not repeated in the title).

US word	UK word buyers search
Sweater	Jumper
Pants	Trousers
Sneakers	Trainers
Purse	Handbag (a "purse" in the UK is a small wallet)
Vest	Waistcoat (a "vest" in the UK is an underwear top)
Suspenders	Braces
Zipper	Zip
Cleats	Football boots
Diaper bag	Changing bag
Stroller	Pushchair or pram
Comforter	Duvet
Flashlight	Torch
Faucet	Tap
Cell phone	Mobile phone

The K prompts

K1 eBay UK item specifics

Use it when: you are listing on eBay UK and want every relevant item specific filled in accurately. Paste this:

I am listing on eBay UK in the category [CATEGORY, E.G. WOMEN'S JUMPERS AND CARDIGANS]. Below are the item specifics fields eBay shows me for this category, and my Listing Brief.

Fill in each item specific using ONLY facts from my Listing Brief.

Rules:

1. UK English and UK sizes.
2. If the brief does not give the answer, write [CHECK: ...] and tell me how to find it (e.g. "on the care label", "on the base", "in the settings menu").
3. Never guess brand, material, model, year or country of manufacture.
4. Use the simple, standard wording buyers filter by (e.g. "Grey", not "dove grey heather"; "Crew Neck", not "rounded neckline").
5. Keep each value short (under 65 characters, and I will check the form's limit).
6. Do not put other brand names, hype words or keywords that do not describe the item into any field.
7. Output as a two-column table: Item specific | Value.
8. After the table, list up to 3 extra item specifics that buyers in this category often filter by, if eBay allows custom ones, using only facts from the brief.

eBay's item specific fields for my category:

[PASTE THE FIELD NAMES FROM THE EBAY LISTING FORM]

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a grey Next wool-blend jumper, size 12:

Item specific	Value
Brand	Next
Size	12
Size type	Regular
Colour	Grey
Type	Jumper

Item specific	Value
Neckline	Crew Neck
Sleeve length	Long Sleeve
Material	Polyester, Acrylic, Wool Blend
Pattern	Solid
Style	[CHECK: e.g. Pullover, from the brief]
Occasion	[CHECK: leave blank if unsure]
Country of manufacture	[CHECK: on the care label, or leave blank]

Extra ones buyers filter by: Fit: Regular [CHECK], Features: Ribbed cuffs.

Check before you post:

- Copy the field names straight from the eBay form, so the AI works with the fields your category really has.
- Leave a field blank rather than guess. A wrong specific can lead to a "not as described" case.
- Brand must be the item's real brand. "Unbranded" is fine.

K2 Etsy 13 tags

Use it when: you are listing on Etsy and want 13 honest, varied tags within the 20-character limit. Paste this:

Write 13 Etsy tags for the item in my Listing Brief below.

How to build them:

- Each tag up to 20 characters including spaces. Show the character count for each.
- Use multi-word phrases a UK buyer would actually type (e.g. "silver stacking ring" not just "ring").
- Cover different angles: what it is, material, style, colour, occasion or recipient (only if the brief supports it), and personalisation if offered.
- Do not repeat the exact title phrase in every tag. Vary the wording.
- Include UK spellings (personalised, jewellery, colour). If a US spelling is commonly searched too, you may use it in one tag at most.

Rules:

1. Use ONLY facts from my brief. Do not tag a material, style or use the item does not have.
2. No other brand names, trademarked characters or celebrity names.
3. No health or wellbeing words (healing, calming, anxiety).
4. "Vintage" only if the brief supports it and meets Etsy's current vintage rules.
5. No hype words (best, perfect, amazing).
6. Output as a numbered list. Then show the 13 tags as one comma-separated line so I can paste them quickly.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a handmade hammered sterling silver stacking ring:

1. silver stacking ring (20)
2. hammered silver ring (20)
3. sterling silver band (20)
4. thin silver ring (16)
5. minimalist ring (15)
6. handmade silver ring (20)
7. textured ring (13)
8. dainty silver ring (18)
9. everyday ring (13)
10. 925 silver ring (15)

11. simple stacking band (20)
12. hand forged ring (16)
13. womens silver ring (18)

silver stacking ring, hammered silver ring, sterling silver band, thin silver ring, minimalist ring, handmade silver ring, textured ring, dainty silver ring, everyday ring, 925 silver ring, simple stacking band, hand forged ring, womens silver ring

Check before you post:

- Count tags that look close to 20 characters. Etsy will not accept a longer one.
- "Hand forged" only if you forge it by hand. Every tag must be true.
- Fill in Etsy's attributes (colour, material, occasion) as well. They also help your item show up.

K3 Depop hashtags

Use it when: you are listing on Depop and want 5 relevant hashtags. Paste this:

Suggest 5 Depop hashtags for the item in my Listing Brief below, plus 3 spares.

Rules:

1. Depop allows up to 5 hashtags and asks for relevant words, brands and tags only. I will check the current limit in the app.
2. Each hashtag must honestly describe the item: its type, brand (only its own brand), colour, material, fit or a style the item really has.
3. Style or era tags (y2k, 90s, grunge, cottagecore, gorpcore) only if the item honestly fits them and my brief supports it. If you are not sure, leave them out and tell me.
4. No other brand names, no trend tags that do not fit, no hashtags about price or "fast selling".
5. Lower case, no spaces, UK spelling where it matters (e.g. #jumper).
6. For each, give a one-line reason so I can decide.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a brown suede Topshop jacket, size 10, 90s style:

1. #suedejacket (what it is)
2. #topshop (the item's own brand)
3. #brownsuede (colour and material)
4. #90sstyle (honest style word, era not claimed)
5. #croppedjacket (the fit)

Spares: #buttonfront, #womensjacket, #suede

Check before you post:

- Swap hashtags rather than add more than the limit.
- Brand hashtags must be the item's own brand, shown on the label in your photos.
- Fill in Depop's category, brand, size, colour and condition fields as well.

K4 Vinted fields and search words

Use it when: you are listing on Vinted and want every field filled in and the right search words in your title and description. Paste this:

I am listing on Vinted in the UK. Vinted uses structured fields rather than free tags, so help me get the fields and wording right.

Step 1. From my Listing Brief, give me the value for each Vinted field: Category (suggest the most specific path, e.g. Women > Clothing > Jumpers and sweaters > Jumpers), Brand, Size, Condition, Colour (main colour, and a second colour only if clearly true), Material.

Step 2. List 5 to 8 search words or short phrases UK buyers would type for this item. Tell me which already appear in my title or description, and suggest where the missing ones could go naturally (once each).

Step 3. Flag any word in my current title or description that is not supported by the brief, or that is another brand.

Rules:

1. UK English and UK sizes.
2. Use ONLY facts in my brief. Write [CHECK: ...] if something is missing.
3. Do not suggest repeating words or adding lists of keywords to the description.
4. Category paths change in the app. Tell me to pick the closest match I can see.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My current title and description (if written):

[PASTE HERE]

What good output looks like:

For black Levi's 501 jeans, W30 L32:

Fields: Category: Men > Clothing > Jeans > Straight fit jeans [CHECK: men's or women's, from the label]. Brand: Levi's. Size: W30 L32. Condition: Good. Colour: Black. Material: Cotton.

Search words: levis 501 (in title), black jeans (in title), straight leg jeans (in title), button fly jeans (in description), w30 jeans (add "W30" to title, already there), faded black jeans (could go in the description: "faded to a washed charcoal").

Flags: none.

Check before you post:

- Choose Vinted's category from the options you actually see. They do change.
- Match the condition field to your description (see Module 03's grading table).
- Brand must be selected from Vinted's list where it exists, so buyers who filter by brand find you.

K5 Amazon UK backend search terms

Use it when: you are a brand or seller filling in the backend "search terms" field on Amazon UK. Paste this:

Write backend search terms for my Amazon UK product listing.

Rules:

1. The field is commonly quoted as 250 bytes (not characters). For plain letters and spaces, 1 character is 1 byte, but accented letters and some symbols use more. Stay under 240 bytes to be safe and show the count. I will check the current limit in Seller Central.
2. Separate words with spaces. No commas, no punctuation.
3. Do not repeat any word already in my title, Item Highlights or bullets (listed below).
4. Do not repeat words within the field. No plurals of words already used unless they are genuinely different searches.
5. Include: synonyms, UK and US variants (e.g. jumper sweater), common misspellings buyers really make, and uses or occasions only if my brief supports them.
6. Do NOT include: other brand names, ASINs, temporary words (new, sale, on offer), subjective words (best, amazing), or offensive terms.
7. Use ONLY facts from my Listing Brief. No uses or features the product does not have.
8. Lower case.

My title, Item Highlights and bullets:

[PASTE THEM HERE]

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For "Hartwell Home" linen napkins, set of 4, sage green:

serviettes dinner fabric reusable washable dining kitchen flax natural textured square hemmed wedding christmas table setting

(125 bytes)

Not included: "napkins", "linen", "sage" and "green" (already in the title), and "tablecloth" (a different product).

Note: "wedding" and "christmas" are uses. Keep them only if your product is suitable and your brief supports it.

Check before you post:

- Use a byte counter (search "byte counter" for a free one) if your terms include accented letters or symbols.
- Remove any term that would disappoint a buyer who searched it.
- Never add other brands, even as "compatible with" terms, unless your category rules and the facts allow it.

K6 Buyer search phrase finder (from what you see)

Use it when: you want to know how buyers actually search for your item, using the suggestions the platform's own search bar shows you. Paste this:

I am selling [ITEM] on [PLATFORM] in the UK. I typed the start of a search into the platform's search bar and copied the suggestions it showed me. I also noted the titles of a few sold listings for similar items that I looked up myself.

Using ONLY the suggestions and titles below:

1. Group the search phrases into: what it is, brand and model, size, colour and material, style, condition.
2. Tell me which phrases honestly describe MY item (using my Listing Brief). Ignore any that do not fit.
3. Suggest where each fitting phrase should go: title, item specifics or fields, tags or hashtags, or description.
4. Point out any US spellings or words, and give the UK version.

Rules: UK English. Do not invent search data or say how popular a phrase is. Do not suggest words that are not true of my item. No other brands.

Search bar suggestions I saw:
[PASTE SUGGESTIONS]

Sold listing titles I looked up:
[PASTE TITLES]

My Listing Brief:
[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a Nintendo Switch Lite on eBay UK:

Phrase	Fits my item?	Where it goes
nintendo switch lite grey	Yes	Title
switch lite console	Yes	Title
switch lite with case	No, no case included	Leave out
switch lite boxed	Partly, box included but no inserts	Item specifics and description: "Boxed, no inserts"

Phrase	Fits my item?	Where it goes
switch lite turquoise	No, mine is grey	Leave out

Check before you post:

- Only copy suggestions and titles by hand from what you see. Do not use automated tools to collect data from platforms.
- Suggestions change over time. Repeat this for items you sell often.
- A search phrase only belongs in your listing if it is true of your item.

K7 Keyword stuffing checker

Use it when: you want a quick check that your title, tags or hashtags are honest and will not look like spam. Paste this:

Check my [PLATFORM] UK listing for keyword stuffing and misleading search words.

Check:

1. Any brand, character or product name that is not the item's own (including "style", "like", "similar to", "not X", "dupe").
2. Words repeated more than needed in the title, or repeated across title and backend fields where the platform advises against it.
3. Style, era or trend words not supported by my Listing Brief (vintage, y2k, 90s, designer, luxury).
4. Condition or authenticity words not supported by the brief (new, unworn, genuine, authentic, rare, limited).
5. Tags, hashtags or item specifics that do not describe the item.
6. Hidden lists of words in the description.

For each problem: quote it, say why it is a risk in one line, and give an honest replacement using only facts from my brief (or say "remove").

Then give a short verdict: "Ready to post" or "Fix first".

UK English. Do not invent facts.

My listing (title, description, tags or hashtags, item specifics):

[PASTE LISTING]

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

What good output looks like:

For a Vinted listing of an unbranded floral dress:

Problem	Why it is a risk	Replacement
"Zara style" in title	Another brand's name to attract searches. Misleading and can break platform rules	Remove
"vintage" in description	Brief gives no era	Remove, or "floral midi dress"
"#reformation" hashtag (in a cross-post to Depop)	Another brand	#floralmididress

Problem	Why it is a risk	Replacement
"dress" appears 4 times in the title	Stuffing, wastes space	"Floral midi dress, size 12, button front"

Verdict: Fix first.

Check before you post:

- Using another brand's name to attract buyers can breach platform rules and trademark rules. Remove it even if other sellers do it.
- Run this check on older listings too. They may have been written before you started using briefs.
- Honest listings with fewer words are better than long ones with wrong words.

K8 UK and US search word pairs for my category

Use it when: you sell a category where UK and US words differ and want a reference list for your tags, specifics and backend fields. Paste this:

I sell second-hand [CATEGORY] in the UK on [PLATFORM(S)]. Make me a reference table of search words for this category.

Columns: UK word | US or other word buyers might also use | Notes (where UK and US meanings differ, and could confuse a buyer).

Rules:

1. Up to 20 rows, most useful first.
2. Flag any word that means something different in the UK (e.g. vest, pants, purse, jumper dress) so I do not mislead a UK buyer.
3. Suggest where each word should go: title (UK word only), tags, hashtags or backend fields (either), or nowhere.
4. UK English. Do not include brand names.
5. Do not claim how popular any word is. I will check the platform's own search suggestions.

What good output looks like:

For baby and toddler gear:

UK word	Also used	Notes	Where
Pushchair	Stroller	Common in UK searches too	Title: pushchair. Tags or specifics: stroller
Pram	Baby carriage	"Pram" in the UK often means a lie-flat carrycot style	Only if it is a pram
Changing bag	Diaper bag	"Diaper" is not a UK word	Title: changing bag
Dummy	Pacifier		Tags
Nappy	Diaper		Title: nappy
Babygrow	Onesie, sleepsuit	Onesie in the UK can also mean an adult lounge suit	Title: babygrow or sleepsuit

Check before you post:

- UK words go in the title. Alternatives go in fields or tags where the platform allows, once each.
- Never use a word that would make a UK buyer expect something different.
- Save the table in your notes app and reuse it for every listing in that category.

Keywords checklist

- ☐ Every field, specific or attribute that applies is filled in
- ☐ Every word, tag and hashtag describes the item honestly
- ☐ Only the item's own brand, anywhere in the listing
- ☐ No repeated words to pad the title
- ☐ UK words in the title, alternatives only where they fit
- ☐ Within each platform's current limits (tags, hashtags, bytes)
- ☐ Nothing collected by scraping or automated tools

Next: Module 05 for photos, then Module 06 to price the item from sold listings you look up yourself.

05 Photos

Buyers cannot pick your item up. Your photos are the closest they get, so they do most of the describing before anyone reads a word.

AI cannot take your photos for you, but it is very good at three jobs:

- 1. Planning the shots so you do not forget the label, the flaw or the back.
- 2. Checking your photo set against your Listing Brief, so the pictures and the words agree.
- 3. Writing captions and alt text quickly.

Every prompt here starts from your Listing Brief (see module 01). Keep it open in your notes app and paste it in where the prompt says.

The one rule about edited and AI photos

Your photos must show the actual item you are sending, in its actual condition.

- Cropping, straightening and a little brightness are normal and fine.
- Removing a stain, a scratch or bobbling with an editing tool is not fine. Nor is changing the colour, adding a background that suggests something is included when it is not, or using an AI-generated "model" image that makes the item look different from the real one.
- Stock photos and photos copied from other listings or brand websites are not fine for second-hand items. They show someone else's item, not yours.

Platforms take this seriously, and rules differ:

Platform	What their rules say, in short
eBay UK	Photos must accurately represent the item. Stock photos are not allowed for used, damaged or defective items. No added borders, text or watermarks. You are responsible for content you create with AI tools.
Vinted	Use your own photos showing the item's current condition. No stock, watermarked or found-online images, no collages. Show the whole item first, show labels on branded items, and show any defects. Vinted's catalogue rules also say photos must show the item as it is, without editing.
Etsy	Listings must accurately represent what the buyer will receive. Etsy has specific rules on AI-assisted items and how to disclose AI use.

Platform	What their rules say, in short
TikTok Shop UK	Realistic AI images or video must be labelled, and AI must not make the product look different from reality (texture, features, size). No text or watermarks other than product branding.
Depop, Amazon UK	Both require images that accurately show the product. Amazon has strict main image rules (for example a pure white background and only what is included).

Rules change. Check the current rule in the platform's help pages before you use any AI editing or background tool. If in doubt, leave it out.

A misleading photo is also a fast route to an "item not as described" claim, which you will usually lose.

Quick reference: shot lists by category

Use this as a starting point. Prompt PH1 tailors it to your exact item.

Category	Must-have shots	Nice to have
Clothing	Front flat or on hanger, back, brand label, size label, care or material label, every flaw close up	Detail of buttons, zips, fabric texture, lining, measurements with tape
Shoes and boots	Pair side on, both soles, inside (insole and size), heel backs, toe caps, every scuff	Box if included, laces, top-down view
Electronics	Front, back, all ports, serial or model label, screen switched on, every scratch, everything included laid out	Battery health screen, test in use, original box
Homeware	Whole item, underside with any maker's mark, every chip or crack, scale (next to a common object)	In a plain room setting, detail of pattern
Books and media	Front cover, spine, back cover, copyright page (for edition), any marks, disc surface for CDs and DVDs	Page edges, inscription, dust jacket close up
Toys and collectables	Whole item, all parts laid out, box all sides, any maker's mark, every mark or missing part	Batteries compartment, working lights or sound in a short video

Category	Must-have shots	Nice to have
Handmade	Whole piece, detail of finish, scale, back or underside, every colour option you sell	Packaging, the piece in use

PH1 Shot list for my item

Use it when: you have written the Listing Brief and want a numbered shot list before you pick up your phone. Paste this:

You are an experienced UK marketplace seller helping me plan listing photos.

Here is my Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

I am listing on: [PLATFORM]

Most photos this platform allows (check the app): [NUMBER OR "NOT SURE"]

Write a numbered shot list for this exact item. For each shot give:

1. What to photograph.
2. The angle or distance.
3. Why a buyer needs it (one short line).

Rules:

- Use UK English.
- Base the list only on facts in my brief. If a shot depends on something the brief does not say (for example whether there is a box or a size label), write [CHECK: ...] instead of assuming.
- Put the main (cover) photo first, then the back, then labels, then every flaw listed in my brief, then details.
- Give every flaw in my brief its own shot.
- If I have more shots than the platform allows, mark which ones to combine or drop, and never drop a flaw shot.
- No filters, no editing that changes colour or hides wear. Say so at the end.
- Keep it short enough to read on a phone.

What good output looks like:

Item: Clarks black leather Chelsea boots, UK 6, light creasing across toes, small scuff on left heel.

1. Cover: pair side on, left boot in front, plain floor, phone at boot height. Shows shape and colour.
2. Front: both toes towards camera. Shows the toe creasing honestly.
3. Back: both heels. Shows heel wear and pull tabs.
4. Soles: both soles side by side, top down. Buyers judge wear from the soles.
5. Inside: size and brand stamp on insole. Proves size and brand.
6. Flaw: left heel scuff, close up, with a coin next to it for scale.
7. Flaw: toe creasing, close up, in daylight.
8. Detail: elastic side panel, stretched slightly. Shows it has not gone baggy.
[CHECK: is the elastic still firm?]

[CHECK: is there a box? If yes, add one shot of it.] No filters or editing that changes colour or hides wear.

Check before you post:

- Every flaw in your brief has its own photo.
- The cover photo shows the whole item, not a close up.
- Any [CHECK] notes are answered before you shoot.

PH2 Flaw photo checklist

Use it when: your item has any wear, marks or faults and you want to show them properly (this protects you as much as the buyer). Paste this:

Help me photograph the flaws on my item honestly and clearly.

Here is my Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Anything else I have noticed since writing the brief:

[EXTRA FLAWS, OR "NONE"]

Do the following:

1. List every flaw mentioned above as a checklist.
2. For each flaw, tell me how to photograph it so it is clearly visible: distance, angle, lighting, and what to put next to it for scale (a coin, a ruler or a tape measure).
3. Suggest a short caption for each flaw photo that matches the wording in my brief exactly.
4. List common places flaws hide on this type of item that my brief does not mention, as questions for me to check (for example "Have you checked the armpits for bobbling?"). Label these [CHECK: ...]. Do not assume they are flawed.

Rules: UK English. Do not describe any flaw as smaller or less noticeable than my brief says. No reassuring words like "barely noticeable" unless my brief uses them. Plain, factual wording only.

What good output looks like:

Item: grey Next wool-blend jumper, size 12, small bobbling under arms.

Flaw checklist

- ☐ Bobbling under both arms

How to shoot it: lay the jumper flat, lift one arm out to the side, shoot from about 20 cm in daylight from a window. Side light shows bobbling better than light from straight on. Put a ruler along the bobbled patch.

Caption: "Small bobbling under both arms, shown close up."

Also worth checking:

- [CHECK: any bobbling on the sides or front where a bag strap would rub?]
- [CHECK: cuffs stretched or marked?]

- [CHECK: any small holes? Hold it up to a window.]
- [CHECK: any smell, such as smoke or perfume? Mention it in the description if so.]

Check before you post:

- The flaw is visible at phone screen size, not just when zoomed in.
- Captions use the same words as your description.
- Anything new you find goes into your Listing Brief too.

PH3 Phone lighting and background plan

Use it when: you are photographing at home with just a phone and want better, more accurate colour without buying kit. Paste this:

I photograph listings on my phone at home. Help me set up for this item.

Here is my Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My set-up:

- Phone: [PHONE MODEL, OR "NOT SURE"]
- Time I usually shoot: [E.G. WEEKDAY EVENINGS]
- Space I have: [E.G. SMALL BEDROOM, WINDOW FACING NORTH]
- Things I own that could be a background: [E.G. WHITE DUVET COVER, GREY WALL, WOODEN FLOOR]

Give me:

1. The best place and time to shoot, using the window light I have.
2. Which of my backgrounds suits this item's colour and why.
3. Five phone camera tips in plain English (focus, exposure, lens cleaning, avoiding zoom, avoiding flash glare).
4. How to check the colour in the photo matches the real item before I post.
5. What to do if I must shoot after dark, using only ordinary household lamps.

Rules: UK English, no jargon, short numbered steps. Do not recommend buying anything. Do not suggest any editing that changes the item's colour or hides wear.

What good output looks like:

Item: mustard yellow cotton cardigan, size M.

1. Where and when: shoot near your north-facing window in daylight, ideally at the weekend. North light is soft and even, which suits a strong colour like mustard.
2. Background: the grey wall. White can make mustard look darker than it is, and wood will clash.
3. Tips: wipe the lens on your top first. Tap the screen on the cardigan to focus. Slide the brightness down slightly if the colour looks washed out. Step closer rather than zooming. Flash off.
4. Colour check: hold the cardigan next to your phone screen in the same light. If the photo looks more orange or paler, retake it rather than editing the colour.
5. After dark: turn off the main ceiling light, use two lamps either side at the same height, and say "photographed in lamplight, colour may look slightly warmer" only if it genuinely does.

Check before you post:

- The colour on screen matches the item in daylight.
- Nothing in the background could be mistaken as included.

PH4 Photo set audit

Use it when: you have taken your photos and want a second pair of eyes to spot gaps before you post. Paste this:

Check my photo set against my Listing Brief before I post.

Here is my Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Here is a plain description of each photo I have taken, in order:

1. [DESCRIBE PHOTO 1, E.G. "FRONT OF JUMPER, FLAT ON BED"]
2. [DESCRIBE PHOTO 2]
3. [ADD MORE LINES AS NEEDED]

(If your AI tool accepts images, you can upload the photos instead. Only upload photos of the item, never anything showing addresses, faces or personal documents.)

Tell me:

1. Missing shots: anything a buyer would expect for this item that is not in my set.
2. Mismatches: anything in the photos that contradicts the brief (for example a flaw shown but not in the brief, or an item in shot that is not included in the sale).
3. Order: the best order for these photos, with the cover photo first.
4. Privacy: anything in the background I should crop out (post, family photos, house number, reflections).

Rules: UK English. Only comment on what I have described or shown. If you cannot tell something, write [CHECK: ...]. Be direct and brief.

What good output looks like:

Item: Tefal 1.7 litre kettle, white, limescale inside, small chip on lid.

Missing: a photo of the base plate and plug, and one of the inside showing the limescale (it is in your brief, so show it). Mismatch: photo 3 shows two mugs next to the kettle. Buyers may think they are included. Retake without them or say clearly they are not included. Order: 1 (front), 4 (lid chip close up moved up), 2 (back), then base. Privacy: photo 2 shows a letter on the worktop. Crop it out or retake. [CHECK: does the kettle still boil? If yes, a short video of it boiling helps.]

Check before you post:

- Nothing in any photo suggests something is included when it is not.
- No post, faces, number plates or house numbers anywhere in the frame (including reflections in shiny items).

PH5 Photo captions

Use it when: your platform lets you add a caption or short text to each photo, or you want matching lines to use in the description. Paste this:

Write one short caption for each of my listing photos.

Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My photos, in order:

1. [DESCRIBE PHOTO 1]
2. [DESCRIBE PHOTO 2]
3. [ADD MORE AS NEEDED]

Rules:

- UK English, 12 words or fewer per caption.
- Plain and factual. Say what the photo shows, not how great it is.
- Flaw captions must use the same wording as my brief and must not play the flaw down.
- Only use facts from the brief. If a caption needs a fact I have not given, write [CHECK: ...].
- No hype words (stunning, gorgeous, must-have, rare), no emojis, no exclamation marks.

What good output looks like:

Item: Le Creuset 20 cm cast iron casserole, Volcanic orange, light marks on enamel inside.

1. Front view, 20 cm casserole in Volcanic orange.
2. Lid on, handles both sides shown.
3. Inside: light marks on the enamel, see close up.
4. Close up of marks on the base of the inside.

5. Underside with size stamp. [CHECK: what number is stamped?]
6. Next to a 1 litre milk bottle for scale.

Check before you post:

- Captions match the description word for word on flaws.
- Nothing says "rare", "vintage" or "authentic" unless you can back it up.

PH6 Alt text for listing photos

Use it when: your platform or your own shop has an alt text box (a short written description of an image for people using screen readers). Etsy and most web shops have one. Paste this:

Write alt text for each of my product photos.

Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Photos, in order:

1. [DESCRIBE PHOTO 1]
2. [DESCRIBE PHOTO 2]
3. [ADD MORE AS NEEDED]

Character limit for alt text on my platform (check the help pages): [NUMBER OR "NOT SURE"]

Rules:

- UK English. Describe what is in the image plainly, as if to someone who cannot see it: item, colour, angle, and any flaw shown.
- Do not start with "Image of" or "Photo of".
- Do not stuff keywords or repeat the title. Alt text is for people, not search.
- Only use facts from my brief. If you need a detail I have not given (such as the exact colour), write [CHECK: ...].
- If I have not given a limit, keep each one under 125 characters.

What good output looks like:

Item: handmade blue ceramic mug, speckled glaze, 350 ml.

1. Speckled blue ceramic mug with a curved handle, side view on a wooden table.
2. Top view inside the mug showing the pale blue glaze and darker speckles.
3. Unglazed base with a stamped maker's mark. [CHECK: what does the mark say?]
4. Mug held in a hand to show size, roughly the height of a palm.

Check before you post:

- Each line describes the photo, not the sales pitch.
- No list of search terms tacked on the end.

PH7 Is this edit OK?

Use it when: you are tempted to use a background remover, a "magic eraser", an AI model or any AI photo tool, and want to check it will not misrepresent the item. Paste this:

I want to edit a listing photo. Tell me whether the edit risks misrepresenting my item.

Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Platform: [PLATFORM]

The original photo shows: [DESCRIBE THE ORIGINAL]

The edit I want to make: [E.G. REPLACE MESSY BEDROOM BACKGROUND WITH PLAIN WHITE / REMOVE A HAIR / PUT JUMPER ON AI MODEL]

The tool I would use: [TOOL NAME OR TYPE]

Answer in three parts:

1. Risk: low, medium or high that the edit changes how the item looks (colour, condition, size, shape, what is included). Explain in one or two lines.
2. Safer option: a way to get a similar result without editing the item itself (for example reshooting on a plain sheet).
3. Platform rule: remind me that I must check the current photo and AI rules in the [PLATFORM] help pages. Do not state specific rules as fact unless I have pasted them in below.

Platform rule text I have copied from the help pages (optional):

[PASTE RULE TEXT, OR "NONE"]

Rules: UK English. Be honest, not reassuring. If the edit would hide or reduce any flaw in my brief, say plainly that I should not do it.

What good output looks like:

Item: cream Zara linen shirt, size S, faint mark on left cuff. Edit: remove background and use an AI model wearing the shirt.

1. Risk: high. An AI model image generates a new version of the shirt. The fit, colour and creases may change, and the cuff mark may disappear. That misrepresents the actual item.
2. Safer option: hang the shirt on a door against a plain wall, shoot in daylight, and include the cuff close up. If you want to show fit, give chest and length measurements.

3. Platform rule: check the current photo and AI rules in Vinted's help pages before using any editing tool. If you post edited images, the real flaws must still be clearly visible in your own unedited photos.

Check before you post:

- At least one unedited photo of the real item is in the set.
- Every flaw from your brief is still visible after any edit.
- You have checked the platform's current photo rules.

PH8 Choose my cover photo

Use it when: you have several decent shots and want to pick the first one buyers see in search. Paste this:

Help me choose the cover (first) photo for my listing.

Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Platform: [PLATFORM]

My candidate photos:

A. [DESCRIBE PHOTO A]

B. [DESCRIBE PHOTO B]

C. [DESCRIBE PHOTO C]

Pick one and explain why in two lines. Judge on: the whole item is visible, colour looks true, background is plain, the item fills most of the frame, and it would still be clear as a small square thumbnail on a phone.

Then say what one change would make the winning photo better when I reshoot.

Rules: UK English. Do not suggest adding text, borders, stickers or badges to the photo (many platforms do not allow them). Do not suggest hiding flaws in the cover photo by angle alone if the flaw is major; say so if it is.

What good output looks like:

Item: Lego Creator 3 in 1 set, built, box included, one missing minifigure.

Pick: B (built model on a plain white sheet, front on). The whole model is visible and it reads clearly as a thumbnail. A has the box cut off, and C is too dark. One change: step back slightly so there is a small gap around the model on all sides, as square crops can cut the edges. The missing minifigure is a major point, so show it in photo 2 and put it in the first line of the description.

Check before you post:

- The cover photo shows the item you are selling, not a box or a stock image.
- Major flaws are shown early in the photo set, not hidden at the end.

06 Pricing

Pricing is where most sellers guess. These prompts replace the guess with a quick, written reason you can stand behind.

We are honest about what they do: they help you set a sensible price from real evidence and do the sums properly. They cannot promise a sale, a profit or a particular price. Buyers decide that.

The rule: you find the sold prices, the AI does the maths

AI chat tools do not know what your item sold for last week. If you ask "what is this worth?" with nothing else, you get a confident guess. Do not use it.

Instead:

- 1. Look up sold listings yourself on the platform you are selling on. On eBay, search for your item and turn on the "Sold items" filter. On other apps, look for items marked as sold, and remember that an asking price is not a sold price.
- 2. Copy the details of 5 to 10 comparable items into your notes app: title, sold price, postage, condition, and the date if you can see it. Matching items are better than lots of items.
- 3. Paste them into the prompt along with your Listing Brief.

Please do not use scraping tools, bots or browser add-ons that harvest listings automatically. Most platforms' terms forbid it, and you do not need it. Ten minutes of looking gives you better comps anyway, because you can see which items actually match yours.

What makes a good comp

Good comp	Weak comp
Same brand, model or style	"Similar" items from a different brand
Same or similar size	Different size (especially children's clothes and shoes)
Similar condition	New with tags against your well-worn item
Sold in the last few months	Sold two years ago

Good comp	Weak comp
Sold price with postage noted	Asking price on an unsold listing

R1 Tidy my sold comps

Use it when: you have copied a messy pile of sold listings into your notes and want them in a clean table before pricing. Paste this:

I have copied some sold listings I found myself. Put them into a clean table so I can compare them with my item.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Sold listings I copied (paste exactly as copied, messy is fine):

[PASTE YOUR SOLD LISTINGS HERE]

Make a table with these columns: Title (shortened), Sold price £, Postage £ (or "free" or [CHECK]), Total paid £, Condition, Size or model, Date sold (or [CHECK]), Match to my item (Good, Partial, Poor) and a one-line reason.

Rules:

- UK English, prices in pounds.
- Only use numbers that appear in what I pasted. Never invent a price, date or condition. If a detail is missing, write [CHECK].
- If something looks like an asking price rather than a sold price, flag it with [CHECK: sold or asking?].
- Put Good matches first.
- Below the table, list any comps I should drop and why, in one line each.

What good output looks like:

Item: grey Next wool-blend jumper, size 12, small bobbling under arms.

Title	Sold £	Postage £	Total £	Condition	Size	Date	Match
Next grey wool blend jumper	12.00	2.99	14.99	Good	12	3 weeks ago	Good: same style and size
Next grey crew neck knit	10.50	free	10.50	Good	14	[CHECK]	Partial: one size up
Next wool mix jumper grey NWT	22.00	3.20	25.20	New with tags	12	1 month ago	Poor: new, yours is worn

Drop: the NWT one. New with tags is not comparable with a worn jumper with bobbling.

(Example figures only, invented for illustration.)

Check before you post:

- Every price in the table is one you actually saw.
- You have at least three Good matches before moving on to R2.

R2 Price from my sold comps

Use it when: you have your tidied comps and want a list price, a realistic range and a floor. Paste this:

Suggest a price for my item using only the sold listings I have found.

My Listing Brief (includes my price floor, the lowest I will accept):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Platform: [PLATFORM]

Do buyers pay postage on top, or is it included in my price? [ON TOP / INCLUDED]

My sold comps (ideally the table from R1):

[PASTE COMPS HERE]

Give me:

1. The sold price range from the Good matches only (lowest to highest), and the middle (median) value.
2. How my item compares: better, same or worse condition than the Good matches, based only on my brief.
3. A suggested list price, a likely accepted price, and my floor from the brief. If my floor is above what the comps support, say so plainly.
4. Two or three lines of reasoning I could save in my notes.

Rules:

- UK English, pounds, show your working in simple sums.
- Use only the numbers I pasted. Do not use outside knowledge of prices.
- If I have fewer than three Good matches, say the evidence is thin and tell me what to search for.
- Do not promise the item will sell, or at what price. Say "based on these comps" not "this will sell for".
- Write ranges as "£10 to £14", never with a dash.

What good output looks like:

Item: Clarks black leather Chelsea boots, UK 6, light toe creasing, small heel scuff.
Floor £18.

1. Good matches sold for £20 to £32. Median £25.
2. Your condition: similar to most Good matches. The heel scuff puts you slightly below the two best ones.
3. List at £28, expect offers around £22 to £25, floor £18. Your floor sits comfortably below the range.

4. Reasoning: five Good matches, median £25. Listing a little above median leaves room for offers. Scuff disclosed, so no surprises for the buyer.

Based on these comps only. Buyers set the final price.

Check before you post:

- The range comes only from your pasted comps.
- Your floor still covers fees and postage (use R7 to check).

R3 Adjust for condition and extras

Use it when: your item is not quite like the comps (better or worse condition, missing box, extra accessories) and you want a fair adjustment. Paste this:

My item is different from the comps I found. Help me adjust the price fairly.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My closest sold comps:

[PASTE COMPS HERE]

How my item differs from these comps (in my own words):

[E.G. "NO ORIGINAL BOX, BUT COMES WITH A SPARE CHARGER" / "MINE HAS A SMALL CHIP, THEIRS DID NOT"]

Do the following:

1. List each difference and whether it pushes the price up, down or makes no clear difference, with a one-line reason a buyer would recognise.
2. If the comps themselves show the effect (for example boxed sold higher than unboxed), use those numbers and show the sum. If they do not, say "the comps do not show this" and give a cautious suggestion, clearly labelled as a judgement, not evidence.
3. Give an adjusted list price and floor.

Rules: UK English, pounds. Only use numbers I have pasted. Never guess a "collector's value". Do not tell me to describe the item as better than my brief says.

What good output looks like:

Item: Nintendo Switch Lite, turquoise, working, light scratches on screen, no box, includes case.

1. No box: down. In your comps, boxed ones sold at £95 and £100, unboxed at £82 and £85. Roughly £12 to £15 less.
2. Light screen scratches: down. Your comps do not show this clearly.
Judgement: buyers are cautious with screens, so price towards the lower end of unboxed.
3. Includes case: small plus, but the comps do not show a clear difference.

Adjusted list price £85, floor £75.

(Example figures only, invented for illustration.)

Check before you post:

- Differences are in your description too (no box, scratches, extras).
- Judgement calls are labelled as judgement in your own notes.

R4 Bundle pricing

Use it when: you want to sell several items together, or a buyer asks for a bundle price.

Paste this:

Help me price a bundle.

Items in the bundle (one short Listing Brief or line each, with my individual list price and floor):

[PASTE ITEMS HERE]

Platform: [PLATFORM]

Postage for the bundle as one parcel: £[AMOUNT OR "NOT SURE"]

Postage if sent separately (total): £[AMOUNT OR "NOT SURE"]

Does the platform have its own bundle discount tool I have switched on? [YES, WITH % / NO / NOT SURE]

Give me:

1. The total of individual list prices and the total of floors.
2. The postage saving from sending one parcel (if I gave both figures).
3. A suggested bundle price and the lowest bundle price I should accept, keeping every item at or above its floor in total.
4. A one-line reason I can send the buyer, based on the postage saving and my time, without pressure.

Rules: UK English, pounds, show the sums. Use only my numbers. If postage is missing, write [CHECK: postage] and do the sum without it. Do not use pressure wording such as "today only" or "last chance".

What good output looks like:

Bundle: three children's Frugi tops age 4 to 5 (£8, £8, £7 list; £6, £6, £5 floor).

1. List total £23. Floor total £17.
2. Postage saving: £3.20 as one parcel against £8.40 separately, so £5.20 saved.
3. Suggested bundle price £19, accept down to £17.
4. Line to send: "I can do all three for £19. They go in one parcel, so it saves on postage for both of us."

(Example figures only, invented for illustration.)

Check before you post:

- The bundle price is at or above the total of your floors.
 - If the platform applies its own bundle discount on top, you have included it in your sums.
-

R5 Offer strategy

Use it when: you want to decide in advance what offers to accept, counter or decline, so you are not deciding at 11pm with a lowballer waiting. Paste this:

Help me set an offer plan for this listing.

My Listing Brief (includes my floor):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Platform: [PLATFORM]

My list price: £[AMOUNT]

My reasoning from comps (optional, e.g. from R2): [PASTE OR "NONE"]

Does the platform let me set automatic accept or decline levels? [YES / NO / NOT SURE]

Give me a simple plan:

1. Accept straight away at or above: £...
2. Counter-offer if between: £... and £..., with the counter price I should send.
3. Politely decline below: £...
4. If auto accept or decline is available, the levels I could set (and a reminder to check the settings in the app).
5. One short, polite line for each case that I could send.

Rules: UK English, pounds. Never go below my floor. Do not suggest fake scarcity or pressure ("someone else is interested", "ends tonight") unless I tell you it is true. Keep replies friendly and brief.

What good output looks like:

Item: Le Creuset 20 cm casserole, list £65, floor £48.

1. Accept at £58 or more.
2. Counter offers from £48 to £57 at £56.
3. Decline below £48.
4. Auto settings: accept £58, decline under £45 (a little below your floor so you still see near misses). Check how your app's offer settings work.
5. Lines:
 - Accept: "Thanks, happy to accept. It will be posted within [CHECK: dispatch time]."
 - Counter: "Thanks for the offer. The lowest I can do is £56, as it is heavy to post."

- Decline: "Thanks, but that is too low for me. You are welcome to make another offer."

Check before you post:

- Every figure is at or above your floor.
- Any reason you give (like heavy postage) is true.

R6 Planned price drop schedule

Use it when: an item has not sold and you want a calm plan for reducing it, rather than panic-dropping or leaving it forever. Paste this:

Make a price drop plan for an item that has not sold yet.

My Listing Brief (includes my floor):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Platform: [PLATFORM]

Current price: £[AMOUNT]

Listed for: [NUMBER] days

Views, likes or watchers so far (if the app shows them): [NUMBERS OR "NOT SURE"]

My sold comps (optional): [PASTE OR "NONE"]

Give me:

1. First, a quick check of things other than price that could be holding it back (cover photo, title, missing measurements, postage cost). Base this only on my brief, and write [CHECK: ...] for anything you cannot see.
2. A drop plan with dates in weeks from today, the price at each step, and the point where I stop at my floor.
3. What to do if it still has not sold at the floor (bundle it, relist fresh with new photos, sell elsewhere, donate).

Rules: UK English, pounds. Never go below my floor. Keep drops simple (round numbers). Do not tell me any step will make it sell. If my platform lets me send offers to people who liked or watched the item, mention it as an option to check in the app, not as a guarantee.

What good output looks like:

Item: cream Zara linen shirt, size S, listed 21 days at £14, 40 views, 2 likes, floor £8.

1. Check first: your brief has no chest measurement [CHECK: add pit to pit and length]. Linen creases, so check the cover photo is not crumpled.
2. Plan:
 - Week 1: fix measurements and cover photo, keep at £14.
 - Week 2: £12. Consider sending an offer to the two likers if the app allows it.
 - Week 4: £10.
 - Week 6: £8 (floor). Stop here.
3. If still unsold: bundle it with other size S linen, relist with fresh photos in spring, or donate.

Check before you post:

- The plan stops at your floor.
- You fix any listing problems before dropping the price.

R7 Fee and postage maths

Use it when: you want to know what you actually keep after fees, postage and packaging, before you set a price or accept an offer. Paste this:

Work out what I keep from a sale. I will give you the current fees myself.

Platform: [PLATFORM]

Sale price: £[AMOUNT]

Postage the buyer pays: £[AMOUNT OR "NONE, INCLUDED IN PRICE"]

My actual postage cost: £[AMOUNT]

Packaging cost: £[AMOUNT OR "0"]

Fees I copied from the platform's current fee page today (paste exactly, e.g. percentage, fixed fee per order, whether it applies to postage too, payment processing):

[PASTE CURRENT FEE DETAILS HERE]

What I paid for the item (optional): £[AMOUNT OR "NOT SURE"]

Show me, as a simple table:

1. Money in (sale plus postage paid by buyer).
 2. Each fee, with the sum shown.
 3. Postage and packaging out.
 4. What I keep.
 5. If I gave a cost price: what is left after that cost.
- Then tell me the lowest sale price at which I would still keep £[TARGET AMOUNT] after costs, using the same fees.

Rules:

- UK English, pounds, round to the nearest penny.
- Use ONLY the fee details I pasted. Do not use fees from your own knowledge, they may be out of date. If my fee details are unclear, write [CHECK: ...] and explain what is unclear.
- This is a sum, not advice. Do not call the result "profit" unless I gave a cost price, and do not promise any outcome.
- Remind me that fees and rules change, so I should check the platform's current fee page each time.

What good output looks like:

Item: Tefal kettle. Sale £15, buyer pays £3.50 postage, actual postage £3.20, packaging £0.30. Fees pasted by the seller (invented for this example): 10% of total including postage, plus £0.30 per order.

Line	Sum	£
Money in	15.00 + 3.50	18.50
Percentage fee	10% of 18.50	1.85
Fixed fee		0.30
Postage out		3.20
Packaging		0.30
You keep	18.50 minus 5.65	12.85

To keep at least £10 with these fees, the lowest sale price is about £11.84 [shown working: $(10 + 0.30 + 3.20 + 0.30)$ divided by 0.9, minus 3.50]. Fees and rules change: check the platform's current fee page before relying on this.

(The fee figures above are invented to show the maths. They are not any platform's real fees.)

Check before you post:

- You pasted today's fees from the platform's own help pages.
- You weighed the parcel and checked the real postage price.
- You noted whether you sell as a private seller or a business, as fees can differ (check the current fee page).

R8 Is it worth listing on its own?

Use it when: you have a low-value item and are not sure whether to list it alone, bundle it, or let it go. Paste this:

Help me decide whether this item is worth listing on its own.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Sold comps I found (optional): [PASTE OR "NONE"]

What I keep from a sale at that price (from R7, optional): £[AMOUNT OR "NOT SURE"]

Roughly how long listing, messaging and packing takes me per item: [MINUTES]

Other similar items I have that could go with it: [LIST OR "NONE"]

Compare four options in a short table: list alone, bundle with similar items, list as part of a job lot, or donate or recycle. For each, give: effort, likely money kept (only from my numbers, otherwise [CHECK]), and one line on when it makes sense.

Then give a one-line recommendation.

Rules: UK English, pounds. Only use my numbers. Do not promise anything will sell. Be practical, not preachy.

What good output looks like:

Item: paperback thriller, good condition. Comps £2 to £3 sold. You keep about £0.60 after postage. 15 minutes per item.

Option	Effort	Money kept	When it makes sense
Alone	15 min	about £0.60	Rarely, unless it is a sought-after edition
Bundle of 5 same author	20 min	[CHECK: find bundle comps]	When you have a set
Job lot of 20	30 min	[CHECK]	Clearing a shelf
Donate	5 min	£0	When time matters more

Recommendation: hold it back for a same-author bundle, and search sold bundles before pricing.

(Example figures only, invented for illustration.)

Check before you post:

- Bundle and job lot titles still list every item accurately.
- Job lot photos show everything included.

07 Buyer messages

Messages eat evenings. "Is this still available?", the £3 offer on a £20 coat, the parcel stuck in a depot, the return request you are not sure you have to accept.

These prompts help you reply quickly, politely and correctly. They are built on three rules:

1. Be polite, brief and factual. You are writing for the buyer and, if it ever gets that far, for the platform's support team reading the thread later.
2. Stay on the platform. Every message and every payment goes through the app.
3. Respect the buyer's rights. Never refuse a legal right or a platform protection, and never pressure anyone about feedback.

This module is practical guidance, not legal advice. If a dispute is serious, check the platform's help pages, gov.uk or Citizens Advice.

Privacy: never paste the buyer's personal details into the AI

When you paste a buyer's message into an AI tool, remove their name, username, address, phone number, email and order number first. Replace them with [BUYER] or [ORDER]. The AI does not need them to write a good reply, and you should not be sharing someone else's personal data with a third-party tool. Paste your reply back into the app and add the name there if you want to.

Also remove anything personal about you, such as your home address or surname.

Never move payment off the platform

If a buyer asks to pay by bank transfer, PayPal "friends and family", cash on collection arranged by message, or to "message me on WhatsApp", the answer is no.

- It removes the buyer's protection and yours.
- It is how many scams start.
- eBay's rules, for example, do not allow offers to buy or sell outside eBay, or sharing contact details before a sale is completed. Other platforms have similar rules. Check the current rule in the platform's help pages.

Use the platform's own offer, bundle or private offer tools instead. Template 12 below gives you a ready reply.

Returns: private sellers and traders are different

This is the part most sellers get wrong, in both directions. Here is the short version. Check the current details on gov.uk or Citizens Advice.

First, which are you? If you are clearing out your own things, you are usually a private seller. If you buy items to resell for profit, or make items to sell, you are likely to be a trader (a business) in law, even if you use a personal account. The platform's reporting to HMRC is a separate question from this. If you are not sure, read the guidance on gov.uk.

	Private seller	Trader (business seller)
Item must match your description	Yes	Yes
Item must be of satisfactory quality and fit for purpose	Not in the same way. The main rule is "as described", so describe faults honestly	Yes, under the Consumer Rights Act 2015
Buyer can reject a faulty item for a refund	Only if it was not as described	Yes, generally within 30 days (the "short-term right to reject")
Buyer can cancel an online order for any reason	No legal right to do this	Yes, generally 14 days from the day after delivery, then 14 more days to send it back (Consumer Contracts Regulations 2013). Some exceptions, such as personalised items
Refund timing on cancellation	Not applicable	Generally within 14 days of getting the item back or proof it was sent, including the original standard delivery charge
Can "no returns" in the listing stop this?	It stops change-of-mind returns	No. A trader cannot remove these legal rights

Platform protection sits on top of the law. Even as a private seller with "no returns", platform buyer protection can still apply:

- eBay UK: the eBay Money Back Guarantee lets buyers ask for a refund if an item does not arrive, is faulty or damaged, or does not match the listing, even when the seller does not accept returns. Buyers generally have 30 days from delivery.
- Vinted Pro: Vinted is for private second-hand selling, and traders are expected to use Vinted Pro. Vinted's Pro terms require Pro sellers to accept returns within 14 days of receipt.

- Vinted: buyers have a short window after Vinted says the parcel should have arrived (2 days at the time of writing) to report an issue under Buyer Protection. If they do not, the order completes.
- Depop, Etsy, Amazon UK and TikTok Shop UK each have their own buyer protection and returns rules.

Rules and time limits change. Check the current rule in the platform's help pages before you reply to any return or refund request.

The practical upshot: an honest listing with every flaw described and photographed is your best protection. If it was as described, you are on firm ground. If it was not, the fair and usually required thing is to sort it out.

M1 Reply to any buyer message

Use it when: you have a message that does not fit the other prompts, or you just want a quick, polite reply. Paste this:

Help me reply to a buyer on [PLATFORM]. I have removed their name and personal details.

My Listing Brief (for facts about the item):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

I sell as a: [PRIVATE SELLER / BUSINESS]

Buyer's message:

[PASTE MESSAGE, WITH NAMES AND DETAILS REPLACED BY [BUYER]]

What I want to say in my own words (rough is fine):

[E.G. "YES I CAN POST TOMORROW BUT NOT BEFORE"]

Write one reply.

Rules:

- UK English, friendly and brief (under 60 words unless the situation needs more). No emojis unless I ask.
- Only state facts from my brief or my notes. If the buyer asks something I have not answered, write [CHECK: ...] instead of guessing.
- Keep everything on the platform. Never suggest paying, messaging or meeting off the platform.
- Do not promise delivery dates I have not given.
- Do not refuse any legal right or platform protection. If the message is about returns, refunds or a problem with the item, say so and suggest I use the specific prompt for it.
- Do not mention feedback or reviews.

What good output looks like:

Buyer: "Hi, does this come from a smoke free home? And can you post Saturday?"

Seller notes: yes smoke free, I post Mondays and Thursdays.

"Hi, thanks for asking. Yes, it comes from a smoke-free home. I post on Mondays and Thursdays, so if you buy before Monday it will go out then. [CHECK: pet-free too? Add if true.]"

Check before you post:

- Names, addresses and order numbers were removed before pasting.
 - Every fact in the reply is true.
-

M2 "Is this still available?"

Use it when: you get the classic question, and want a reply that answers it and gently moves things along. Paste this:

A buyer on [PLATFORM] has asked if my item is still available. Write a short, friendly reply.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Is it still available? [YES / NO, SOLD / ON HOLD FOR SOMEONE ELSE]

When I can post: [E.G. "NEXT WORKING DAY"]

Anything useful to add: [E.G. "HAPPY TO SEND MORE PHOTOS" / "NONE"]

Rules:

- UK English, under 40 words, one clear sentence answering the question first.
- If available, add one useful fact (posting time or one key detail from the brief) and an easy next step using the platform's tools (buy now, make an offer).
- No pressure or fake urgency ("lots of interest", "going fast") unless I have told you it is true.
- Only use facts from my brief.

What good output looks like:

"Hi, yes it is still available. It is a UK 6 and I can post the next working day after purchase. Happy to send extra photos if useful."

Check before you post:

- The item really is still available on every platform you cross-list on.
 - No urgency you cannot back up.
-

M3 Lowball offer

Use it when: someone offers far below your price and you want to stay polite without giving the item away. Paste this:

A buyer on [PLATFORM] has made an offer much lower than my price. Help me reply.

My Listing Brief (includes my floor):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My list price: £[AMOUNT]

Their offer: £[AMOUNT]

What I want to do: [COUNTER AT £... / DECLINE POLITELY / ASK WHAT THEY HAD IN MIND]

Any true reason that supports my price (optional): [E.G. "SOLD COMPS AROUND £25", "HEAVY TO POST"]

Write two versions: one friendly counter-offer and one polite decline. Each under 50 words.

Rules:

- UK English, warm and calm. Never sarcastic, never lecture the buyer about value.
- Never go below my floor.
- Only give reasons I have supplied. Do not invent other buyers or deadlines.
- Suggest using the platform's offer button for any counter, so the deal stays on the platform.

What good output looks like:

Item: Le Creuset casserole, list £65, floor £48, offer £20.

Counter: "Thanks for the offer. £20 is a bit too low for me, as similar ones have sold for more. I could do £55 if that helps, and I will send it through the offer button."

Decline: "Thanks for your interest, but I cannot go that low on this one. You are welcome to make another offer."

Check before you post:

- The counter is above your floor.
- Your stated reason is true (you actually looked at comps).

M4 Bundle request

Use it when: a buyer wants several of your items and asks for a deal. Paste this:

A buyer on [PLATFORM] wants to buy several of my items together. Help me reply with a bundle price.

The items (title, list price and floor for each):
[PASTE ITEMS HERE]

Postage as one parcel: £[AMOUNT OR "NOT SURE"]

Bundle price I am happy with (or ask the AI to use prompt R4 first): £[AMOUNT]

How the platform handles bundles: [E.G. "BUYER ADDS ITEMS TO A BUNDLE AND I SEND AN OFFER" / "NOT SURE"]

Write a reply under 60 words that:

1. Confirms which items (by short name).
2. Gives the bundle price and says whether postage is included.
3. Tells them how to buy using the platform's bundle or offer tool.

Rules: UK English, friendly. Keep it on the platform. Never go below the total of my floors. If the platform process is "NOT SURE", write [CHECK: how bundles work on this app] rather than guessing.

What good output looks like:

"Hi, happy to do all three Frugi tops (stripe, dinosaur and navy) for £19 plus postage, all in one parcel. If you add them to a bundle, I will send you an offer for that price."

Check before you post:

- The item names match your listings.
 - You have checked the combined parcel fits the postage size you quoted.
-

M5 Postage questions

Use it when: a buyer asks about postage cost, speed, tracking, collection or sending abroad. Paste this:

A buyer on [PLATFORM] has asked about postage. Help me reply.

My Listing Brief (includes postage details):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Buyer's question (personal details removed):

[PASTE QUESTION]

My postage facts:

- Service I use: [E.G. "TRACKED 48"]
- Cost to buyer: £[AMOUNT OR "SET BY THE APP"]
- How soon I post after payment: [E.G. "NEXT WORKING DAY"]
- Do I post outside the UK? [YES / NO]
- Do I allow collection? [YES, AND HOW THE PLATFORM HANDLES IT / NO]

Write a reply under 60 words.

Rules:

- UK English. Only give postage facts I have listed. If the answer is not in my facts, write [CHECK: ...].
- Never promise a delivery date. Say when I will post it and the service's usual time, "usually" not "guaranteed".
- If the buyer asks for collection, only offer it if I said yes, and keep payment on the platform.
- Do not suggest undervaluing, mislabelling or marking anything as a gift on customs forms.

What good output looks like:

Buyer: "Could you send it first class? I need it for Friday."

"Hi, I post with Tracked 48 as standard, and I can post the next working day after purchase. I cannot promise Friday delivery, sorry. [CHECK: can you offer a faster service, and at what cost?]"

Check before you post:

- No promised delivery date.
- Any upgrade cost is added through the platform, not paid separately.

M6 Delay: late dispatch or parcel stuck in transit

Use it when: you are going to post late, or the tracking has stalled and the buyer is asking where their parcel is. Paste this:

Help me update a buyer on [PLATFORM] about a delay.

Type of delay: [I WILL POST LATE / PARCEL STUCK IN TRANSIT / TRACKING SAYS DELIVERED BUT BUYER HAS NOT GOT IT]

Facts:

- Date of sale: [DATE]
- Date posted (if posted): [DATE OR "NOT YET"]
- Service and whether tracked: [E.G. "TRACKED 48, YES"]
- What tracking shows now: [PASTE STATUS, NO TRACKING NUMBER NEEDED]
- What I can do next: [E.G. "POST TOMORROW MORNING" / "OPEN A CARRIER ENQUIRY"]

Buyer's message (personal details removed): [PASTE OR "NONE, I AM MESSAGING FIRST"]

Write a reply under 80 words that:

1. Says sorry once, plainly, without over-explaining.
2. Gives the facts (what has happened, what I am doing next and when).
3. Tells the buyer they are still covered by the platform's buyer protection, without quoting specific time limits.

Rules: UK English. Do not blame the buyer. Do not promise a delivery date. Do not suggest cancelling outside the platform or refunding by another method. If a fact is missing, write [CHECK: ...].

What good output looks like:

Situation: Tracked 48 posted Monday, tracking has not updated since Tuesday at a depot.

"Hi, sorry for the wait. I posted it on Monday with Tracked 48 and the tracking shows it at a depot since Tuesday. I have asked the carrier to look into it and will update you as soon as I hear. Your purchase is still covered by the platform's buyer protection in the meantime."

Check before you post:

- Dates are correct.
- If you have promised to follow up, set a reminder on your phone.

M7 Return request

Use it when: a buyer asks to return an item, for any reason. Paste this:

A buyer on [PLATFORM] has asked to return an item. Help me work out my position and reply.

I sell as a: [PRIVATE SELLER / TRADER (BUSINESS)]

My listing's return policy: [E.G. "NO RETURNS" / "30 DAY RETURNS, BUYER PAYS POSTAGE"]

Platform return or buyer protection rules I have checked today (paste from help pages, or "NOT CHECKED"):

[PASTE RULE TEXT]

My Listing Brief (what I described):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

Date delivered: [DATE]

Buyer's reason (personal details removed):

[PASTE MESSAGE]

Do two things.

Part 1, my position (short bullet points):

- Is the reason change of mind, or a claim that the item is faulty, damaged or not as described?
- If I am a trader: remind me that UK buyers generally have a 14-day right to cancel most online purchases, plus the short-term right to reject faulty goods, and that "no returns" cannot remove these. Flag any exceptions only as [CHECK: ...].
- If I am a private seller: explain that change-of-mind returns are up to me and my listing policy, but claims of "not as described", faulty or damaged may be covered by platform buyer protection whatever my policy says.
- Base anything about platform rules only on the text I pasted. If I pasted nothing, tell me to check the platform's help pages before replying.

Part 2, a reply to the buyer (under 80 words): polite, clear on next steps, and using the platform's own return or refund process.

Rules: UK English. This is not legal advice, say so in one line at the end of Part 1. Never tell the buyer they have no rights. Never suggest refunding off the platform. Do not argue about the buyer's reason in the reply.

What good output looks like:

Situation: private seller, no returns, Vinted. Buyer: "It is lovely but doesn't fit, can I send it back?"

Part 1

- This is change of mind, not a fault or "not as described".
- As a private seller, accepting a change-of-mind return is your choice.
- If the buyer had said the item was not as described, Buyer Protection could apply, so check the listing matched.
- Not legal advice. Check Vinted's current help pages.

Part 2 "Hi, sorry it did not fit. As I sell privately I do not usually accept returns for fit, which is why I listed the measurements. You might find it resells well on here. Thanks for understanding."

Check before you post:

- You are clear whether you are a private seller or a trader.
- You checked the platform's current return and protection rules.
- If the claim is about a fault or description, use M8 instead.

M8 "Item not as described"

Use it when: a buyer says the item is different from the listing, faulty, or has a flaw you did not mention. Paste this:

A buyer on [PLATFORM] says my item is not as described. Help me respond fairly.

I sell as a: [PRIVATE SELLER / TRADER]

My original listing text (title and description):

[PASTE LISTING TEXT]

What my photos showed: [DESCRIBE, E.G. "FLAW ON LEFT CUFF SHOWN IN PHOTO 4"]

Buyer's complaint (personal details removed), and any photos they describe:

[PASTE MESSAGE]

Platform rules I have checked today (optional): [PASTE OR "NOT CHECKED"]

Do three things:

1. Compare the complaint with my listing, point by point, and say honestly whether the listing covered it, did not cover it, or it is unclear. Do not take my side automatically.
2. Suggest fair options: ask for photos, return for a full refund through the platform, a partial refund through the platform if the buyer wants to keep it, or let the platform decide. Say which fits best.
3. Write a calm reply under 90 words.

Rules: UK English. If the listing did not mention the problem, say so plainly.

Never accuse the buyer of lying, even if I suspect it; if I suspect a swapped or damaged return, tell me to keep records and use the platform's process. Never refund or pay outside the platform. Never ask the buyer to change or remove feedback as part of any deal. Not legal advice.

What good output looks like:

Item: grey Next jumper. Listing said "small bobbling under arms". Buyer says "there is a hole on the back".

1. Bobbling: covered in the listing and photos. Hole on the back: not mentioned anywhere. This is likely a fair claim unless the hole was made after delivery, which you cannot know.
 2. Best fit: offer a return for a full refund through the platform, or a partial refund if they would rather keep it.
1. "Hi, I am sorry about that. I did not spot a hole when I listed it, so thank you for letting me know. I am happy to accept a return for a full refund through the app, or offer a partial refund if you would prefer to keep it. Just let me know which suits."

Check before you post:

- You reread your own listing before replying.
- Any refund goes through the platform so both of you stay covered.
- Add a note to your checklist so the same flaw does not get missed again.

M9 Damaged in the post

Use it when: the buyer says the item arrived broken, crushed or wet. Paste this:

A buyer on [PLATFORM] says the item arrived damaged. Help me handle it.

Item and how I packed it: [E.G. "GLASS VASE, BUBBLE WRAP, DOUBLE-WALLED BOX"]

Postage service: [E.G. "PLATFORM LABEL" / "MY OWN TRACKED SERVICE, COMPENSATION UP TO £..."]

Buyer's message and what they say their photos show (personal details removed):

[PASTE MESSAGE]

Platform rules I have checked today (optional): [PASTE OR "NOT CHECKED"]

Give me:

1. A short checklist of what to ask the buyer for (photos of the item, the packaging and the label) and what to keep myself (proof of postage, photos of packing if I took any).
2. Who is likely to handle the claim: the platform (for example if I used a platform label) or me with the carrier. Base this on what I told you, and if unsure write [CHECK: ...] and tell me to check the platform's help pages.
3. A calm reply to the buyer under 80 words that asks for photos and explains the next step through the platform.

Rules: UK English. Do not blame the buyer or the carrier in the reply. Do not refuse a refund in the reply. Do not suggest settling off the platform. Not legal advice.

What good output looks like:

Item: Denby stoneware mug set, bubble wrap, single-wall box, own Tracked 48.

1. Ask the buyer for: photos of the mugs, the outer box (all sides) and the inner wrapping. Keep: proof of postage and tracking.
2. Claim: you used your own service, so you would usually claim from the carrier yourself while the platform handles the buyer's refund request. [CHECK: the carrier's claim rules and time limit.]
3. "Hi, I am really sorry it arrived damaged. Could you send photos of the mugs and of the box and packaging, including the outside? That helps me sort it out with the carrier. I will make sure it is put right through the app."

Check before you post:

- Buyer photos are requested through the platform's messages, not by email.
- You check the carrier's claim time limit today, not next week.
- Next time: double-walled box and more padding for ceramics.

M10 Asking for feedback, without pressure

Use it when: a sale has gone smoothly and you want to send a thank-you that mentions feedback, fairly. Paste this:

Write a short thank-you message to a buyer on [PLATFORM] after delivery.

Item: [SHORT NAME]

Anything nice and true to mention: [E.G. "HOPE IT FITS WELL" / "NONE"]

Should the message mention feedback? [YES, ONE NEUTRAL LINE / NO]

Rules:

- UK English, under 40 words, warm and simple.
- If feedback is mentioned, one neutral line only, such as inviting them to leave feedback if they have a moment. Never ask for "positive" or "5 star" feedback.
- Never offer or hint at any discount, refund, freebie or reward in exchange for feedback or a review. That is against platform rules (eBay's feedback policy, for example) and UK law on fake and incentivised reviews.
- Never ask the buyer to contact me first "before leaving feedback" in a way that suggests they should not leave honest feedback.
- No emojis unless I ask.

What good output looks like:

"Hi, thanks for buying the Clarks boots. I hope they fit well. If you have a moment, feedback is always appreciated. Any questions, just message me here."

Check before you post:

- No reward, discount or favour is linked to feedback.
- It is sent once, not repeatedly.

M11 Difficult or abusive buyer

Use it when: a buyer is rude, threatening, demanding things not in the listing, or threatening bad feedback to get a discount. Paste this:

A buyer on [PLATFORM] is being difficult. Help me respond calmly and protect myself.

What has happened (personal details removed):

[DESCRIBE OR PASTE MESSAGES]

What the listing actually said about the relevant point: [PASTE OR "NOT RELEVANT"]

Has a sale happened? [YES / NO]

Give me:

1. A one-line read of the situation: is this a genuine problem said rudely, a demand for something not in the listing, a threat linked to feedback, or abuse?
2. What to do: reply, reply once then stop, or do not reply. Include using the platform's report and block tools where relevant, and keeping all messages on the platform as a record.
3. If a reply is sensible, one calm reply under 60 words.

Rules:

- UK English. Calm, neutral, never sarcastic. Never insult or threaten the buyer back.
- If the buyer has a genuine complaint about the item, the reply must still offer the platform's proper route (return or refund process). Do not refuse legal rights because the buyer is rude.
- If the buyer is threatening negative feedback to get something not in the listing, tell me that platforms generally treat this as not allowed (eBay calls it feedback extortion) and to report it through the platform. Do not tell me to give in to it.
- If there are threats to my safety, tell me to stop replying, report it to the platform, and contact the police if I feel at risk.
- Never suggest sharing personal details or moving off the platform.

What good output looks like:

Situation: after delivery, buyer says "Refund me £10 or I'll leave negative feedback". Item was as described.

1. Read: a threat linked to feedback, to get something not in the listing.
2. Do: reply once, then report it through the platform's tools. Keep everything in the app's messages.

3. "Hi, I am sorry you are not happy. The item was sent as described and photographed. If there is a problem with it, please open a request through the app and it will be looked at properly."

Check before you post:

- You have not said anything you would mind the platform's support team reading.
- Screenshots or messages are kept in the app in case of a dispute.

M12 Suspicious request or off-platform payment

Use it when: a buyer asks to pay another way, wants your email or phone number, asks you to post to a different address, or something just feels off. Paste this:

A buyer on [PLATFORM] has sent a request that may be risky. Help me spot the risk and reply.

The request (personal details removed):

[PASTE MESSAGE]

Give me:

1. A plain list of warning signs in the message (for example: paying outside the app, a link to click, "my courier will collect", asking for my email or phone, posting to a different address from the one in the order, overpaying and asking for money back).
2. What to do: reply, decline, report through the platform, or ignore.
3. A short, polite reply that keeps everything on the platform.

Rules: UK English. Do not help me arrange payment, contact or delivery outside the platform. Do not tell me to click any link in the message. Remind me that platform protection generally only covers sales paid for through the platform, and to check the platform's help pages on scams.

What good output looks like:

Message: "Can I pay you by bank transfer so we avoid fees? Send me your number."

1. Warning signs: paying outside the app, asking for your phone number before a sale.
2. Do: decline politely. Report if they push.
3. "Hi, thanks, but I only sell through the app so we are both covered. You are welcome to buy or make an offer here."

Check before you post:

- You have not shared any contact details.
- You have not clicked any link sent by the buyer.

Ready-to-adapt reply templates

Short replies for everyday messages. Copy, fill in the [SQUARE BRACKETS], and check every fact is true for your item before sending. They are written to work on any platform.

1. Still available

Hi, yes it is still available. I can post [WHEN] after purchase. Any questions, just ask.

2. Sold already

Hi, sorry, this one has sold. I have a few similar items listed if you would like a look.

3. More photos

Hi, of course. I have added [WHAT] to the listing photos. Let me know if you need anything else.

4. Measurements

Hi, measured flat: pit to pit [X] cm, length [X] cm, sleeve [X] cm. I have added these to the description too.

5. Friendly counter-offer

Thanks for the offer. The lowest I can do is £[AMOUNT]. I will send it through the offer button if that works for you.

6. Polite decline

Thanks for your interest, but I cannot go that low on this one. You are welcome to make another offer.

7. Bundle price

Happy to do [ITEMS] together for £[AMOUNT] [PLUS / INCLUDING] postage, all in one parcel. If you add them to a bundle I will send you an offer.

8. Postage timing

I post [DAYS / NEXT WORKING DAY] with [SERVICE]. It usually takes [TIME] after that, but I cannot guarantee a delivery date.

9. Posted

Hi, your parcel went out today with [SERVICE]. Tracking is in the app. Thanks again.

10. Late dispatch

Hi, I am sorry, I cannot post until [DAY] because [SHORT TRUE REASON]. It will go out then and I will update you here.

11. Parcel delayed in transit

Hi, sorry for the wait. The tracking shows it at [STATUS] since [DAY]. I have asked the carrier to check and will update you as soon as I hear. You are still covered by the app's buyer protection.

12. Payment off the platform

Hi, thanks, but I only sell and take payment through the app, so we are both protected. You are welcome to buy or make an offer here.

13. Change-of-mind return (private seller, no returns)

Hi, sorry it did not suit. As a private seller I do not usually take returns for [FIT / CHANGE OF MIND], which is why I listed [MEASUREMENTS / DETAILS]. Thanks for understanding.

14. Return accepted

Hi, no problem. Please start the return in the app and I will refund you through it once it is back with me. Thanks for letting me know.

15. Item not as described

Hi, I am sorry about that, and thanks for telling me. Could you send a photo of the [PROBLEM] here? I will sort it out through the app.

16. Damaged in the post

Hi, I am really sorry it arrived damaged. Could you send photos of the item and the packaging, including the outside of the box? I will put it right through the app.

17. Thank you (with neutral feedback line)

Hi, thanks for buying the [ITEM]. I hope you enjoy it. If you have a moment, feedback is always appreciated.

18. Rude message, first reply

Hi, I am sorry you are not happy. If there is a problem with the item, please open a request through the app and it will be looked at properly.

19. Cross-listed item sold elsewhere

Hi, I am really sorry, this has just sold on another app and I have removed it. I have cancelled the order through the app so you will be refunded in full.

Template 19 applies only if an order has come in on a second platform. Cancel it through the platform's own process and check its rules, as some platforms count seller cancellations against you.

08 Video and TikTok Shop

Short videos sell things. You do not need to show your face, use your voice or film your home to make them. Everything in this module works with hands-only shots, a plain background, on-screen text and a text-to-speech voice.

This module covers two jobs:

1. Faceless product videos for items you are selling yourself (on TikTok, Instagram, or as the video slot on a listing where the platform allows it).
2. TikTok Shop UK copy: product titles, descriptions, a claims check, and a run-sheet for live selling.

As always, start with your Listing Brief (see module 01). The AI is only as accurate as the facts you give it.

Before you start: three rules for video

- Show the real item. Film the exact item (or, for new stock, the exact product) the buyer will receive. No stock footage of a different item, no filters that change the colour, no editing out flaws.
- No faces, no personal details. Keep your face, reflections in mirrors, house numbers, post, pets, family photos and number plates out of shot. Hands are fine.
- Say only what is true. A video is part of your listing. If you would not write it in the description, do not say it in the video.

TikTok Shop UK: claims to avoid

TikTok Shop UK's own policies say claims in e-commerce content must be genuine, accurate and verifiable, and that products must not claim or imply they can cure, heal, treat, prevent or relieve any disease or medical condition. This applies to titles, descriptions, images and videos. Product titles must not include promotional wording (for example "x% off"), your shop URL or seller name, references to TikTok or other marketplaces, or symbols and special characters.

In practice, keep these out of your TikTok Shop copy and videos:

- Health or medical wording: "cures", "heals", "relieves pain", "treats", "anti-inflammatory", "detox", "boosts immunity", "clinically proven" (unless you hold the evidence and the claim is allowed in that category).

- Before and after results you cannot prove.
- "Best", "number one", "better than [brand]" comparisons.
- Fake urgency: "only 2 left" when that is not true, countdowns that reset, "price going up tomorrow" when it is not.
- "Guaranteed", "100% safe", "non-toxic", "eco-friendly" or "sustainable" unless you can back it up with specific, checkable facts.
- Other platform names, discount codes for other sites, or asking buyers to pay you elsewhere.

Rules change. Read TikTok Shop UK's current policies in Seller Center (the Academy pages on product listing, content and prohibited or restricted products) before you list, and check the current rule in the platform's help pages when in doubt.

V1 Faceless product video script (15 to 30 seconds)

Use it when: you want a short, honest video of one item without showing your face or using your own voice.

Paste this:

You are helping a UK seller make a short faceless product video for an item they are selling. Write in UK English.

Here is my Listing Brief:
[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF]

Platform the video is for: [TIKTOK / INSTAGRAM / TIKTOK SHOP / OTHER]
Length: [15 / 20 / 30] seconds
Voice: [TEXT-TO-SPEECH VOICEOVER / ON-SCREEN TEXT ONLY]

Write a video script as a table with these columns: Seconds, What we see (hands-only or item-only shot), On-screen text (maximum 8 words), Voiceover line (if any).

- Rules:
- Only use facts from the Listing Brief. If something I would need is missing, write [CHECK: what is missing] instead of guessing.
 - No faces, no people, no reflections. Shots must be possible with a phone, a plain background and my hands.
 - Show the flaws listed in the brief on screen, clearly, in at least one shot.
 - No hype words (amazing, stunning, must-have, jaw-dropping), no "best", no invented comparisons, no health or medical claims, no fake urgency.
 - Open with a plain hook in the first 2 seconds that says what the item is.
 - End with a calm call to action that fits the platform (for example "Link in the listing" or "Details in the description"). Do not mention other platforms or ask buyers to pay outside the platform.
 - After the table, give me a one-line caption and a list of any [CHECK: ...] items.

What good output looks like:

Invented example: grey Next wool-blend jumper, size 12, small bobbling under both arms, 20 seconds, text-to-speech.

Seconds	What we see	On-screen text	Voiceover
0 to 2	Jumper laid flat on a cream sheet, top-down	Grey Next jumper, size 12	"Grey Next wool-blend jumper, size 12."
2 to 6	Hand slowly turns the cuff to show the ribbing	Wool blend, ribbed cuffs	"Wool blend with ribbed cuffs and hem."

Seconds	What we see	On-screen text	Voiceover
6 to 10	Tape measure across the chest, pit to pit	Pit to pit: 52 cm	"Fifty-two centimetres pit to pit."
10 to 15	Close-up under the left arm in daylight	Small bobbling under arms	"Light bobbling under both arms. Shown here."
15 to 20	Jumper folded, placed in a kraft mailer	Details in the listing	"Full details and photos in the listing."

Caption: Grey Next wool-blend jumper, size 12, light bobbling under the arms (shown). Details in the listing.

[CHECK: exact wool percentage from the care label]

Check before you post:

- Watch it back with the sound off. Does the on-screen text alone tell the truth about the item?
- Is every flaw from your brief visible in at least one shot?
- Scan every frame for faces, reflections, post, house numbers or anything personal.
- Replace every [CHECK: ...] with a real fact or remove that line.

V2 Hands-only shot list and showcase ideas

Use it when: you know what the item is but not how to film it without a face or a model.

Paste this:

You are a UK product videographer who only films hands and products, never faces.
Write in UK English.

Here is my Listing Brief:
[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF]

My kit: [PHONE ONLY / PHONE AND TRIPOD / PHONE, TRIPOD AND RING LIGHT]
Where I can film: [E.G. KITCHEN TABLE BY A WINDOW, WHITE BEDSHEET, BLANK WALL]

Give me 8 short shot ideas I can film in under 20 minutes. For each shot give: shot name, how to set it up (one or two lines), what it proves to the buyer (size, texture, how it works, condition), and roughly how many seconds to film.

Rules:

- No faces, no people wearing the item from the neck up, no mirrors that could show me. Hands, flat lays, item on a surface, or item on a plain hanger or mannequin only.
- Include at least one shot that shows scale (next to a common object or tape measure) and at least one clear flaw shot if the brief lists flaws.
- Only use facts from the brief. Where a shot depends on something not in the brief (for example the item lights up), write [CHECK: ...].
- Keep the colour true: tell me to use daylight or one consistent light and no colour filters.
- No props that could be mistaken as included with the item unless the brief says they are included.

What good output looks like:

Invented example: small-brand beech wood phone stand, adjustable angle, fits phones up to 7 inch.

1. Hero turn. Stand on a white sheet, slowly rotate it by hand. Proves shape and finish. 4 seconds.
2. Angle adjust. Hand tilts the stand through its angles. Proves it adjusts. 4 seconds.
3. Phone drop-in. Hand places a phone on the stand, portrait then landscape. Proves fit and use. 5 seconds.
4. Scale shot. Stand next to a mug. Proves size. 3 seconds.
5. Grain close-up. Slow pan across the wood in window light. Proves material. 3 seconds.

6. Base grip. Flip it to show the base pads. Proves it will not slide [CHECK: are there non-slip pads?]. 3 seconds.
7. Cable gap. Plug a charging cable through the gap. Proves charging while in use [CHECK: is there a cable gap?]. 4 seconds.
8. What is in the box. Items laid out in a row. Proves contents. 3 seconds.

Note: do not show a phone brand logo prominently, and make clear the phone is not included.

Check before you post:

- Does any prop (phone, cable, mug) look like it comes with the item? Say clearly what is not included.
 - Is the colour on your screen the same as the real item in daylight?
 - Have you answered every [CHECK: ...] before you film shots 6 and 7?
-

V3 Caption, on-screen text and hashtags for a product video

Use it when: you have filmed the video and need the words to go with it.

Paste this:

Write in UK English for a UK audience.

Here is my Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF]

Here is a short description of my video, shot by shot:

[DESCRIBE YOUR SHOTS, E.G. "1. FLAT LAY 2. CLOSE-UP OF LABEL 3. FLAW UNDER ARM"]

Platform: [TIKTOK / INSTAGRAM / TIKTOK SHOP]

Give me:

1. On-screen text for each shot (maximum 8 words each, plain and readable on a phone).
2. One caption under 150 characters that says what the item is, the size or key spec, and the condition in plain words.
3. 3 to 5 relevant hashtags (item type, brand if genuine, category). No trending hashtags that have nothing to do with the item, no platform names, no hashtags that suggest a brand the item is not.

Rules: only use facts from the brief; write [CHECK: ...] for anything missing; no hype, no "best", no health claims, no fake urgency, no emojis unless I ask for them.

What good output looks like:

Invented example: Levi's 501 jeans, W32 L30, mid-blue, small fraying at the back hems.

On-screen text:

1. Levi's 501, W32 L30
2. Mid-blue, button fly
3. Red tab and patch
4. Light fraying at back hems

Caption: Levi's 501 jeans, W32 L30, mid-blue. Light fraying on the back hems, shown in the video.

Hashtags: #levis501 #mensjeans #secondhandjeans #denim

Check before you post:

- Is the size on screen the size on the label, not your guess?

- Does the caption mention the flaw as clearly as the video shows it?
- Only use a brand hashtag if the item is genuinely that brand.

V4 TikTok Shop UK product title

Use it when: you are adding a product to TikTok Shop UK and want a clear, compliant title.

Paste this:

You are a UK e-commerce copywriter who knows TikTok Shop UK's product listing guidelines. Write in UK English.

Here is my Listing Brief:
[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF]

Write 3 product title options for TikTok Shop UK.

Rules:

- Structure: brand (if I own or am authorised to sell it) + product type + key feature or material + size, quantity or capacity + colour or variant.
- Keep each title clear and readable, roughly 60 to 120 characters, and tell me the character count for each. [CHECK: the current maximum title length in TikTok Shop Seller Center]
- Do NOT include: promotional wording (sale, x% off, free postage, limited offer), my shop name or URL, the word TikTok, other marketplace names, symbols or special characters (such as ! * ~ | and similar), emojis, or ALL CAPS words.
- Do NOT include health, medical or results claims, "best", "number one" or comparisons with other brands.
- Only use facts from the brief. If a key fact is missing (size, material, quantity), put [CHECK: ...] in its place.
- After the titles, list any words I should double-check because they could be a claim.

What good output looks like:

Invented example: small UK brand "Tidy Nook" bamboo drawer organiser, set of 6 boxes, 3 sizes, natural colour.

1. Tidy Nook Bamboo Drawer Organiser Set of 6 Boxes in 3 Sizes Natural (67 characters)
2. Tidy Nook Bamboo Drawer Dividers 6 Piece Set for Kitchen Utensils Natural (73 characters)
3. Tidy Nook 6 Piece Bamboo Storage Boxes for Drawers 3 Sizes Natural Finish (73 characters)

Words to double-check: none are claims. Only use "for kitchen utensils" if the brief lists that use and the boxes suit it.

Check before you post:

- Count the characters yourself in Seller Center (it shows a counter) and trim if needed.
- Is the brand yours, or are you authorised to use it? Never use another brand's name for your own product.
- No symbols, promo words, platform names or claims.

V5 TikTok Shop UK product description

Use it when: you need a TikTok Shop product description that is clear, scannable on a phone and free of risky claims.

Paste this:

You are a UK e-commerce copywriter who knows TikTok Shop UK's content rules. Write in UK English.

Here is my Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF]

Write a TikTok Shop UK product description with:

1. An opening line (one sentence) that says what the product is and who it is for.
2. 4 to 6 short feature lines, each starting with the feature, then the plain benefit. One fact per line.
3. A "What's included" line.
4. A "Size and specs" section (dimensions, weight, capacity, materials) using only facts in the brief.
5. A "Care" line if the brief gives care instructions.

Rules:

- At least 30 words, and keep it concise (aim for under 500 characters for the main text if possible).
- Only use facts from the brief. Write [CHECK: ...] where anything is missing. Never invent materials, certifications, dimensions or safety standards.
- No health or medical claims (cure, heal, treat, prevent, relieve, detox, anti-bacterial unless certified and I say so), no "clinically proven", no "best", no comparisons with named brands, no guarantees, no fake urgency, no mention of other platforms or payment outside TikTok Shop.
- Avoid vague green claims ("eco-friendly", "sustainable") unless the brief gives a specific, checkable fact (for example "made from FSC-certified bamboo" with the certificate details).
- Plain, friendly UK tone. No hype words, no emojis unless I ask.
- After the description, list every phrase you think could count as a claim so I can check it.

What good output looks like:

Invented example: Tidy Nook bamboo drawer organiser set.

Six bamboo boxes in three sizes for sorting cutlery, utensils, stationery or make-up in drawers.

- Three sizes: mix and match the boxes to fit your drawer layout.
- Bamboo with a natural finish: a smooth, light wood look.

- Separate boxes: move them around or use them in different drawers.
- Raised edges: help keep small items in their own section.

What's included: 6 boxes (2 small, 2 medium, 2 large).

Size and specs: small 15 x 7.5 x 5 cm, medium 22.5 x 7.5 x 5 cm, large 30 x 7.5 x 5 cm.

Material: bamboo [CHECK: is there a lacquer or coating?].

Care: wipe clean with a damp cloth. Do not soak.

Phrases to check: "help keep small items in their own section" is a mild functional statement. Keep it only if it is true in your own testing.

Check before you post:

- Measure the product yourself and match the numbers to the listing exactly.
- Remove every [CHECK: ...] by filling in the real fact.
- If you mention a certification (for example FSC), keep the proof handy in case TikTok Shop or a buyer asks.

V6 TikTok Shop claims check and safe rewrite

Use it when: you have written (or been sent) product copy or a video script and want to catch risky claims before TikTok Shop or a buyer does.

Paste this:

You are a careful UK compliance reviewer for TikTok Shop UK product listings and short videos. Write in UK English.

Here is the copy or script to check:
[PASTE TITLE, DESCRIPTION, CAPTION OR VIDEO SCRIPT]

Here is my Listing Brief (the facts I can back up):
[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF]

Go through the copy line by line. Make a table with: Original wording, Why it might be a problem, Safer rewrite.

Flag anything that:

- makes or implies a health or medical claim (cure, heal, treat, prevent, relieve, detox, boosts immunity, pain relief, anti-ageing results);
- makes a result or performance claim not supported by the brief;
- uses "best", "number one", "better than", or compares with a named brand;
- uses fake urgency or scarcity, or a discount that is not real;
- uses vague green or safety claims (eco-friendly, non-toxic, 100% safe, chemical-free) without a specific fact in the brief;
- mentions TikTok or another platform in a product title, or points buyers to pay or order elsewhere;
- uses symbols, promo wording or a shop URL in the product title;
- states a fact that is not in the brief (mark these [CHECK: ...]).

Then give me the full cleaned-up version. Only use facts from the brief. Do not add new claims while rewriting. This is a helpful check, not legal advice.

What good output looks like:

Invented example: a lavender wheat bag.

Original wording	Why it might be a problem	Safer rewrite
"Relieves back pain and helps you sleep"	Health claim: implies it treats a medical condition	"Microwaveable wheat bag with dried lavender. Warm it up for a cosy feel."
"100% natural and totally safe"	Vague safety claim, not in the brief	"Filled with wheat and dried lavender. Cotton cover." [CHECK: cover material]

Original wording	Why it might be a problem	Safer rewrite
"Only 3 left!!!"	Possible fake urgency, symbols	Remove, or state real stock in Seller Center only
"Better than the high street ones"	Comparison not supported	Remove

Cleaned-up version: Microwaveable wheat bag with dried lavender and a cotton cover [CHECK: cover material]. Warm it up for a cosy feel. Heat as shown on the care label. [CHECK: heating time and safety instructions from the label]

Check before you post:

- For anything heated, electrical, for children or worn on skin, check the category rules in Seller Center: some need extra documents or are restricted.
- Include the real safety and heating instructions from the product label, word for word.
- If in doubt, leave the claim out.

V7 Live-selling run-sheet

Use it when: you are planning a TikTok Shop LIVE (or any live selling session) and want a calm, honest plan to follow, without showing your face.

Paste this:

You are helping a UK seller plan a faceless live selling session (hands and products only, voice or on-screen text). Write in UK English.

Session length: [30 / 45 / 60] minutes

Platform: [TIKTOK SHOP LIVE / OTHER]

Products (paste a short Listing Brief for each, or name, price, key facts and flaws):

[PASTE PRODUCTS]

Any real offer I am running (only if genuine): [E.G. "BUY 2 GET FREE POSTAGE" OR "NONE"]

Create a run-sheet as a table with: Time, Segment, What is on camera (hands-only or product-only), What I say or show on screen, Notes.

Include:

- A 2-minute welcome that says what we are showing today and how to buy (through the platform's own checkout only).
- One segment per product: show it, give the key facts, show flaws or limits honestly, show size or scale, say the price.
- A "questions" slot every 10 to 15 minutes.
- A 2-minute wrap-up.

Also give me:

- 6 short, honest answers to common live questions (size, postage time, returns, "is it genuine", "can you do cheaper", "can I pay another way"). Returns answers must respect UK consumer rights and the platform's return policy. The payment answer must say we only take payment through the platform.
- A list of things NOT to say on the live: health or medical claims, "best", fake countdowns or fake stock levels, invented discounts, other platform names, asking viewers to pay or message off the platform.

Only use facts from what I pasted. Write [CHECK: ...] for anything missing.

What good output looks like:

Invented example: 30-minute live, three kitchen products.

Time	Segment	On camera	What I say or show	Notes
0:00 to 2:00	Welcome	Three products on a clean worktop	"Evening. Tonight: a bamboo drawer set, a spice rack and a set of jar labels. Buy through the shop basket below."	Pin the first product
2:00 to 9:00	Drawer set	Hands lay out the 6 boxes	Sizes, bamboo, what's included, price	Show the tape measure on each size
9:00 to 11:00	Questions	Product stays in shot	Answer from the Q&A list	Read comments aloud, never usernames with personal details
...	...	...	...	...
28:00 to 30:00	Wrap-up	All three products	"Everything is in the shop basket. Thanks for watching."

Sample answer: "Can I pay by bank transfer?" "We only take payment through the TikTok Shop checkout. It keeps you covered."

Check before you post:

- Film a 30-second test first and check nothing personal is in shot or audible.
- Any offer you mention must be set up for real in Seller Center before you go live.
- Keep the "do not say" list on a sticky note next to your phone.

V8 Turn one listing into a week of short videos

Use it when: you want a few different short videos for the same item or product without repeating yourself or stretching the truth.

Paste this:

Write in UK English.

Here is my Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF]

Give me 5 different faceless short video ideas for this item, each 10 to 20 seconds. Use these angles:

1. "What you get" (unboxing or laying out contents).
2. "Size check" (next to everyday objects or a tape measure).
3. "Details close-up" (label, stitching, material, texture, ports, fixings).
4. "Honest condition" (shows any flaws in the brief and explains them calmly).
5. "How it is packed" (folded or wrapped, into the parcel).

For each idea give: a hook line (maximum 8 words), 3 to 4 shots (hands or item only), one line of on-screen text per shot, and a caption under 150 characters.

Rules: only facts from the brief; [CHECK: ...] for anything missing; no hype, no "best", no health claims, no fake urgency, no faces, no trending audio suggestions
I would need rights for (tell me to use the platform's commercial-use music library if I add music).

What good output looks like:

Invented example: Nintendo Switch Lite, turquoise, used, light scratches on the back, charger included, no box.

Idea 4, "Honest condition":

- Hook: Switch Lite, turquoise. Here's the honest bit.
- Shot 1: front of the console, screen on. Text: "Screen: no scratches"
- Shot 2: back of the console in daylight. Text: "Light scratches on the back"
- Shot 3: charger next to the console. Text: "Charger included, no box"
- Caption: Used Switch Lite in turquoise. Screen clear, light scratches on the back (shown). Charger included, no box.

[CHECK: has the console been factory reset and signed out of the Nintendo account?]

Check before you post:

- Only claim "screen: no scratches" if you have checked it under a bright light.
- Factory reset any electronics and remove accounts before selling, and do not show serial numbers in the video.

- Each video should still match the listing exactly.

Quick reminders for faceless video

- Film in daylight near a window, on a plain background. Keep the colour true.
- Hands only. Take off rings or anything personal if you would rather not show it.
- Use on-screen text with every voiceover line so it works with the sound off.
- Only use music from the platform's commercial-use library or royalty-free sources.
- Never film a buyer's parcel with their name or address visible.

09 Rule checker

Run these just before you post. They take a minute and catch the things that get listings removed, accounts warned or items returned: a flaw that went missing between your notes and the description, a title that is too long, a "genuine" you cannot prove, an "eco-friendly" you cannot back up.

Important: this is not legal advice. These prompts are a practical checklist. An AI tool can spot likely problems, but it can also miss things or be wrong about a rule. Platform rules change often. For anything important, check the current rule in the platform's help pages, and for legal questions see gov.uk, Citizens Advice or a qualified adviser.

How to use this module

1. Write your listing (modules 02 to 04).
2. Run C1 against your Listing Brief. This is the accuracy check and it matters on every platform.
3. Run the platform check for where you are posting (C2 to C7).
4. If your listing mentions brands, authenticity, health, the environment or returns, run C8 to C11 as needed.

The platform facts built into these prompts were checked in September 2026. Where a prompt says "at the time of writing", that is your cue to check the platform's help pages. Even better: copy the relevant rule text from the help pages and paste it into the prompt where it says [PASTE CURRENT RULE TEXT]. The AI will then check against today's rule rather than our summary.

What the AI is told to do in every check

- Compare the listing with your Listing Brief and flag anything added, changed or missing.
 - Flag, not fix silently. You see every issue and decide.
 - Rate each issue: Must fix (likely to break a rule or mislead a buyer), Should fix (weak or risky) or Fine.
 - Write [CHECK: ...] where it cannot tell.
 - Use UK English and plain words.
-

C1 Accuracy check: listing against brief

Use it when: every time, on every platform, before you post. Paste this:

Check my listing for accuracy against my Listing Brief. You are a careful proofreader, not a copywriter. Do not rewrite the listing unless I ask.

My Listing Brief (the facts):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My listing (title, description, item specifics or tags, condition, price and postage):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING HERE]

Check and report, as a short list:

1. Added facts: anything in the listing that is NOT in the brief (for example a material, a size, a year, "original box", "never worn"). These are invented until I confirm them.
2. Changed facts: anything that differs from the brief (size, colour, measurements, condition, what is included, price, postage).
3. Missing flaws: every flaw in the brief must appear in the listing, worded no more mildly than in the brief. List any that are missing or softened.
4. Missing essentials: anything a buyer would need that is in the brief but not the listing (measurements, what is included, postage).
5. Misleading wording: anything that could give a false impression, even if technically true (for example "like new" for an item with wear in the brief).
6. UK English: any American spellings or sizes (for example "color", "pants" for trousers, US sizes without the UK size).

Label each point Must fix, Should fix or Fine. Finish with a one-line verdict: "Ready to post" or "Fix first".

Rules: UK English. Only compare what I have pasted. If you are unsure, write [CHECK: ...]. Do not add new selling points.

What good output looks like:

Item: grey Next wool-blend jumper, size 12, small bobbling under arms.

1. Must fix: listing says "100% wool". The brief says "wool blend". [CHECK: care label]
2. Fine: size, colour and price match.
3. Must fix: the bobbling under the arms is missing from the description.
4. Should fix: the brief has pit to pit 50 cm and length 62 cm, the listing has no measurements.
5. Must fix: "excellent condition" does not fit an item with bobbling. Suggest "good used condition" to match the brief.
6. Fine: UK spellings throughout.

Verdict: Fix first.

Check before you post:

- Every Must fix is fixed, not just noted.
- Any "added fact" you keep is one you have checked on the item itself.

C2 eBay UK pre-post check

Use it when: you are about to post on eBay UK. Paste this:

Check my eBay UK listing before I post. Report problems, do not rewrite unless I ask.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My listing (title, item specifics, condition, description, photos described in a line each, price, postage, returns):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING HERE]

I sell as a: [PRIVATE SELLER / BUSINESS SELLER]

Current rule text I copied from eBay's help pages today (optional but best):

[PASTE CURRENT RULE TEXT OR "NONE"]

Check against these points (our summary at the time of writing, September 2026; where my pasted rule text differs, follow the pasted text):

- Title is 80 characters or fewer, including spaces. Count it and show the count.
- Title is plain words that describe the item: no ALL CAPS shouting, no "L@@K", no hype, no unrelated brand names, no keyword lists.
- No brand comparisons or lookalike wording ("style", "like", "inspired by", "dupe") next to a brand the item is not made by. eBay's rules say "dupe" with a brand name is not allowed and comparisons with other products are not allowed.
- Nothing suggests counterfeit, replica or fake items.
- Item specifics match the brief and are not stuffed with extra keywords.
- Condition chosen matches the brief, and the description describes every flaw.
- Photos: of the actual item, no stock photos for used items, no added text, borders or watermarks.
- No request to pay, message or buy outside eBay, and no contact details (email, phone, social handles, websites).
- Returns wording: if I am a business seller, it must not say or imply buyers have no rights (for example "no returns, no refunds under any circumstances").

Output: a numbered list of issues labelled Must fix, Should fix or Fine, then the title character count, then a one-line verdict.

Rules: UK English. Only judge what I pasted. If a rule is unclear or may have changed, write [CHECK: eBay help pages] rather than stating it as fact. This is a checklist, not legal advice.

What good output looks like:

Item: Clarks black leather Chelsea boots, UK 6.

1. Must fix: title is 86 characters. Suggested cut: remove "Womens Ladies" duplication. New count 74.
2. Must fix: description says "Dr Martens style". These are Clarks, so remove the other brand name.
3. Should fix: item specific "Colour" says "Black Brown Tan". The brief says black only.
4. Fine: heel scuff described and photographed.
5. Fine: no contact details or off-eBay wording.

Title count: 86 (limit 80). Verdict: Fix first.

Check before you post:

- Title count is 80 or fewer after your edits.
- No other brand's name appears anywhere unless it is genuinely relevant and allowed (check the current rule).

C3 Vinted pre-post check

Use it when: you are about to post on Vinted. Paste this:

Check my Vinted listing before I post. Report problems, do not rewrite unless I ask.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My listing (title, description, category, brand, size, condition, colour, material, photos described in a line each, price):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING HERE]

Am I selling my own second-hand things, or trading as a business? [OWN THINGS / BUSINESS]

Current rule text I copied from Vinted's help pages or catalogue rules today (optional but best):

[PASTE CURRENT RULE TEXT OR "NONE"]

Check against these points (our summary at the time of writing, September 2026; where my pasted rule text differs, follow the pasted text):

- The brand field and title show the real brand. No other brand names used to attract searches.
- Nothing suggests replica, fake or counterfeit items.
- Condition chosen matches the brief, and every flaw is described.
- Photos: my own photos of this item in its current condition, whole item in the first photo, labels shown for branded items, every defect shown, no stock, watermarked or found-online images, no collages.
- Size is given in UK sizing (or clearly labelled if it is a European or US size), with measurements where useful.
- No request to pay or message outside Vinted, and no contact details.
- If I said BUSINESS: remind me that Vinted says traders should use Vinted Pro, and that Pro sellers must accept returns within 14 days of receipt. Tell me to check the current Vinted Pro terms.

Output: numbered issues labelled Must fix, Should fix or Fine, then a one-line verdict.

Rules: UK English. Only judge what I pasted. If unsure about a rule, write [CHECK: Vinted help pages]. This is a checklist, not legal advice.

What good output looks like:

Item: cream Zara linen shirt, size S, faint mark on left cuff.

1. Must fix: photo list has no photo of the cuff mark. Add one.
2. Should fix: condition is "Very good" but there is a mark. "Good" matches the brief better.
3. Should fix: size says "S" only. Add chest and length measurements from the brief.
4. Fine: brand field is Zara, no other brands mentioned.

Verdict: Fix first.

Check before you post:

- The flaw photo is in the set.
- If you buy items to resell, you have read Vinted's current guidance on Vinted Pro.

C4 Depop pre-post check

Use it when: you are about to post on Depop. Paste this:

Check my Depop listing before I post. Report problems, do not rewrite unless I ask.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My listing (description including any hashtags, category, brand, size, condition, colour, photos described in a line each, price, postage):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING HERE]

Current rule text I copied from Depop's help pages today (optional but best):

[PASTE CURRENT RULE TEXT OR "NONE"]

Check against these points (our summary at the time of writing, September 2026; where my pasted rule text differs, follow the pasted text):

- The first line clearly says what the item is. Depop advises short, clear descriptions with measurements and signs of wear.
- Hashtags: no more than 5, and each one relevant to this item (its brand, style or type). Flag unrelated brands or trend words used only to get views.
- No other brand names used to attract searches, no "dupe", "replica", "inspired by [BRAND]" or similar.
- Every flaw in the brief is described and photographed.
- Photos: of the actual item, up to the app's current limit (8 at the time of writing).
- Size in UK sizing or clearly labelled, with measurements.
- No request to pay or message outside Depop, and no contact details or social handles.

Output: numbered issues labelled Must fix, Should fix or Fine, a count of hashtags, then a one-line verdict.

Rules: UK English. Only judge what I pasted. If unsure about a rule, write [CHECK: Depop help pages]. This is a checklist, not legal advice.

What good output looks like:

Item: Levi's 501 jeans, W30 L32, mid blue, light fading on knees.

1. Must fix: 8 hashtags. Limit is 5. Suggested keep: #levis #501 #vintagedenim #straightleg #bluejeans.

2. Must fix: hashtag #wranglerstyle mentions another brand. Remove.
3. Should fix: fading on knees is in the brief but only mentioned as "character". Say "light fading on both knees".
4. Fine: waist and leg given in the brief and listing.

Hashtags: 8 (limit 5). Verdict: Fix first.

Check before you post:

- 5 hashtags or fewer, all relevant.
- Wear is described in plain words, not dressed up.

C5 Etsy pre-post check

Use it when: you are about to post a handmade, vintage or craft supply listing on Etsy.

Paste this:

Check my Etsy listing before I post. Report problems, do not rewrite unless I ask.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My listing (title, the 13 tags, description, category, what type of item it is: handmade, vintage or craft supply, materials, photos described in a line each, price, postage, returns):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING HERE]

Did I use AI in making the item or its design? [NO / YES, HOW]

Did I use AI to create or heavily edit the photos? [NO / YES, HOW]

Current rule text I copied from Etsy's help pages or policies today (optional but best):

[PASTE CURRENT RULE TEXT OR "NONE"]

Check against these points (our summary at the time of writing, September 2026; where my pasted rule text differs, follow the pasted text):

- Title is 140 characters or fewer. Count it. It reads as a clear description, not a list of repeated keywords.
- 13 tags or fewer, each 20 characters or fewer. Count each. Flag repeated tags or tags that do not describe this item.
- The item type (handmade, vintage, craft supply) fits the brief. Vintage on Etsy has an age requirement, so flag it as [CHECK: Etsy's current vintage rule] if the brief does not give an age.
- If AI was used for the item or design, remind me that Etsy's rules expect this to be disclosed, and to check the current Creativity Standards for how.
- Photos show what the buyer will actually receive. If photos are mockups or AI-assisted, flag that the listing must not mislead and to check Etsy's current rules.
- No other brand names, characters or logos I do not have the right to use (for example a football club crest or a cartoon character on a handmade item).
- Materials and any eco or health claims are backed by the brief.
- Returns wording does not remove UK buyers' legal rights (see C11).

Output: numbered issues labelled Must fix, Should fix or Fine, the title character count, tag count and any tag over 20 characters, then a one-line verdict.

Rules: UK English. Only judge what I pasted. If unsure about a rule, write [CHECK: Etsy help pages]. This is a checklist, not legal advice.

What good output looks like:

Item: handmade blue ceramic mug, speckled glaze, 350 ml.

1. Must fix: description says "eco-friendly glaze". The brief gives no evidence. Remove, or state the specific fact (for example the glaze name) if you have it.
2. Should fix: tags "mug", "mugs" and "blue mug" overlap. Replace two with different searches a buyer might use, such as "speckled mug" and "stoneware cup". [CHECK: is it stoneware? The brief says ceramic.]
3. Should fix: tag "handmade ceramic coffee mug" is 27 characters. Limit is 20.
4. Fine: title 94 characters and reads clearly.

Title: 94 of 140. Tags: 13, one over 20 characters. Verdict: Fix first.

Check before you post:

- Tag lengths are 20 characters or fewer.
- Any AI use is disclosed in the way Etsy currently requires.

C6 Amazon UK pre-post check

Use it when: you are about to publish or update a product listing on Amazon UK. Paste this:

Check my Amazon UK product listing before I publish. Report problems, do not rewrite unless I ask.

My Listing Brief (product facts):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My listing (title, Item Highlights if used, bullet points, description, backend search terms, main image described in a line, other images):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING HERE]

Is this a media product (books, music, video)? [YES / NO]

Current rule text I copied from Seller Central today (optional but best):

[PASTE CURRENT RULE TEXT OR "NONE"]

Check against these points (our summary at the time of writing, September 2026; where my pasted rule text differs, follow the pasted text):

- Title length: from 27 July 2026, Amazon announced titles of 75 characters or fewer including spaces for all categories except media. Count it and show the count. (Media titles have a longer limit, [CHECK: current limit].)
- Item Highlights (if used): 125 characters or fewer.
- Title: no special characters such as ! $? _ { } ^ ~ | unless part of the brand name. The same word no more than twice (little words like "and", "for", "the" do not count).
- Title and bullets: no promotional phrases ("best seller", "free delivery", "sale", "guaranteed", "top quality"), no emojis, no refund or guarantee claims.
- Nothing claimed that is not in the brief (materials, sizes, compatibility, certifications).
- Backend search terms: do not repeat title words, no competitor brand names, not stuffed with irrelevant words. [CHECK: current byte limit in Seller Central.]
- Main image: my description suggests a plain white background, product only, no text, logos or extra items not included.
- Any health, safety or eco claim is flagged for C8.

Output: numbered issues labelled Must fix, Should fix or Fine, the title character count, repeated-word check, then a one-line verdict.

Rules: UK English. Only judge what I pasted. If unsure about a rule, write [CHECK: Seller Central help]. This is a checklist, not legal advice.

What good output looks like:

Item: bamboo cutting board set of 3, own brand "Oakden Home".

1. Must fix: title is 118 characters. Limit is 75. Suggested: "Oakden Home Bamboo Chopping Board Set of 3, Small Medium Large" (62).
2. Must fix: "board" appears three times in the title. Maximum twice.
3. Must fix: bullet 2 says "antibacterial". The brief gives no test evidence. Remove (see C8).
4. Must fix: bullet 5 says "Best seller, free UK delivery". Promotional phrases are not allowed.
5. Fine: main image described as white background, boards only.

Title: 118 of 75. Verdict: Fix first.

Check before you post:

- The title is at or under the current limit in Seller Central.
- No claim appears that you cannot evidence.

C7 TikTok Shop UK pre-post check

Use it when: you are about to publish a product on TikTok Shop UK, or post a video that shows it. Paste this:

Check my TikTok Shop UK product listing (and video script, if I include it) before I publish. Report problems, do not rewrite unless I ask.

My Listing Brief (product facts):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My product title, description, images described in a line each, and video script or captions (if any):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING HERE]

Current rule text I copied from TikTok Shop Seller University today (optional but best):

[PASTE CURRENT RULE TEXT OR "NONE"]

Check against these points (our summary at the time of writing, September 2026; where my pasted rule text differs, follow the pasted text):

- Title: at least 15 characters, accurate and concise (product type, material, key features, quantity, size). No promotions ("x% off"), no seller name or URL, no mention of TikTok or other platforms, no symbols or special characters.
- No claims anywhere (title, description, images or video) that the product cures, treats, prevents or relieves any disease or condition.
- No weight loss claims without diet and exercise, no before and after weight images, no "easy", "guaranteed" or "permanent" weight loss.
- Images: square, the main image shows the front of the product, colour only, no text or watermarks other than product branding.
- AI content: realistic AI images or video are labelled, and AI does not make the product look different from reality (texture, features, size).
- Nothing claimed that is not in the brief. No fake urgency ("only 2 left" when untrue), no invented reviews or customer numbers.
- The product itself is allowed. [CHECK: TikTok Shop UK's current prohibited and restricted products list.]

Output: numbered issues labelled Must fix, Should fix or Fine, the title character count, then a one-line verdict.

Rules: UK English. Only judge what I pasted. If unsure about a rule, write [CHECK: TikTok Shop Seller University]. This is a checklist, not legal advice.

What good output looks like:

Item: lavender and shea hand balm, 50 ml, own brand.

1. Must fix: description says "soothes eczema". That is a claim to treat a condition. Remove.
2. Must fix: video caption says "helps you sleep". Remove, as it is a health claim the brief cannot support.
3. Should fix: title "Hand Balm!! 20% OFF" includes symbols and a promotion. Suggested: "Lavender and Shea Butter Hand Balm 50 ml" (40).
4. Fine: images described as square, product front, no added text.

Verdict: Fix first.

Check before you post:

- No health or medical wording anywhere, including in the video voiceover.
- Cosmetics have their own UK safety rules. [CHECK: gov.uk guidance on selling cosmetics before listing.]

C8 Risky claims scan

Use it when: your listing includes any claim about health, safety, the environment, quality, origin or popularity, on any platform. Paste this:

Scan my listing for risky claims. List them, explain the risk in one line each, and suggest a safer, accurate alternative that uses only facts from my brief.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My listing:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING HERE]

Platform: [PLATFORM]

Evidence I actually hold (for example a certificate, a test report, a care label, a receipt): [LIST OR "NONE"]

Look for these types of claim:

1. Health and medical: cures, treats, prevents, heals, relieves, soothes a condition, boosts immunity, detox, weight loss, "hypoallergenic", "antibacterial", "safe for babies".
2. Environmental: eco-friendly, sustainable, green, biodegradable, compostable, plastic-free, carbon neutral, "natural", "non-toxic". In the UK, environmental claims should be truthful, clear, specific and backed by evidence. Vague terms like "eco-friendly" are risky on their own.
3. Authenticity and origin: genuine, authentic, 100% real, original, handmade (if not made by the seller), vintage (without an age), "made in [COUNTRY]", "designer".
4. Quality and safety: waterproof, unbreakable, "tested", "certified", "CE marked", "UKCA", "BPA-free", "fire resistant".
5. Popularity and urgency: best seller, most popular, "everyone loves it", "only 1 left" (if untrue), "selling fast", "price going up".
6. Condition: "like new", "perfect", "flawless", "as new", "mint" (if the brief lists any wear).

For each claim found: quote it, name the type, rate it Must fix or Should fix, and suggest a replacement. If I have listed evidence that supports a claim, say it can stay, but tell me to keep the evidence and word it specifically (for example "Cotton, 100%, per care label" rather than "natural").

Rules: UK English. Do not invent evidence. Do not suggest a claim is fine just because it is common. This is a checklist, not legal advice.

What good output looks like:

Item: second-hand Joules wellies, UK 5, small scuff on toe.

Claim	Type	Rating	Safer wording
"100% waterproof"	Quality	Must fix	"No leaks when I tested them in water" (only if you did), or remove
"Eco-friendly natural rubber"	Environmental	Must fix	"Rubber" (per the brief), no eco claim
"Genuine Joules"	Authenticity	Should fix	"Joules" with a photo of the brand label and inside stamp
"Like new"	Condition	Must fix	"Good used condition, small scuff on left toe"

Check before you post:

- Every claim left in is one you could prove if asked.
- Vague green words are replaced with specific facts or removed.

C9 Brands, authenticity and trademark wording

Use it when: your item is branded, looks similar to a brand, or you are tempted to write "genuine", "authentic", "style", "inspired by" or "dupe". Paste this:

Check the brand and authenticity wording in my listing.

My Listing Brief (including how I know the brand, for example label, receipt, serial number, where I bought it):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My listing:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING HERE]

Platform: [PLATFORM]

Do the following:

1. List every brand, designer, character, team or trademark name in the listing.
2. For each, say whether the brief shows the item is actually made by or officially licensed by that brand. If not, flag it Must fix.
3. Flag any "style", "inspired by", "look-alike", "dupe", "replica", "copy", "1:1", "mirror quality" or "same as [BRAND]" wording. Explain that selling counterfeit or replica items is not allowed on any major platform and is illegal, and that using another brand's name to attract searches is against most platforms' rules even for a non-branded item. Suggest describing the item by its own features instead (for example "black quilted crossbody bag with chain strap").
4. For "genuine" or "authentic": if the brief gives proof (receipt, authenticity card, serial number, bought from the brand), suggest stating the proof plainly instead ("bought from [SHOP] in [YEAR], receipt included"). If the brief gives no proof, suggest removing the word and relying on clear photos of labels and marks.
5. If the item is handmade and uses a character, team crest or logo, flag that I may need permission from the rights holder. [CHECK: the platform's intellectual property rules.]

Rules: UK English. Never help word a listing so that a replica or counterfeit item appears genuine. If the brief suggests the item may be fake, tell me plainly not to list it as that brand. This is a checklist, not legal advice.

What good output looks like:

Item: unbranded tan leather-look tote bag.

1. Brands found: "Michael Kors style" in the title, #mulberry in the tags.
2. Must fix: the brief says unbranded. Neither brand made this bag.

3. Must fix: "style" next to a brand name, and another brand in the tags. Replace with the bag's own features: "Tan faux leather tote bag, zip top, two handles, 38 cm wide".
4. Fine: no "genuine" claims.

Check before you post:

- No brand name appears that did not make the item.
- Authenticity is shown with photos and plain facts, not adjectives.

C10 Keyword stuffing check

Use it when: your title, tags or description feel crammed, or you have pasted in a list of search words. Paste this:

Check my listing for keyword stuffing and fix it with me.

My Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF HERE]

My listing (title, tags, hashtags, item specifics or search terms, description):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING HERE]

Platform: [PLATFORM]

Flag any of these, quoting the words:

1. Words repeated in the title more than needed.
2. Brand names, character names or product types that do not describe this item.
3. Lists of search words at the end of the description ("keywords: dress gown frock party wedding summer...").
4. Tags or hashtags that describe other items, trends or sizes this item is not.
5. Misspellings added on purpose to catch searches.
6. Size, colour or condition words that contradict the brief (for example "S M L" for a single size).

Then suggest a cleaner version of the title and tags that uses only accurate words from the brief, within the platform's limits.

Platform limits I have checked today (optional): [PASTE OR "NONE"]

Rules: UK English. Only use facts from the brief. If you do not know the platform's current limit, write [CHECK: current limit]. Accurate words buyers actually search for are fine; the aim is relevance, not fewer words.

What good output looks like:

Item: Boden navy spotty midi dress, size 12, eBay UK.

1. Repeated: "dress" appears three times in the title.
2. Unrelated: "Hobbs Whistles" in the title. Neither brand made it.
3. Size list: "10 12 14". The brief says size 12 only.
4. Keyword block at the end of the description: remove.

Cleaner title: "Boden Navy Spot Midi Dress Size 12 Short Sleeve Cotton Jersey"
[CHECK: is it cotton jersey? The brief says cotton only.] (61 characters)

Check before you post:

- Every word in the title is true for this item.
- No keyword block left in the description.

C11 UK consumer law wording check

Use it when: your listing or shop has returns, refunds or guarantee wording, or you are not sure whether you are selling as a private seller or a business. Paste this:

Check the returns, refunds and guarantee wording in my listing or shop policy against UK consumer law basics. This is a practical check, not legal advice.

I sell as a: [PRIVATE SELLER CLEARING MY OWN THINGS / I BUY TO RESELL / I MAKE ITEMS TO SELL / NOT SURE]

Platform: [PLATFORM]

My returns, refunds or guarantee wording:

[PASTE WORDING]

My listing (for context):

[PASTE YOUR LISTING HERE]

Do the following:

1. Seller status: if I said "I buy to resell" or "I make items to sell", explain that I am likely to be treated as a trader under consumer law, even on a personal account, and should check gov.uk guidance. If "NOT SURE", list the kind of factors HMRC and consumer law look at (such as buying to resell, regularity, profit motive) and tell me to check gov.uk. Do not decide for me.
2. If I am a trader, flag any wording that tries to remove or limit buyers' legal rights, such as "no refunds", "no returns under any circumstances", "sold as seen" or "buyer pays all return costs even if faulty". Explain in plain words that UK buyers from traders generally have:
 - a right to goods that are of satisfactory quality, fit for purpose and as described;
 - a short-term right to reject faulty goods, generally within 30 days;
 - for most online orders, a right to cancel within 14 days of delivery, with some exceptions (for example personalised or made-to-order items).
3. If I am a private seller, explain that the item must still be as described, that a "no returns" policy covers change of mind only, and that platform buyer protection can still apply if the item is not as described, faulty or damaged.
4. Flag any guarantee or warranty I offer that is vague ("guaranteed quality"), and suggest a clear version or removing it.
5. Suggest fair, clear replacement wording for my status.

Rules: UK English. Never suggest wording that denies legal rights. Mark this clearly as not legal advice, and tell me to check gov.uk, Citizens Advice and the platform's current help pages.

What good output looks like:

Seller: buys clothes at car boots to resell on eBay. Wording: "Sold as seen. No returns, no refunds."

1. Status: buying to resell suggests you are likely a trader in law. Check gov.uk guidance on selling online.
2. Must fix: "Sold as seen. No returns, no refunds" tries to remove rights that traders cannot remove. Buyers generally keep the right to cancel most online orders within 14 days and to reject faulty goods.
3. (Not applicable.)
4. (No guarantee offered.)
5. Suggested wording: "Returns accepted within 14 days of delivery. Please message me through eBay to start a return. This does not affect your statutory rights."

Not legal advice. Check gov.uk, Citizens Advice and eBay's current help pages.

Check before you post:

- Your returns settings in the app match the wording in your listing.
- If you are a trader, your policy does not remove any legal right.

UK consumer law basics (quick reference)

Plain summary for everyday selling. Not legal advice. Check gov.uk and Citizens Advice for the current position.

Topic	Private seller	Trader
Item must match the description	Yes	Yes
Satisfactory quality and fit for purpose	Not in the same way, so describe faults honestly	Yes (Consumer Rights Act 2015)
Faulty item rejected for a refund	Only if not as described	Generally within 30 days
Change-of-mind cancellation online	No legal right	Generally 14 days from the day after delivery, some exceptions

Topic	Private seller	Trader
Misleading claims	Can lead to platform action and "not as described" claims	Also against UK consumer protection law
Fake or incentivised reviews	Against platform rules	Against platform rules, and banned under the Digital Markets, Competition and Consumers Act 2024

Environmental claims: the Competition and Markets Authority's Green Claims Code says claims should be truthful and accurate, clear and unambiguous, not leave out important information, make fair comparisons, consider the full life cycle, and be substantiated. If you cannot back a green claim with evidence, leave it out.

Tax is separate: platforms now report some sellers' sales to HMRC. That report is not the same as being a trader under consumer law, and it does not by itself mean you owe tax. Check gov.uk if you are unsure.

10 Batch workflow

Listing one item with AI is quick. Listing ten items one at a time, starting a new chat for each, is not. This module shows you how to set up one chat session that knows your shop, feed it a stack of items, and get back tidy listings you can copy straight in, or paste into a spreadsheet for a bulk upload or cross-listing tool.

The order we suggest:

1. W1 Write your shop style instruction once. Save it in your phone's notes.
2. W3 Turn your rough notes for the whole pile into Listing Briefs in one go.
3. W2 Start a batch session, paste your style instruction, then feed it up to 10 briefs.
4. W4 Get the batch back as a table or CSV.
5. W5 Run a quick accuracy check over the whole batch.
6. W6 to W8 Plan the week, repurpose across platforms, and refresh listings that have gone quiet.

A tip for phones: free AI chats can lose track in very long sessions. If answers start drifting (American spelling, invented details, forgetting your rules), start a fresh chat and paste your shop style instruction again. Batches of 5 to 10 items work best.

Privacy: never paste buyers' names, addresses or order details into an AI tool.

W1 Build your reusable "shop style" instruction

Use it when: you are fed up of re-explaining your shop to the AI every time. Do this once, save the result, and paste it at the start of every session.

Paste this:

Help me write a short, reusable "shop style instruction" I can paste at the start of any AI chat before I list items. Write in UK English.

Here are my answers:

- Platforms I sell on: [E.G. VINTED AND EBAY UK]
- What I mostly sell: [E.G. WOMEN'S CLOTHING SIZES 8 TO 18, SOME HOMEWARE]
- Am I a private seller or a business? [PRIVATE / BUSINESS]
- My tone: [E.G. FRIENDLY AND PLAIN, NO EMOJIS / A FEW EMOJIS OK ON DEPOP]
- How I describe condition: [E.G. NEW WITH TAGS / NEW WITHOUT TAGS / VERY GOOD / GOOD / SATISFACTORY]
- How I measure: [E.G. PIT TO PIT AND LENGTH IN CM, LAID FLAT]
- My postage: [E.G. POSTED WITHIN 2 WORKING DAYS, SMOKE-FREE HOME, PET-FREE HOME, ONLY IF TRUE]
- My returns line: [E.G. "PRIVATE SELLER: I DON'T ACCEPT RETURNS FOR CHANGE OF MIND, BUT YOU'RE COVERED IF THE ITEM ISN'T AS DESCRIBED" OR THE BUSINESS RETURNS POLICY]
- Words or things I never want: [E.G. "STUNNING", "RARE" UNLESS IT IS, EMOJIS IN TITLES]
- Anything else: [E.G. ALWAYS LIST FLAWS FIRST IN THE CONDITION SECTION]

Turn this into a numbered instruction of no more than 15 lines that starts with "You are my listing assistant for a UK shop." It must include these fixed rules:

- Use UK English spelling, UK sizes and £.
- Only use facts I give you in each Listing Brief. Never invent brand, size, material, measurements, age, condition or included items.
- Where something is missing, write [CHECK: what is missing] instead of guessing.
- Respect each platform's title and description limits. For eBay UK, keep titles to 80 characters or fewer.
- No hype words, no keyword stuffing, no misleading claims, no health or medical claims, no fake urgency, no mentions of other platforms in a listing, and never suggest payment outside the platform.
- Always state flaws clearly.

Keep it short enough to fit in a phone note.

What good output looks like:

Invented example for a private seller on Vinted and eBay UK.

You are my listing assistant for a UK shop.

1. I am a private seller on Vinted and eBay UK. I mainly sell women's clothing (UK sizes 8 to 18) and some homeware.
2. Use UK English, UK sizes and £.
3. Only use facts from the Listing Brief I give you. Never invent details.
4. If something is missing, write [CHECK: what is missing].
5. eBay UK titles: 80 characters or fewer, most important words first. Vinted titles: short and plain.
6. Tone: friendly and plain. No emojis. Never use "stunning", "gorgeous" or "rare" unless I say so.
7. Condition words: New with tags, New without tags, Very good, Good, Satisfactory.
8. Measurements: pit to pit and length in cm, laid flat.
9. List flaws first in the condition section, clearly and calmly.
10. Postage line: "Posted within 2 working days from a smoke-free home."
11. Returns line: "Private seller, so no returns for change of mind. You're covered if the item isn't as described."
12. No keyword stuffing, no misleading or health claims, no fake urgency, no other platform names, never suggest paying outside the platform.

Check before you post:

- Only include "smoke-free" or "pet-free" if it is true for every item.
- If you are a business seller, your returns line must reflect UK consumer rights (for most online sales, buyers have a right to cancel within 14 days). Check the platform's business seller rules.
- Re-read it every few months, and update it if your platforms or policies change.

W2 Start a batch session (list up to 10 items in one chat)

Use it when: you have a pile of items photographed and noted, and want to list them in one sitting.

Paste this:

[PASTE YOUR SHOP STYLE INSTRUCTION FROM W1]

We are going to list [NUMBER, UP TO 10] items in this chat. Platform for this batch: [EBAY UK / VINTED / DEPOP / ETSY].

How this works:

- I will paste one Listing Brief at a time, each starting with "ITEM [NUMBER]".
- For each item, reply with: Title, Description, Condition line, [ITEM SPECIFICS FOR EBAY / TAGS FOR ETSY / HASHTAGS FOR DEPOP / NOTHING EXTRA FOR VINTED], and a list of any [CHECK: ...] items.
- Keep the same layout for every item so I can copy quickly on my phone.
- Do not carry facts from one item to another. Each item uses only its own brief.
- Do not add a price unless I include one in the brief.
- When I type "DONE", stop and wait for my next instruction.

Reply with "Ready for ITEM 1" and nothing else.

Then paste each brief, for example:

ITEM 1

[PASTE LISTING BRIEF]

What good output looks like:

Invented example, platform eBay UK, ITEM 3 brief: "Joules women's quilted gilet, navy, size 12, zip front, 2 zip pockets, light pilling on inside collar, pre-owned."

ITEM 3 Title: Joules Womens Navy Quilted Gilet Size 12 Zip Front Pockets Pre-Owned (68 characters) Description: Navy quilted gilet from Joules in women's size 12. Full zip front and two zip pockets. Pre-owned in good condition with light pilling on the inside collar (see photos). Measurements: pit to pit [CHECK: cm], length [CHECK: cm]. Posted within 2 working days from a smoke-free home. Condition line: Pre-owned, good. Light pilling on the inside collar. Item specifics: Brand: Joules. Size: 12. Colour: Blue [CHECK: eBay's colour list may use Blue for navy]. Type: Gilet. Department: Women. Closure: Zip. Outer shell material: [CHECK]. To check: measurements, outer shell material.

Check before you post:

- Scan each item for facts that "leaked" from an earlier item (a size or brand that belongs to something else).
- Count eBay titles (80 characters maximum). The AI's count can be wrong, so trust eBay's counter.
- Answer every [CHECK: ...] before you list.

W3 Turn messy notes for 10 items into Listing Briefs in one go

Use it when: you have scribbled quick notes for a stack of items and want them turned into proper briefs before you start W2.

Paste this:

Write in UK English.

Below are my rough notes for [NUMBER] items, one line or short paragraph each. Turn each one into a Listing Brief using exactly these headings:

Item number | What it is | Brand | Size | Measurements | Colour | Material | Condition and flaws | What's included | Platform | Postage | Price floor

Rules:

- Only use what is in my notes. Do not guess brand, size, material, age or value.
- Where a heading has no information, write [CHECK: ...] with a short prompt of what I need to find (for example [CHECK: look at care label for material]).
- If a note mentions a flaw, it must appear in "Condition and flaws".
- Keep each brief to one short block so I can check it on my phone.
- At the end, give me one combined "to find" list grouped by item, so I can check everything in one trip to the pile.

My notes:

[PASTE YOUR NOTES]

What good output looks like:

Invented notes: "1. m&s cardi cream 14 bobbly cuffs. 2. hunter wellies green uk5 scuffed toe. 3. le creuset mug blue chip base"

Item 1 | Cardigan | M&S | 14 | [CHECK: pit to pit and length in cm] | Cream | [CHECK: care label] | Bobbling on cuffs | Cardigan only | [CHECK: platform] | [CHECK:

postage] | [CHECK: price floor] Item 2 | Wellington boots | Hunter | UK 5 | [CHECK: insole length] | Green | [CHECK: material, look inside the boot] | Scuffs on toe | Boots only | [CHECK] | [CHECK] | [CHECK] Item 3 | Mug | Le Creuset | [CHECK: capacity] | [CHECK: height] | Blue | [CHECK: material, look on the base] | Chip on base | Mug only | [CHECK] | [CHECK] | [CHECK]

To find: Item 1: measurements, material. Item 2: insole length, material. Item 3: capacity, height, material. All: platform, postage, price floor.

Check before you post:

- Check the brand label on every item before you trust the brief. Never list an item as a brand you cannot confirm.
- Measure while the pile is out, then fill in all the [CHECK: ...] gaps in one go.

W4 Batch output as a table or CSV for bulk upload tools

Use it when: you have finished a batch and want it in a spreadsheet, or in a CSV to import into a bulk listing or cross-listing tool.

Paste this:

Take all the items we have written in this chat and put them into one table.

Columns (in this order): [PASTE THE COLUMN HEADERS YOUR TOOL OR SPREADSHEET USES, OR USE: SKU, Title, Description, Condition, Brand, Size, Colour, Material, Category, Price, Quantity, Postage]

Rules:

- One row per item. Use the exact facts already agreed in this chat. Do not add or change anything.
- Leave a cell as [CHECK] if the fact is missing. Do not guess.
- If I ask for CSV: output plain CSV in a single code block, comma-separated, with every cell wrapped in double quotes. Replace any line breaks inside descriptions with a space. Replace any double quote inside a cell with two double quotes.
- Use UK English and £ with no currency symbol in the Price column (numbers only, for example 12.50).
- After the table or CSV, list any rows that still contain [CHECK].

Output format: [TABLE / CSV]

What good output looks like:

Invented example, CSV of two items:

```
"SKU","Title","Description","Condition","Brand","Size","Colour","Material","Category","Price","Quantity","Postage"
"WL-014","Joules Womens Navy Quilted Gilet Size 12 Zip Front Pockets Pre-Owned","Navy quilted gilet from Joules in women's size 12. Full zip front and two zip pockets. Light pilling on the inside collar (see photos).","Pre-owned, good","Joules","12","Blue","[CHECK]","Coats and jackets","18.00","1","Royal Mail 2nd Class"
"WL-015","Hunter Wellington Boots Green UK 5","Green Hunter wellington boots in UK 5. Scuffs on the toes (see photos).","Pre-owned, good","Hunter","5","Green","[CHECK]","Boots","25.00","1","[CHECK]"
```

Rows with [CHECK]: WL-014 (Material), WL-015 (Material, Postage).

Check before you post:

- Every bulk tool has its own template. Download your tool's template and use its exact column headers, then paste those into the prompt.

- Open the CSV in a spreadsheet app and look at it before you upload. Check that long descriptions have not split across columns.
- Do a test upload of one or two rows first.
- Remember the price in the table is your decision. The AI only copies what you told it.

W5 Batch accuracy check before you post

Use it when: you have a batch of listings ready and want a second pair of eyes to spot invented details, missing flaws and rule problems.

Paste this:

Act as a careful UK listings checker. Write in UK English.

Below are my Listing Briefs (the facts) and then the listings written from them.
For each item, compare the listing with its brief and report:

1. Any detail in the listing that is NOT in the brief (possible invention).
2. Any flaw in the brief that is missing or softened in the listing.
3. Title length problems (eBay UK: over 80 characters; other platforms: [CHECK: the platform's current limit]).
4. Hype words, keyword stuffing (the same word repeated, lists of unrelated brands), misleading claims, health claims, fake urgency or other platform names.
5. American spellings or US sizes where a UK one is needed.

Give one short row per item: Item number | Problems found | Suggested fix. If an item is fine, write "No problems found".

Do not rewrite whole listings unless I ask.

BRIEFS:

[PASTE BRIEFS]

LISTINGS:

[PASTE LISTINGS]

What good output looks like:

Invented example:

Item	Problems found	Suggested fix
1	Listing says "100% wool" but brief says "wool blend"	Change to "wool blend"
2	Brief lists scuffed toes, listing does not mention them	Add "Scuffs on the toes (see photos)" to condition
3	Title is 86 characters	Remove "Great" and "Look" to get under 80
4	"Color" (US spelling)	Change to "colour"
5	No problems found	None

Check before you post:

- The checker can miss things too. Always read the flaws section yourself.
- If the checker flags an invention, go back to the item, not the AI, for the truth.

W6 Weekly listing routine planner

Use it when: you want a realistic weekly plan that fits your evenings and weekends, so listing does not pile up.

Paste this:

Help me plan a weekly listing routine. Write in UK English. Be realistic, not motivational.

My situation:

- Time I have: [E.G. MONDAY AND WEDNESDAY EVENINGS 1 HOUR, SATURDAY MORNING 2 HOURS]
- Roughly how many items I want to list each week: [NUMBER]
- Platforms: [LIST]
- Where I get stock: [E.G. OWN WARDROBE, CAR BOOTS, CHARITY SHOPS, MY OWN HANDMADE ITEMS]
- What slows me down most: [E.G. PHOTOS, MEASURING, WRITING, POSTING PARCELS]
- Post office or drop-off times near me: [E.G. LOCKER AVAILABLE 24 HOURS]

Give me:

1. A day-by-day plan in a table: Day, Time, Task, Roughly how many items, Tools or prompts to use (refer to prompt IDs like W2, W4, R prompts for pricing, M prompts for messages).
2. Batch tasks together (all photos in one go, all measuring in one go, all writing in one AI session).
3. A 10-minute daily check for messages and dispatch.
4. A weekly 20-minute review: what sold, what has had no interest for a while, what to refresh or reprice.

Keep it simple enough to follow on a phone. Do not promise any sales results.

What good output looks like:

Invented example: two weekday evenings and Saturday morning, aiming for about 15 items a week on Vinted and eBay.

Day	Time	Task	Items	Prompts
Saturday	9:00 to 10:00	Photograph and measure the week's items in daylight	15	P prompts, shot lists
Saturday	10:00 to 11:00	Notes into briefs, then list the first 5	5	W3, W2
Monday	19:30 to 20:30	List the next 5, run the batch check	5	W2, W5
Wednesday	19:30 to 20:30	List the last 5, weekly review	5	W2, W8, R prompts

Day	Time	Task	Items	Prompts
Every day	10 minutes	Reply to messages, pack and post sold items		M prompts

Weekly review questions: What sold? Which listings have had few views or likes for 2 weeks or more? Which items need better photos, a clearer title or a price check?

Check before you post:

- Dispatch times you promise in listings must match the plan you can actually keep.
- Keep a simple stock and pricing tracker (see templates/stock-and-pricing-tracker.csv) so the review takes minutes, not an hour.
- If you are selling regularly for profit, read HMRC's guidance on trading income and the platforms' reporting rules. Check the current rules on GOV.UK.

W7 Repurpose one listing across platforms

Use it when: you have written a good listing for one platform and want versions for others without starting again.

Paste this:

[PASTE YOUR SHOP STYLE INSTRUCTION FROM W1, IF YOU HAVE ONE]

Here is my Listing Brief:

[PASTE YOUR LISTING BRIEF]

Here is the listing I already wrote for [PLATFORM]:

[PASTE THE LISTING]

Rewrite it for: [LIST TARGET PLATFORMS, E.G. VINTED, DEPOP, ETSY]

For each platform, give me what that platform needs:

- eBay UK: title of 80 characters or fewer, description, item specifics list.
- Vinted: short plain title, description with measurements and condition.
- Depop: description that starts with the key details, plus up to 5 relevant hashtags.
- Etsy: title (plain and readable, most important words first), description, and up to 13 tags of 20 characters or fewer. Only for handmade, vintage (20 years or older) or craft supplies items.
- Amazon UK: title of 75 characters or fewer for most categories (Amazon's rule from 27 July 2026; media categories differ), an Item Highlights line of 125 characters or fewer, no banned symbols (! $? _ { } ^ ~ | unless part of the brand), no word more than twice, up to 5 bullet points, description.
- TikTok Shop UK: title with no symbols, promo words or platform names, and a short description of at least 30 words.

Rules:

- Only use facts from the brief. The facts must be the same on every platform. Change the format and tone, not the facts.
- Write [CHECK: ...] for anything a platform needs that is not in the brief.
- Do not mention any other platform inside a listing, and never suggest buying or paying elsewhere.
- No hype, no keyword stuffing, no misleading or health claims.
- Tell me if the item looks unsuitable for a platform (for example, not handmade or vintage for Etsy, or a used item for a new-only listing) instead of forcing it.

What good output looks like:

Invented example: vintage 1990s Levi's denim jacket, size M, mid-wash, small fade at the left cuff. Originally written for eBay UK.

Vinted Title: Vintage 90s Levi's denim jacket, size M, mid-wash Description: Vintage Levi's trucker-style denim jacket in a mid-wash, size M. Small fade at the left cuff (see photos). Pit to pit 56 cm, length 62 cm, laid flat.

Depop Vintage 90s Levi's denim jacket, size M. Mid-wash, trucker style. Small fade at the left cuff (see photos). Pit to pit 56 cm, length 62 cm. #vintagelevis #denimjacket #90svintage #levisjacket #truckerjacket

Etsy Title: Vintage 1990s Levi's Denim Jacket Size M Mid Wash Trucker Jacket Tags: vintage levis, denim jacket, 90s denim, trucker jacket, levis jacket, mid wash denim, mens denim jacket, 1990s jacket, vintage jacket, blue jean jacket, retro denim, size m jacket, levis trucker Note: [CHECK: confirm the decade from the care label or tab so the "vintage" claim is accurate. Etsy's vintage category is for items at least 20 years old; check the current rule in Etsy's help pages.]

Check before you post:

- Cross-listing the same single item? Remove it from every other platform as soon as it sells, or you may sell it twice.
- Check each platform's current limits in module 12 (the cheatsheet) and in the platform's help pages.
- Only call something "vintage" if you can back up its age.

W8 Refresh a batch of quiet listings

Use it when: some listings have had little interest for a couple of weeks and you want to improve them honestly, without keyword stuffing or fake price tricks.

Paste this:

Write in UK English.

Below are [NUMBER] listings that have had little interest. For each one I have added the Listing Brief, the current title and description, how long it has been listed, and any views, likes or watchers I can see.

[FOR EACH ITEM PASTE: BRIEF / CURRENT TITLE / CURRENT DESCRIPTION / DAYS LISTED / VIEWS, LIKES OR WATCHERS]

For each item, suggest:

1. A clearer title (using words a buyer would actually search for, most important first, within the platform's limit).
2. The top 1 or 2 fixes to the description (missing measurements, unclear condition, missing brand or size).
3. Photo fixes to try (for example daylight, plain background, label close-up, flaw close-up).
4. Whether a price check is worth doing, and what sold listings I should look up myself to compare (describe the search, do not invent prices).

Rules: only use facts from the brief; [CHECK: ...] for missing facts; no keyword stuffing, no "rare" or "vintage" unless the brief supports it, no fake discounts, no misleading claims. Do not promise it will sell.

What good output looks like:

Invented example: "Blue top size 10", listed 21 days, 14 views, 0 likes. Brief says: Whistles, silk-blend blouse, cornflower blue, UK 10, no flaws.

Item 1 New title: Whistles Silk Blend Blouse Cornflower Blue UK 10 Description fixes: add the brand and fabric in the first line. Add pit to pit and length [CHECK: measure]. Photo fixes: a daylight flat lay on a plain background, plus a close-up of the Whistles label and the fabric content label. Price check: search sold listings for "Whistles silk blouse size 10" on the same platform and compare items in similar condition. Note 3 to 5 sold prices in your tracker before deciding.

Check before you post:

- Do not relist the same item many times to game search. Check the platform's rules on duplicate listings.

- A price drop should be real. Never raise a price just to "drop" it later.

Save these for every session

Keep these three things in one phone note so a batch session takes seconds to start:

1. Your shop style instruction (W1).
2. The empty Listing Brief template (see templates/listing-brief-template.txt).
3. The column headers your spreadsheet or bulk tool uses (for W4).

11 Worked examples

Six complete examples, start to finish. Each one starts with the kind of messy notes most of us actually write, then shows the Listing Brief, the title, the description, the tags or item specifics, the price reasoning and one buyer reply.

Please read this first:

- Every item, shop and brand-owner in this module is invented for illustration. Real brand names appear only to show how a genuine branded item would be described.
- Every "comp" (comparable sold price) is an invented example. They show the method, not real market prices. Always look up real sold listings yourself on the platform you are using, for items in the same condition.
- Fee figures are the ones we checked in September 2026 (see module 12). Fees change. Check the current rule in the platform's help pages before you do your own sums.
- Nothing here predicts what you will sell or earn. The aim is a clear, accurate listing.

The prompts used are shown in brackets, so you can follow along: B (brief), T (titles), D (descriptions), K (keywords and specifics), R (pricing), M (messages).

Example 1: Vinted, knitted jumper

Messy notes (before)

white stuff jumper oatmeal cable knit 14?? bit bobbly under arms. no holes. wore it a few times. smells fine. 8 quid?

Listing Brief (B prompts)

Field	Fact
What it is	Cable-knit jumper, crew neck
Brand	White Stuff

Field	Fact
Size	UK 14 (on label)
Measurements	Pit to pit 54 cm, length 64 cm, laid flat
Colour	Oatmeal
Material	60% cotton, 40% wool (care label)
Condition and flaws	Very good. Light bobbling under both arms. No holes, marks or stretching.
What's included	Jumper only
Platform	Vinted
Postage	Vinted's standard postage options. Posted within 2 working days.
Price floor	£10

Note: the notes said "14??" so we checked the label before writing the brief. It says 14. The notes guessed "8 quid", but the price came later, from comps.

Title (T prompts)

White Stuff oatmeal cable knit jumper, size 14, cotton wool

Description (D prompts)

Oatmeal cable-knit jumper from White Stuff, UK size 14. Crew neck, 60% cotton and 40% wool.

Condition: very good. Light bobbling under both arms (see photo 5). No holes, marks or stretching.

Measurements (laid flat): pit to pit 54 cm, length 64 cm.

Posted within 2 working days. Happy to answer any questions.

Tags and fields (K prompts)

Vinted uses fields rather than tags: Category: Women > Jumpers and sweaters. Brand: White Stuff. Size: UK 14. Condition: Very good. Colour: Beige. Material: Cotton, Wool.

Price reasoning (R prompts)

Invented example comps (for illustration only, not real prices):

Comp	Condition	Sold price
White Stuff cable jumper, size 12, cream	Very good	£14
White Stuff cable jumper, size 14, grey, bobbling	Good	£11
White Stuff jumper, size 16, oatmeal	Very good	£15
White Stuff cable jumper, size 14, no flaws	Excellent	£18

Reasoning: the closest matches (same size or neighbouring sizes, similar condition) sold between £11 and £15. Ours has light bobbling, so it sits in the middle, not at the top. Vinted does not charge private sellers a selling fee; the buyer pays the Buyer Protection fee at checkout. List at £14, accept offers down to the £10 floor. Our original "8 quid" guess would have left money on the table without being any quicker to sell.

Buyer reply (M prompts)

Buyer: Would you take £8?

Reply: Hi, thanks for the offer. That's a bit low for this one, as similar White Stuff jumpers have sold for more. I could do £12 including the bobbling I've shown. Let me know and I'll send an offer through Vinted.

Example 2: eBay UK, used games console

Messy notes (before)

ps4 slim 500gb black. 1 pad. cables. works fine, did factory reset. couple scratches top. pad left stick a bit loose? no box. no games.

Listing Brief

Field	Fact
What it is	Games console, PlayStation 4 Slim
Brand and model	Sony PlayStation 4 Slim, 500GB, model CUH-2216A (from the label underneath)
Colour	Jet black
Condition and flaws	Used, fully working. Tested: powers on, reads discs, connects to Wi-Fi, controller pairs and charges. Two light scratches on the top surface. The controller's left stick has slight play (movement) but no drift in the tests we ran [CHECK: tested in a game for 10 minutes, no drift seen].
Account	Factory reset, signed out of all accounts
What's included	Console, 1 wireless controller, power cable, HDMI cable, USB charging cable
Not included	Box, games, manuals
Platform	eBay UK, private seller
Postage	Tracked 48 hour service, well padded
Price floor	£95

Title (T prompts, 80 characters maximum)

Sony PS4 Slim 500GB Console Jet Black CUH-2216A Controller Cables Tested Working

(80 characters. Count it yourself in eBay's title box, as eBay's counter is the one that matters.)

Description (D prompts)

Sony PlayStation 4 Slim, 500GB, jet black, model CUH-2216A. Used and fully working.

Tested before listing: powers on, reads discs, connects to Wi-Fi, controller pairs and charges. Factory reset and signed out of all accounts.

Condition: two light scratches on the top surface (see photos 4 and 5). The controller's left stick has a little play when you wiggle it, but we saw no drift when testing in a game. Photos show the actual console for sale.

Included: console, 1 wireless controller, power cable, HDMI cable, USB charging cable.

Not included: box, games or manuals.

Posted with a tracked 48 hour service, well padded.

Item specifics (K prompts)

Brand: Sony. Model: Sony PlayStation 4 Slim. Platform: Sony PlayStation 4. Storage capacity: 500 GB. Colour: Black. MPN: CUH-2216A. Region code: PAL [CHECK: eBay's region field and the console's region]. Connectivity: HDMI, USB, Wi-Fi. Features: Wi-Fi capability, Bluetooth [CHECK: confirm for this model]. Type: Home console.

Price reasoning

Invented example comps (for illustration only, not real prices):

Comp	Included	Sold price
PS4 Slim 500GB, 1 controller, cables, no box	Similar to ours	£105
PS4 Slim 500GB, 1 controller, cables, boxed	Box adds appeal	£120
PS4 Slim 500GB, 2 controllers, 3 games	More included	£135
PS4 Slim 500GB, console only, scratched	Less included	£80
PS4 Slim 1TB, 1 controller	Bigger storage	£125

Reasoning: only the first comp matches ours closely. Boxed, bundled and 1TB listings are not fair comparisons. The loose-ish left stick and top scratches pull it slightly below the clean example. As a UK private seller, eBay charges no final value fee on most categories (fees can apply to optional upgrades or overseas delivery), and the buyer pays a Buyer Protection fee. Postage cost for a tracked, padded parcel comes out of our side if we offer "free" postage, so we charge postage instead. List at £105 plus postage, Buy It Now with offers, floor £95.

Buyer reply

Buyer: Does the controller drift? Mine did and it drove me mad.

Reply: Hi, fair question. The left stick has a little play if you wiggle it, but I tested it in a game for 10 minutes and saw no drift. I've mentioned it in the listing so there are no surprises. If anything isn't as described when it arrives, you're covered by eBay's protection and I'll sort it.

Example 3: Etsy, handmade ceramic tealight holder

Messy notes (before)

new batch tealight holders!! sage speckle glaze, stoneware, 2 per set. about 8cm tall 7 wide. little star cutouts. glaze pooling on some = handmade look. tealights not incl. dishwasher? no, hand wash

Listing Brief

Field	Fact
What it is	Tealight holders, set of 2, with star-shaped cut-outs
Maker	Handmade by us (invented shop: Hollow Hill Pottery)
Size	Each about 8 cm tall, 7 cm wide. Fits a standard tealight [CHECK: measure inner opening]
Colour	Sage green speckled glaze
Material	Stoneware, glazed
Condition	New, handmade
Handmade variation	Glaze pools differently on each piece. No two sets identical.

Field	Fact
What's included	2 holders. Tealights not included.
Care	Hand wash only. Not dishwasher safe.
Safety	Never leave a lit candle unattended. Place on a heat-resistant surface.
Platform	Etsy UK
Postage	Royal Mail Tracked 48, boxed with recycled paper padding
Price floor	£20 (covers materials, firing, packaging and fees)

Title (T prompts, 140 characters maximum)

Handmade Ceramic Tealight Holder Set of 2, Sage Green Speckled Stoneware Candle Holders with Star Cut Outs

(106 characters.)

Description (D prompts)

A pair of handmade stoneware tealight holders in a speckled sage green glaze, each with small star-shaped cut-outs that let the light through.

Size: each holder is about 8 cm tall and 7 cm wide, and fits a standard tealight.

Handmade: every piece is thrown and glazed by hand in our studio, so the glaze pools a little differently on each one. Your pair will be similar to the photos but not identical.

Included: 2 holders. Tealights are not included.

Care: hand wash only, not dishwasher safe.

Please note: never leave a lit candle unattended, and stand holders on a heat-resistant surface. The holders get warm when in use.

Posted Royal Mail Tracked 48, boxed with recycled paper padding.

Tags (K prompts, 13 tags, 20 characters maximum each)

tealight holder, ceramic candle, stoneware holder, sage green decor, speckled pottery, star candle holder, handmade pottery, ceramic tealight, candle holder set, housewarming gift, rustic home decor, pottery gift, table centrepiece

Price reasoning

This is our own product, so we price from costs first, then sense-check against the market.

Costs (invented example figures): clay and glaze £3.20, kiln share £2.00, packaging £1.40, time (1 hour at the rate we choose) £12.00. Total before fees: £18.60.

Etsy fees (checked September 2026; check the current rules): listing fee $0.20 (about £0.15), 6.5% transaction fee on the item price plus postage, and a UK payment processing fee of 4% + £0.20. A UK Regulatory Operating Fee also applies [CHECK: current rate in Etsy's fee policy].

At £24 plus £4.50 postage (order total £28.50): transaction fee about £1.85, processing about £1.34, listing about £0.15. That is about £3.34 before the Regulatory Operating Fee. After the £4.50 postage covers the real postage cost, we keep about £20.66 against £18.60 of costs.

Invented example comps (for illustration only, not real prices): three similar handmade stoneware tealight pairs listed at £22, £26 and £28.

Reasoning: £24 covers our costs and fees with a small margin and sits within the range of similar handmade pieces. List at £24 plus postage.

Buyer reply

Buyer: Hi, would these hold a small pillar candle instead?

Reply: Hi, thanks for asking. They're made for standard tealights, so a pillar candle won't fit inside. The opening is about [CHECK: inner width] cm across. If you'd like something for pillar candles, let me know and I can tell you when I have some in the shop.

Example 4: Depop, vintage denim jacket

Messy notes (before)

wrangler denim jacket vintage 90s? label says made in 1996 i think. medium. light wash. corduroy collar. small mark on back. fits boxy

Listing Brief

Field	Fact
What it is	Denim jacket, corduroy collar, button front
Brand	Wrangler
Age	Care label shows a 1996 date code [CHECK: photograph the label to show buyers]
Size	M on label. Fits boxy.
Measurements	Pit to pit 60 cm, length 63 cm, sleeve 61 cm, laid flat
Colour	Light wash blue, brown corduroy collar
Material	100% cotton (care label)
Condition and flaws	Good vintage condition. Small faint mark on the upper back, about 1 cm (photo 6). Natural fading at the seams.
What's included	Jacket only
Platform	Depop
Postage	Depop tracked shipping
Price floor	£30

Description (D prompts: Depop uses one description field, keep it short)

Vintage 1996 Wrangler denim jacket in a light wash with a brown corduroy collar. Size M, boxy fit.

Pit to pit 60 cm, length 63 cm, sleeve 61 cm (laid flat). 100% cotton.

Good vintage condition: natural fading at the seams and a small faint mark on the upper back, about 1 cm (see photo 6). Date on the care label shown in photo 7.

#vintagewrangler #denimjacket #90svintage #corduroycollar #lightwashdenim

(5 hashtags, the Depop maximum.)

Fields (K prompts)

Category: Men > Coats and jackets [CHECK: or Women, depending on the cut]. Brand: Wrangler. Size: M. Condition: Used, good. Colour: Blue. Style: Vintage, 90s. Source: Vintage.

Price reasoning

Invented example comps (for illustration only, not real prices):

Comp	Condition	Sold price
90s Wrangler denim jacket, cord collar, M	Good	£38
Vintage Wrangler denim jacket, L, no cord collar	Good	£30
90s Wrangler cord collar jacket, M, heavy fading	Fair	£28
90s Wrangler cord collar jacket, S	Excellent	£45

Reasoning: the first comp is the closest match. Ours has a small mark, so we list a little below it. Depop charges UK sellers no selling fee, but a payment processing fee still comes out of each sale [CHECK: current rate in Depop's help centre]; buyers pay a marketplace fee. List at £36, floor £30.

Buyer reply

Buyer: I'm usually a size 12 in women's, would this fit?

Reply: Hi! It's a men's M with a boxy fit, so it'll be roomy on a size 12. The best check is to lay a jacket you like flat and measure pit to pit: this one is 60 cm. If yours is around 52 to 55 cm, this will be an oversized fit.

Example 5: Amazon UK, small brand phone stand

Messy notes (before)

oakpeg stand v2. beech wood, adjustable 3 angles. fits phones up to 7in and small tablets? (tested ipad mini ok). cable slot at back. rubber feet. 12 x 9 cm base. made in UK workshop. RRP 17.99??

Listing Brief

Field	Fact
What it is	Adjustable phone stand, wooden
Brand	Oakpeg (invented small UK brand, brand owner selling their own product)
Material	Solid beech wood, oiled finish [CHECK: name of oil]
Features	3 viewing angles. Cable slot at the back for charging. 4 rubber feet on the base.
Fits	Phones up to 7 inch screen, with or without a slim case. Tested with an 8.3 inch small tablet in landscape [CHECK: list the exact models tested]
Size	Base 12 x 9 cm, height at tallest angle 14 cm [CHECK: confirm], weight 180 g [CHECK: weigh]
Made in	Made in our UK workshop
What's included	1 stand. Phone not included.
Condition	New
Platform	Amazon UK
Price floor	£14.99 (covers costs, fees and fulfilment)

Title (75 characters maximum for most categories from 27 July 2026)

Oakpeg Beech Wood Phone Stand, Adjustable Holder with Cable Slot, 3 Angles

(74 characters. No banned symbols, no word used more than twice.)

Item Highlights (125 characters maximum)

Solid beech, 3 viewing angles, charging cable slot, rubber feet, fits phones up to 7 inch. Made in the UK.

Bullet points (up to 5)

1. Three viewing angles: move the back support to one of 3 positions for video calls, recipes or watching.
2. Charging cable slot: thread your cable through the slot at the back to charge while the phone is on the stand.
3. Fits phones up to 7 inch: holds phones with or without a slim case, in portrait or landscape. Also tested with an 8.3 inch small tablet in landscape.
4. Solid beech wood: oiled finish with 4 rubber feet on a 12 x 9 cm base.
5. Made in the UK: cut and finished in our UK workshop. Phone not included.

Description

A simple wooden stand for your phone, made from solid beech in our UK workshop. Choose from three viewing angles, run your charging cable through the slot at the back, and the rubber feet help stop it sliding on a desk or worktop. Fits phones up to 7 inch, with or without a slim case. Phone not included.

Search terms (K prompts) desk mobile holder cradle dock wood bamboo alternative kitchen recipe video call bedside

Note: do not repeat words already in the title, and never add other brands' names. Keep within Amazon's byte limit for search terms [CHECK: current limit in Seller Central help].

Price reasoning

Costs (invented example figures): beech, oil and feet £3.10, labour £4.00, packaging £0.80, delivery to customer or fulfilment [CHECK: your FBA or own delivery cost].

Amazon fees (checked September 2026; check the current rules): Individual plan £0.75 per item sold, or Professional plan £25 a month excluding VAT. Plus a referral fee per sale that depends on the category [CHECK: referral fee for this category on Amazon's pricing page].

Invented example comps (for illustration only, not real prices): similar wooden phone stands from small brands at £12.99, £15.99, £16.99 and £19.99. Plastic and aluminium stands are cheaper, but they are not like-for-like.

Reasoning: we sit in the middle of the wooden range. "RRP £17.99" in the notes is not used anywhere, as a reference price must be a genuine price we have actually charged. List at £15.99.

Buyer reply (buyer message through Amazon)

Buyer: Will this hold an iPad Air?

Reply: Hello, thanks for your message. We've tested the stand with phones up to 7 inch and an 8.3 inch small tablet in landscape. We haven't tested it with an iPad Air, which is larger and heavier, so we can't promise it will be stable. If you'd like, we can let you know if we release a tablet version.

Example 6: TikTok Shop UK, kitchen drawer organiser

Messy notes (before)

tidy nook expanding cutlery tray. bamboo. 5 sections closed, pulls out to 7. 29-49cm wide?? 38 deep 5 high. wipe clean. comes flat? no, one piece. people say it's the best on the market lol

Listing Brief

Field	Fact
What it is	Expandable cutlery tray

Field	Fact
Brand	Tidy Nook (invented small UK brand, brand owner selling their own product)
Material	Bamboo, lacquered finish [CHECK: lacquer type from supplier spec]
Size	Width 29 cm closed, 49 cm fully expanded. Depth 38 cm. Height 5 cm.
Compartments	5 closed, 7 when expanded
What's included	1 tray, arrives assembled
Care	Wipe clean with a damp cloth. Not dishwasher safe. Do not soak.
Condition	New
Platform	TikTok Shop UK
Price floor	£13.99

Note: "the best on the market" came from the notes. It is a comparison we cannot prove, so it goes nowhere near the listing or videos.

Title (V4: no symbols, promo words or platform names)

Tidy Nook Expandable Bamboo Cutlery Tray 5 to 7 Compartments Kitchen Drawer
Organiser

(85 characters.)

Description (V5)

An expandable bamboo cutlery tray that widens to fit your kitchen drawer.

- Expands from 29 cm to 49 cm wide: slide it out to fit your drawer.
- 5 compartments closed, 7 when expanded: room for cutlery, utensils and gadgets.
- Bamboo with a lacquered finish.
- Arrives in one piece, ready to use.

Size: 29 to 49 cm wide, 38 cm deep, 5 cm high. What's included: 1 cutlery tray.
Care: wipe clean with a damp cloth. Not dishwasher safe. Do not soak.

(Over the 30-word minimum, and short enough to read on a phone.)

Showcase video idea (V1 and V2, hands only)

1. Empty drawer, top-down. Text: "Measure your drawer first."
2. Hands pull the tray out to full width. Text: "29 cm to 49 cm wide."
3. Cutlery goes into sections. Text: "5 to 7 compartments."
4. Tape measure along the depth. Text: "38 cm deep."
5. Drawer closes. Text: "Bamboo cutlery tray. Details in the shop."

Price reasoning

Costs (invented example figures): unit cost landed £5.80, packaging £0.60, delivery to customer £2.90.

TikTok Shop UK fee (checked September 2026; check the current rules): the standard platform commission is 9%, inclusive of VAT. Affiliate creator commission, if you use creators, is extra and set by you.

At £16.99: commission about £1.53. £16.99 minus £1.53 minus £9.30 costs leaves about £6.16 before any affiliate commission, ads or promotions.

Invented example comps (for illustration only, not real prices): similar bamboo expandable trays at £14.99, £17.99, £19.99 and £22.99.

Reasoning: £16.99 covers costs and commission with room for a real promotion later, and sits in the lower middle of the range. List at £16.99. Any "was" price or discount must be genuine.

Buyer reply

Buyer: Can it go in the dishwasher?

Reply: Hi, thanks for asking. No, it's bamboo, so please wipe it clean with a damp cloth and don't soak it. That helps it keep its finish.

What all six have in common

1. Facts first. Every detail in the listing came from the brief. Guesses in the notes ("14??", "i think", "RRP 17.99??") were checked or dropped.
2. Flaws up front. Bobbling, scratches, a loose stick and a mark on the back are all stated plainly, with photo numbers.
3. No claims we cannot prove. No "best", no "rare", no health wording, no invented reference prices.
4. Price from like-for-like comps and real costs, not from a hunch. Your own comps should come from sold listings you look up yourself.
5. Replies stay polite, honest and on the platform.

12 Platform cheatsheet

One quick reference per platform: title and description limits, tags, photos, the main seller fees and the rules that matter most when you write a listing.

Last checked: September 2026.

Please check the current rules yourself. Platforms change limits, fees and policies often, sometimes with little notice. Before you rely on any figure here, check the current rule in the platform's help pages (links under each table). If this sheet and the platform disagree, the platform is right.

How to read this sheet:

- A figure on its own was confirmed from the platform's own pages when we checked.
- "Check in the platform's help pages" means we could not confirm it from an official source. Where a figure is commonly reported by other sellers and tools, we show it in brackets as "(commonly reported: ...)" so you know roughly what to expect, but please confirm it before relying on it.
- We are not affiliated with or endorsed by any of these platforms. This is a summary for sellers, not legal or tax advice.

eBay UK

What	Rule
Title	80 characters. Put the most important words first (brand, item type, model, size, colour).
Subtitle	Optional paid upgrade. Length: check in the platform's help pages.
Description	Check in the platform's help pages (very long descriptions are allowed; active content such as scripts is not).
Item specifics	Fill in as many as apply: they help your item appear in filtered searches. Value length: check in the platform's help pages.
Photos	Check in the platform's help pages (commonly reported: up to 24 free). Photos must show the actual item. Picture rules on size, borders, text and watermarks: check eBay's Picture policy.

What	Rule
Private seller fees	UK-based private sellers pay no final value fee and no regulatory operating fee when an item sells, in all categories except Motors (cars, motorcycles and vehicles). 300 free listings a month, then a listing fee per listing. Fees apply for optional upgrades and for delivery to an overseas address.
Buyer Protection fee	On items from private sellers, the buyer pays a Buyer Protection fee (a small flat amount plus a tiered percentage of the item price). It does not come out of the seller's payout. Current tiers: check in the platform's help pages.
Business seller fees	Business sellers pay a final value fee by category, a per-order fee and a regulatory operating fee, plus VAT on fees. Rates changed in early 2026: check in the platform's help pages.
Key rules	Describe the actual item and its condition accurately. No unrelated brand names or keyword spam in titles (search and browse manipulation policy). No counterfeits or replicas. Keep all communication and payment on eBay.

Official help pages:

- Fees for private sellers: <https://www.ebay.co.uk/help/selling/fees-credits-invoices/fees-private-sellers-activated-managed-payments?id=4822>
- Fees for business sellers: <https://www.ebay.co.uk/help/selling/fees-credits-invoices/fees-business-sellers-activated-managed-payments?id=4809>
- Buyer Protection fee: <https://www.ebay.co.uk/help/buying/paying-items/buyer-protection-fee?id=5594>
- Creating listings (Seller Centre): <https://www.ebay.co.uk/sellercentre/listings/create-listings>
- Search and browse manipulation policy: <https://www.ebay.co.uk/help/policies/listing-policies/search-browse-manipulation-policy?id=4255>

Vinted UK

What	Rule
Title	Check in the platform's help pages (commonly reported: 100 characters). Short and plain works well: brand, item, size, colour.
Description	Check in the platform's help pages. Include measurements, material and every flaw.

What	Rule
Tags and keywords	Vinted uses structured fields (category, brand, size, condition, colour, material) rather than free tags. Fill in every field that applies.
Photos	Up to 20 photos per listing. Show the whole item in the first photo. Use your own photos showing its current condition: no stock images, no images found online, no watermarks, no collages. Show labels and logos for branded items, and show any defects.
Seller fees	Private sellers pay no selling fee (commonly reported; check the price list). Optional paid promotions such as bumps have a cost.
Buyer Protection fee	Paid by the buyer on every order, added at checkout. Made up of a percentage of the item price plus a fixed amount, and includes VAT. Current amounts: check the price list.
Business sellers	Vinted is for private second-hand selling. Traders must use Vinted Pro. Pro sellers must accept returns within 14 days of receipt, and their business details are shown on their profile.
Key rules	Only list items allowed under Vinted's Catalogue Rules. No counterfeits. Keep payment and messages on Vinted.

Official help pages:

- Price list: <https://www.vinted.co.uk/pricelist>
- Buyer Protection fee: <https://www.vinted.co.uk/help/342-buyer-protection-fee-on-vinted>
- What photos to upload: <https://www.vinted.com/help/48-what-photos-you-should-upload>
- Uploading an item step by step: <https://www.vinted.co.uk/help/375-uploading-an-item-step-by-step>
- Catalogue Rules: <https://www.vinted.co.uk/catalog-rules>
- Vinted Pro: <https://www.vinted.co.uk/pro>

Depop UK

What	Rule
Title and description	One combined description field. Length: check in the platform's help pages (commonly reported: 1,000 characters). Depop advises short, clear descriptions

What	Rule
	with measurements and any signs of wear.
Hashtags	Up to 5. Use only relevant words, brands and tags.
Photos	Up to 8 photos. A short video can also be added (check the current video rules in the app).
Selling fee	No selling fee for UK sellers on sales in GBP (removed for listings created from 20 March 2024).
Payment processing	Still charged to the seller on each sale. Current rate: check in the platform's help pages.
Boosting	Optional paid boosted listings. Current fee: check in the platform's help pages.
Buyer fee	UK buyers pay a marketplace fee of up to 5% of the item price plus a fixed amount of up to £1 (excluding taxes and postage).
Key rules	Describe condition honestly. Only relevant hashtags (no lists of unrelated brands). No counterfeits. Keep payment on Depop. Check Depop's prohibited items list.

Official help pages:

- Seller fees and charges: <https://depophelp.zendesk.com/hc/en-gb/articles/360001791127-Seller-fees-and-charges>
- Tips for describing your item: <https://depophelp.zendesk.com/hc/en-gb/articles/360020435158-Tips-for-describing-your-item>
- How to list an item: <https://depophelp.zendesk.com/hc/en-gb/articles/360032716413-How-to-list-an-item>
- Fee change announcement: <https://news.depop.com/company-news/evolving-our-fee-structure-with-zero-selling-fees-on-depop/>

Etsy (UK sellers)

What	Rule
Title	140 characters. Etsy's own guidance favours clear, readable titles with the most important words first.
Description	Check in the platform's help pages.

What	Rule
Tags	Up to 13 tags, each up to 20 characters.
Photos and video	Up to 20 photos. Video: check in the platform's help pages (commonly reported: 1 short video of 5 to 15 seconds).
Listing fee	$0.20 USD per listing or renewal (shown to UK sellers as about £0.15 and billed at the exchange rate). A listing lasts 4 months or until it sells.
Transaction fee	6.5% of the sale price, including the postage you charge.
Payment processing (UK)	4% + £0.20 per order.
Regulatory Operating Fee (UK)	Charged on UK orders. Current rate: check in the platform's help pages.
Offsite Ads	A fee on orders that come from Etsy's offsite adverts (15% or 12% depending on shop sales, capped per order; commonly reported). Check in the platform's help pages.
Key rules	Etsy is for handmade items, vintage items and craft supplies. Vintage means at least 20 years old (check the current rule). If AI was used in creating an item, Etsy's Creativity Standards ask you to say so in the description. No keyword stuffing, no counterfeits, no health or medical claims.

Official help pages:

- Fees and payments policy: <https://www.etsy.com/uk/legal/fees/>
- Fees and taxes for selling: <https://help.etsy.com/hc/en-gb/articles/115014483627-What-are-the-Fees-and-Taxes-for-Selling-on-Etsy->
- Payment processing fees: <https://help.etsy.com/hc/en-gb/articles/115015628847-What-are-Payment-Processing-Fees-for-Selling-on-Etsy>
- How to create a listing: <https://help.etsy.com/hc/en-us/articles/115015628707-How-to-Create-a-Listing>
- How to use tags: <https://help.etsy.com/hc/en-us/articles/360000336307-How-to-Use-Tags-to-Get-Found-in-Search>
- Offsite Ads: <https://help.etsy.com/hc/en-gb/articles/360000338367-How-Etsy-s-Offsite-Ads-Work>
- Creativity Standards: <https://www.etsy.com/legal/creativity>

Amazon UK

What	Rule
Title	75 characters or fewer, including spaces, in all categories except media (rule from 27 July 2026). Amazon may shorten over-length titles itself.
Item Highlights	New field of up to 125 characters, shown below the title. Your title must be 75 characters or fewer for it to work.
Title rules	No special characters ! $? _ { } ^ ~ unless part of the brand name. The same word no more than twice (prepositions, articles and conjunctions excepted). No promotional wording.
Bullet points	Up to 5. Length per bullet: check in the platform's help pages. No prices, delivery or company information in bullets.
Description	Check in the platform's help pages (commonly reported: 2,000 characters).
Search terms (backend keywords)	A byte limit applies, and going over it can mean the whole field is ignored. Check in the platform's help pages (commonly reported: 250 bytes). Do not repeat title words or use other brands' names.
Photos	Main image rules (white background, no added text or logos): check in the platform's help pages. Image count: check in the platform's help pages.
Selling plans	Individual: £0.75 per item sold. Professional: £25 a month excluding VAT.
Referral fees	Charged on each sale, varying by category. Check the current rate for your category on Amazon's pricing page. Fulfilment fees apply if you use FBA.
Key rules	Accurate, verifiable product information only. No health or medical claims unless allowed for the category. No other brands' names as keywords. Reference ("was") prices must be genuine.

Official help pages:

- Selling fees and plans: <https://sell.amazon.co.uk/pricing>
- Product title requirements:
<https://sellercentral.amazon.co.uk/help/hub/reference/external/GYTR6SYGFA5E3EQC>
- Title change announcement (July 2026): <https://sellercentral.amazon.co.uk/seller-forums/discussions/t/33f0a42a-17f1-46ef-b110-ba7512a3c881>
- Bullet point requirements:
<https://sellercentral.amazon.co.uk/help/hub/reference/external/GX5L8BF8GLMML6CX>
- Selling fees help:
<https://sellercentral.amazon.co.uk/gp/help/external/H78LW99F4XF3Z38>

TikTok Shop UK

What	Rule
Product title	At least 15 characters. Maximum: check in the platform's help pages. Must be accurate and concise (product type, material, key features, quantity, size). No promotional wording (for example "x% off"), no shop URL or seller name, no mention of TikTok or other platforms, no symbols or special characters.
Description	At least 30 words. Keep it concise and readable. Maximum: check in the platform's help pages. Claims must be genuine, accurate and verifiable.
Images	Up to 9 square images, at least 800 x 800 pixels. Upload at least 3. No duplicates. No text or watermarks other than product branding. Colour images only. The main image shows the front of the product.
Commission	Standard platform commission of 9% (inclusive of VAT). Lower rates can apply to new sellers and some categories. Affiliate creator commission is extra and set by you.
Banned claims	No medicines or medical devices. No claims that a product cures, treats, prevents or relieves any disease or condition, anywhere in the listing or video. No weight loss claims without diet and exercise, no before and after weight images, no claims that weight loss is easy, guaranteed or permanent.
AI content	Realistic AI-generated images or video must be labelled, and must not make the product look different from reality. Check the AIGC policy for detail.
Key rules	Check the prohibited and restricted products lists before listing. Some categories need extra approval or documents. Keep orders and payment in TikTok Shop. Any discount must be real.

Official help pages (TikTok Shop Academy, UK):

- Product listing guidelines: https://seller-uk.tiktok.com/university/essay?knowledge_id=10008807&identity=1&from_article=1
- Platform commission fee: https://seller-uk.tiktok.com/university/essay?knowledge_id=7753824408913665
- Prohibited medicines, medical devices and health claims: https://seller-uk.tiktok.com/university/essay?knowledge_id=8749718976874262
- Content policy: https://seller-uk.tiktok.com/university/essay?knowledge_id=8913678280345345&lang=en-GB

- Prohibited products: https://seller-uk.tiktok.com/university/essay?knowledge_id=7753824408307457&lang=en-GB
- Restricted products: https://seller-uk.tiktok.com/university/essay?knowledge_id=7753822475273986
- AI-generated content: https://seller-uk.tiktok.com/university/essay?knowledge_id=5234615598237462

Quick comparison

Platform	Title limit	Tags or hashtags	Photos	Seller selling fee (summary)
eBay UK	80 characters	Item specifics	Check help pages	None for UK private sellers (most categories); business sellers pay fees
Vinted UK	Check help pages	Structured fields	Up to 20	None for private sellers (check price list)
Depop UK	One description field	Up to 5 hashtags	Up to 8	No selling fee; payment processing applies
Etsy	140 characters	13 tags, 20 characters each	Up to 20	Listing, 6.5% transaction and processing fees
Amazon UK	75 characters (most categories)	Backend search terms	Check help pages	Plan fee plus referral fee by category
TikTok Shop UK	At least 15 characters	Not applicable	Up to 9	9% commission (inclusive of VAT)

Beyond the platforms: UK rules worth knowing

These are not platform rules, and we have not verified the detail here. Please read the official pages yourself.

- Selling as a business? Consumer rights on returns and faulty goods apply to traders. Read GOV.UK's guidance on accepting returns and giving refunds: <https://www.gov.uk/accepting-returns-and-giving-refunds>
- Platform reporting to HMRC. Online platforms report some sellers' details to HMRC. Being reported does not by itself mean tax is due. Read:

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/reporting-rules-for-digital-platforms>

- Trading allowance and tax. Read HMRC's guidance on tax-free allowances on trading income: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/tax-free-allowances-on-property-and-trading-income>

Last checked: September 2026. Rules change: always check the current rule in the platform's help pages before you list.